

The Sky Rocket

VOL. 11

HENDERSON, TENN. OCT. 1933

No. 1.

NINE NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO FACULTY OF FREED-HARDEMAN HAVE SPECIALIZED IN VARIED FIELDS

Mr. Claude Hall, of the English and Economics Departments is both a former student and teacher at F. H. C. Mr. Hall has a degree from Peabody College, years ago worked off some of his college hours in F. H. C. Eight years ago he taught here and he has also done some teaching in the State Teachers College at Memphis. For the past several years he has been an instructor of Bible and Mathematics in Oklahoma Christian College, Altus, Okla.

Our Athletic coach is Mr. J. H. Barkley from Union University where he fought for the Jackson college two years on the football fields. There he also was an outstanding baseball and track man. He taught at Chalybeata, Miss for three years and '31-'32 was the coach of a winning district basketball team in the Mississippi Valley Conference. Mr. Barkley is also Science instructor. Rio Grande, Missouri.

Miss Edna Hopper, who has been doing good work in business management, has now completed her regular course of work at F. H. C. and took a special business course.

The Expression teacher is Miss Edna Hopper from Memphis and a former student of McDonald-Terrell Studio of Memphis. She is completing her first year college work here.

Freed Hardeman College has or
(Continued on page 4)

SIGMA RHO NEWS

The Sigma Rho Literary Society had its first meeting of the 1933-4 session on September 25. Elton Deacon, whom the Society elected to the class of school to work in its behalf during the summer, filled the president's chair. After a short introductory program, the following officers were selected to serve the first month: President, Raymond Roberson; Vice-President, Lynn Browning; Secretary, Charles Mingle.

Mr. J. K. Sharp, a new member of the Freed-Hardeman Faculty, is the society sponsor. With Mr. Sharp's counsel and encouragement, the Sigma Rho's anticipate a very successful year—especially profitable to those who will take part and get them all into it. The Society earnestly desires that its members cooperate in order to make this the very best year it has ever seen.

Prof. N. B. Hardeaman, president of Freed-Hardeman College has been connected with this institution and its predecessor for nearly forty years. He was educated in Henderson, having received his A. B. degree from West Tennessee Christian College and his A. M. from Georgia Robertson Christian College, in which he taught for eight years. He was Superintendent of Public Education in Chester County eight years, and in 1908 founded and became Vice-President of Freed-Hardeman College. He has been President since 1925. His education has been greatly broadened by travel and studies in

N. B. HARDEMAN

Prof. N. B. Hardeaman, president of Freed-Hardeman College has been connected with this institution and its predecessor for nearly forty years. He was educated in Henderson, having received his A. B. degree from West Tennessee Christian College and his A. M. from Georgia Robertson Christian College, in which he taught for eight years. He was Superintendent of Public Education in Chester County eight years, and in 1908 founded and became Vice-President of Freed-Hardeman College. He has been President since 1925. His education has been greatly broadened by travel and studies in

FREED-HARDEMAN DRAWS LARGEST ATTENDANCE IN MANY YEARS

TWELVE STATES REPRESENTED

PHILOMATHLEAN NEWS

The Philomathlean Society recently organized and elected the following officer for the incoming month: Don Hamilton, President; Paul Tucker, Vice-President; Kate Berkman, Secretary; and Jo Anderson, Reporter.

The Philo's are making plans for securing Society pins and ribbons. A committee has been appointed to select a new Banner in the Society colors, yellow and white.

Tryouts for the Society's Debating team will be held soon.

The program committee, composed of Mayme Chambers, Fred Walker, Peabody, and Jo Anderson, are going over plays with Miss Edna Hopper for the production of several short plays to be presented soon.

Freed Hardeman College has again resumed its scholastic activities, with students represented from twelve states. The enrollment for the current year has by twenty percent surpassed that of last year.

The opening exercises were held September 19 and were informal. President N. B. Hardeman gave a short talk and Miss Edna Hopper gave a reading. There were many visitors present.

The students from these twelve states represent the North, South, East, and West. There are representatives from the North as far as Iowa, from the South as far as Florida, from the East as far as the coast states and as far West as California. Freed-Hardeman has students from families representing many different vocations.

The usual six-week's teacher-training course is in session and is being exceptionally well attended this year. The teachers and prospective teachers of this and other states are recognizing the value of the work and the opportunities of the past six weeks.

Being a college abiding the tried and true principles of the Christian life, creative, it is quick to recognize worthwhile educational improvements and will always furnish advantages that other schools do not.

Due to the presence of a larger number of students than usual it has been necessary to obtain assistants in various departments. The faculty includes nine instructors that were not here the past year.

GYM PARTIES

Under a new ruling of the entertainment committee there is scheduled for every other Saturday night from 7:30 to 9:30 a program, or "get-together" party to be given in the gym for both boys and girls.

The first program, given September 23, was in charge of Miss Jo Anderson, Miss Wilma Jo Tracy, and Miss Naomi Todd. The purpose of this entertainment was to make everyone acquainted with every one else, so all of the boys were to get ten dates with ten different girls, each lasting five minutes.

The second program, given October 7, was in charge of the same hostesses. Alvis Gross, Naomi Todd, Nelson Allen, and Mildred Tate entertained the crowd a short while by presenting a pantomime. Among the features of the night was a quiz race between Miss Wilcox and Mr. Folwell. Mr. Folwell was defeated by a small margin. This was followed by a series of stunts presented by students that were born in the same month.

The next party, which is to be on Saturday evening, October 14, will be in charge of the same hostesses. The purpose of this entertainment is to give the students an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with each other. The program will consist of various games and contests, and especially are the numbers swollen the last six weeks of the spring quarter.

DIRECTORS MEET

The Board of Directors of Freed-Hardeman College met Wednesday, Oct. 11. Most of them were present at Chapel and offered greetings to the students.

Those present at Chapel were Bretbren, J. C. Shepherd, President, of Berry, Alabama; J. A. Ward, Secretary and Treasurer, of Henderson; B. P. Smith, Martin; A. Wingfield, also of Martin; J. C. Rainey, College Grove; John Leathers, Dickson; Dr. W. F. Roberts, Troy; E. G. Prosser, Florence, Alabama; and John W. Anderson, Seymour Landing. Bro. H. T. Dawkins of Memphis, arrived at noon, in time for the board meeting.

Bro. J. C. Rainey made the principal speech. His talk was based upon the relations between a "Checker Game" and the "Game of Life". One among the many important points that he brought out in his discourse was that the greatest thing on earth is teaching the young people the right way of living. He attributed most failures in life to a bad move in the beginning.

Mrs. James T. Anderson and Murry Anderson, of Hurricane Mills, Bro. Burn, of Florence, Ala.; Mrs. Enda Jones Wilborn, of Memphis, and Mrs. W. F. Roberts, of Troy, were other visitors.

J. R. ENSLEY

The name of J. R. Ensley has been connected with Freed-Hardeman College most of the time since his first enrollment here in 1920. He graduated from F. H. C. in 1926 and later received his B. S. degree from Union University and his M. A. from George Peabody College. He also did some postgraduate work at State Teacher College, East Radford, Virginia, 1932. From 1927 to 1930 he was science instructor in Freed-Hardeman. He then taught Science in the Blacksburg High School, Blacksburg, Virginia. Prof. Ensley is a member of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers, and Associate member of the Division of Chemical Education of the American Chemical Society.

FRESHMAN CLASS ORGANIZES

On October 4 the freshman class, composed of 153 members, met in Chapel Hall and elected the following officers:

President Paul Wallace
Vice-president Roy Thurman
Secretary Ruth Bobbitt
Treasurer Nell Johnson
Reporter Edna Hopper

Paul Wallace of Longview, Texas, came to Freed-Hardeman for the purpose of studying to prepare for the ministry. Paul stated that he would do his best to make the first-year college class of 1933-34 a success.

Plans for the class during the coming year will be discussed at the next meeting and all other necessary officials will be elected.

In his career as a teacher thousands of students have come under his influence and instruction and scores of young men are able preachers of the gospel to day because of their connection with him.

FREED-HARDEMAN HISTORY

In September of 1908, when what is now known as Freed-Hardeman College opened its doors for the first session, the school was a private enterprise under the control of A. G. Freed and N. B. Hardeaman, and was called "The National Teachers' Normal and Business College". It continued as such until 1916, at which time it passed to the ownership and control of members of the Church of Christ, and was re-chartered. It was also renamed in honor of its original founders, thus becoming Freed-Hardeman College. With this change came a change also in its purpose and aims, making the school more strictly religious and academic in its nature. Again in 1925 came another and complete reorganization. At this time it standardized its curriculum and faculty, and became a regulation junior college in the Tennessee Association of Colleges. In 1928, Freed-Hardeman became a member of the American Association of Junior Colleges.

The growth of Freed-Hardeman College has been remarkable. In 1924-1925 the number of pupils enrolled in the college department was thirty-three. Five years later this enrollment was thrice doubled, there being 202 students in attendance. This year there have been considerably over 300 enrolled to date, which is the largest number the school has ever had at the beginning of the first quarter. This, however, does not represent the enrollment for the entire year, as there are always others enrolling in at the

J. T. RIVENBARK

Joe T. Rivenbank was born in North Carolina. He has been connected with Freed-Hardeman College as professor of Education and Modern Languages since 1928. Before coming to Freed-Hardeman Mr. Rivenbank was professor in history and греческого языка at David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn., at the same time attending Peabody College.

Mr. Rivenbank received his public school education in North Carolina. After several years of schooling and adventures he graduated at David Lipscomb College in 1921. In 1923 as received his B. S. degree from Peabody College. In the summer of 1925 he did graduate work in the University of Colorado, during the summers of '26 and '27 he did graduate work at Peabody College, where in 1928 he received his A. M. degree.

SECOND YEAR CLASS ORGANIZES

The Second Year College class met October 5 for the purpose of organization. The following officers were elected for the year:

President James King
Vice-president Fred Walker
Secretary Louis A. Daniel
Reporter Ray Bankhead
Treasurer Paul Tucker

Sergeant-at-Arms Russell Phillips
The election of officers was postponed until next meeting.

To the new members of our class we wish to extend a hearty welcome. The opening of other classes, and especially are the numbers swelled the last six weeks of the spring quarter.

The next party, which is to be on Saturday evening, October 14, will be in charge of the same hostesses. The purpose of this entertainment is to give the students an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with each other. The program will consist of various games and contests, and especially are the numbers swollen the last six weeks of the spring quarter.

The next party, which is to be on Saturday evening, October 14, will be in charge of the same hostesses. The purpose of this entertainment is to give the students an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with each other. The program will consist of various games and contests, and especially are the numbers swelled the last six weeks of the spring quarter.

(Continued on back page)

THE SKY ROCKET

Published by the students of Freed-Hardeman College.
Entered as second class matter September 10, 1913, at the post office, Henderson, Tenn., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editors-in-Chief	James Faulkner, Ruth Bobbitt
Business Managers	Leon Hardin, Earlis Scott
Religious Editor	Fred Walker
Music Editor	Ray B. Hankins
Athletic Editors	Neil Anderson, William Payne
Social Editors	Ethel Kimble, Sid Irvine
Minor Class Reporter	Edna Hopper
Senior Class Reporter	Ray B. Hankins
Gamma Rho Reporter	Lurla B. Daniels
Hilomathean Reporter	Josephine Anderson
Society Reporters	Edna Hopper, Louise Farris
Faculty Advisor	Mrs. W. B. Powers

EDITORIALS

Patronize Our Advertisers

The advertisements you find in the Sky Rocket represent good will and friendship for the school—good will and friendship that represent valuable assets. The merchants whose ads appear in our paper are very greatly assisting the student body by patronizing our advertising columns. It is only right that we should in turn patronize them when we contemplate the purchase of articles they have for sale. Do your part by giving them your trade, and they will continue to use our paper. Were it not for this friendliness on the part of the merchants, in patronizing us, the publication of the Sky Rocket would become an appreciably more difficult problem, if indeed not an impossibility altogether, so do not fail to support our paper by supporting its advertisers.

"Know Thyself"

Men have inhabited the earth for thousands of years. Progress has been made by leaps and bounds in all fields of human activity. Man has been so busy improving the world that he has neglected the greatest factor of all himself. The Greek had for it namely "Know Thyself". If we understood our selves better we could more easily understand our associates for misunderstanding largely the seat of wrong doing. Understanding gives birth to tolerance and not until we can put ourselves in others' places and conceive to some extent the pasturages which compel their present action shall we ever abstain from harsh and unjust judgments, or obey the injunctions to exercise "charity toward all men." Let us educate ourselves to know our own minds, analyze our motives and then we will be less critical of our fellow students. We can learn a lesson from the advice given by Polonius to his son Laertes in Shakespeare's Hamlet: "This above all; to thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night the day; canst not then be false to any man."

"Put and Take"

Counting his money over again and again, a roughly dressed farmer stood at the window before a bank teller who finally asked: "Isn't all your change there?" Yeah, lawless the farmer looking up out of the corner of eye "But it just barely is."

Many people who laugh at this poor man are guilty of the same thing. They expect to get more out of something than they put in.

"I didn't get a thing out of that curse, students are often heard to say. The reason is simple, four and-a-half times out of five, not enough was put into it."

This "PUT AND TAKE" Law applies to almost everything. The person that grumbles about a society program, evidently has never been on one or is not interested in society work. The person who is always grumbling about his college's school spirit doesn't have it himself. This plan applies to friendship as well. It is the fellow who is continuously broadcasting smiling greetings and offering a helping hand that is blessed with a large circle of friends.

If you expect to say that you have received some good out of attending Freed-Hardeman at the closing of school, now is the time to put every thing that you have into it. "PUT" now, and "TAKE" will come along when it is most needed.

When life in any of these phases becomes dull and uninteresting this searching personal question might help determine the cause: "How much am I putting in?"

Religious News and Notes

It shall be the purpose of this department to conduct for the ensuing year a column that will be of interest to the average readers of this paper. Contrary to what one might think, this is not exclusively for preachers. Of course, the probability is that two out of three readers will be so included, yet the third one, however, indifferent, will have some degree of religion in him, so that none comes outside of the scope of this broad subject, or is able to truly consider himself unaffected by it.

In the short space allotted we do not propose to offer any lengthy interpretations or sermons, but to present such matter as will be appealing, varied, and concise, yet with no compromising of the Truth. All suggestions and criticisms will be welcome and will receive due consideration.

Study of The Bible

With this issue of the Skyrock begins a "How Well Are You Informed" Department consisting of Bible questions and answers taken from every part of the New Testament, the Old Testament, and the Apocrypha. A general knowledge of the Scriptures can be obtained only by a systematic and intensified study of its contents. I wonder also how many who profess to be Christians have perused the Word of God to its entirety. How may we expect to be able to uphold this book to others when we are so ignorant of its gems of wisdom and comfort! So many are indifferent to Christianity, professing it and that is about all. It is more than probable that such indifference may be traced to Scriptural illiteracy and not to an overdose of its Scriptural knowledge.

A systematic way to read the Old and New Testaments through simultaneously in a year is to read less than three chapters in the Old and one in the New Testament each day. The objection is raised that one should not read the Bible through just merely to say he has read it. Naturally this would profit one little, if that were all he could say about it after having read it through; but one may start with this thought in view, and, if he has the slightest appreciation of good literature, he will finish up because of the genuine sense of enjoyment derived. Do you not agree that it is nothing short of neglect of duty to fail to find out what the Bible is and what it has to say?

"Dare to do right, dare to be true,

You have a work that no other can do;

Do it so kindly, so bravely, so well,

That angels will hasten the work to tell!"

Are All Men Religious Beings?

To answer in the affirmative covers a great deal of territory, and yet it is remarkable that none has been able to reply in the negative and successfully prove his contention. Is there one who can say he is totally devoid of a religious instinct? Skeptics may say they can do without gratification of such a desire, and an atheist (if there be such) might say that religion plays no part in his life. So simply have history and research proved the power and universality of religion, that perhaps we misrepresent the above mentioned when we imply disbelief on their part.

Let the skeptic attempt to abandon his religion, some think the terms religion and Christianity synonymous, and invariably, having cast aside the lowly Son of Mary, he turns to some degenerate form of religion worshipping the creature rather than the Creator. It is a force we cannot do without, and in the light of reason we accept Christianity as the only infallible one of the various religions extant in the world today. We submit the following from the pen of H. W. Everett:

"How good and pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity. As iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens another. Let all the sons of men be of good understanding; let them speak with uprightness; let them judge with justice; let them execute all their judgments with truth. Let them not be grieved in the Spirit of God, independent and having all authority. He has the faculty of veneration. He everywhere worships. A man without a system of worship is the exception. These religious faculties are the crowning endowments of his nature. They subordinate every other influence, i.e. social ties, patriotism, and life itself. The soldier defending the alter of his God; the mother putting her babe into the burning arms of Moloch, the martyr dying amid the flames attest the power of this religious nature. That man is most wretched who is without God and with out hope in the world."

"Men always assimilate to the character of the God whom they worship. If the worship is sincere and nothing else is worship, this is a natural and sure result. Hence idolatry has always a downward tendency. Man makes the moral character, as well as the form, of his idol; it is, therefore, the embodiment of his own corrupt nature. The history of idolatry fully confirms this reasoning. Men worshipped first the sun and the hosts of heaven; then deified heroes; then beasts and creeping things; and then stocks and stones. Moral corruption, made most luxuriant by this fostering tendency of all false religions, has been the ruin of cities, and of mighty empires of tribes and nations."

It is easier to get the facts than to face 'em.

Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting, get understanding.

Proverbs

RUTH

By Lurline Daniel

There was a famine in the land in the days when the judges ruled. Elimelech, with his wife and two sons, went to sojourn in the land of Moab until the famine was over. After they had been in the land of Moab for some ten years, the father died. Then the sons married Moabitish women. These young couples' happiness lasted only about ten years. The husbands, Mahlon and Chilion, died. Naomi was left alone with her daughters-in-law.

Naomi learned that prosperity had come to her old home; therefore, she arose with her daughters-in-law and started toward home. The three traveled together until they reached Judah. At this place Naomi urged her daughters-in-law to return to their respective homes and families. Then she pronounced God's blessings upon them. Orpah acted in accordance with her mother-in-law's suggestion and went back. But Ruth was affected very differently from Orpah. She was steadfastly determined to go with Naomi. She said in reply to Naomi's earnest request to return: "Inveat me not to leave thee and to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; thy people shall be my people and thy God my God; where thou diest will I die, and there will I be buried; the Lord do so to me and more also if ought but death part thee and me."

Naomi's heart was filled with a deep sense of regret that Ruth had left her. She said to Ruth: "Go, return to thy mother's house; and I will send thy husband back to thee." Ruth replied: "Where thou goest I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; thy people shall be my people and thy God my God; where thou diest will I die, and there will I be buried; the Lord do so to me and more also if ought but death part thee and me."

When Naomi saw that Ruth was determined to go with her, they journeyed on. When they arrived at Bethlehem, the people were at a loss as to what to make of her return. At first they hardly recognized her and asked, "Is this Naomi?" She said, "Call me not Naomi, call me Mara; for the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me."

Ruth and Naomi reached Bethlehem in the time of the barley harvest. Naomi's kinsman, Boaz, who was very wealthy, owned great fields of barley and had many hired servants gathering the grain. As Ruth went forth to glean in the fields she chanced to go to the field of Boaz. When he learned who she was, he very cordially invited her to continue to glean in his field as long as she should desire to do so. He also instructed his workmen to let fall bundles especially for her benefit. Naomi was very much pleased with the results.

How Well Informed Are You?

1. Complete the question: "The heavens declare . . . and the firmament showeth . . ."
 2. What event had to do with Adams rib?
 3. What tribe took the place before God of all the Hebrew firstborn?
 4. Who was the father of Mathuselah?
 5. What is the shortest book of the Bible?
 6. What is the chief mention of a star in the Bible?
 7. How many times in Christ's life did a voice from heaven testify to him?
 8. The names of what two archangels are in the Bible?
 9. For what deed is Rahab remembered?
 10. Who was Vault?
- Answers will be found on page 4

LIONS

DEFEAT SENATOBIA ELEVEN

MAINORD SCORES COUNTER

The Freed-Hardeman Lions won their second game since the establishment of football at Freed Hardeman when they smashed the Northwest Mississippi Jr. College line for a 7 to 0 victory. The Lions proved that Friday 13, was their lucky day by this decisive win.

The game opens with Senatobia kicking to the Lions. Pitner caught the ball and returned it to mid-field where he was downed. The first play of the game was a fake pass to Weeks who had gone over to the side line while Pitner was running with the ball. Mainord threw the ball to Weeks, but Weeks could not manage to hold it and therefore lost their first chance to score. During the first quarter the Freed-Hardeman gridders threatened twice but failed both times. The quarter ended with the ball in possession of Lions on Senatobia's 7 ter came, after Anderson gained the ball down in his brilliant line, lost to the goal line, and scored a touchdown. Mainord lunged the line for the extra making the score 7 to 0. The second kick-off Senatobia received. Nearing the close of Freed-Hardeman punt, the opposing eleven's mangled and Pitner on the 10 yard line. Anderson hit the line but failed to gain as the half ended.

The third period opened with Senatobia kicking off to the Lions. After putting back and forth for several times Senatobia completed a pass which netted them 20 yards. The visitors tried to advance toward the goal by long passing but failed entirely.

During the last period of the game the Lions displayed some beautiful passing attacks. Weeks caught one pass which netted 30 yards. Although Freed-Hardeman outplayed their rivals during the last period they could not advance the ball over the goal line. The home gridders threatened twice during the last quarter.

They met strong opposition when they were in the shadow of the goal posts. When the aisle blew for the game the Lions were inside Senatobia's ten line. Although Senatobia played good brilliant football they were outclassed in every sense of the game. F. H. Cade six first downs to the Mississippi Jrs three and Freed-Hardeman's passing was superior to theirs.

The lineup is as follows:

Freed Hardeman	Senatobia
bats	L. E. Richardson
	L. T. Petit
Upper	L. G. Commer
Grids	C. Gilmer
Phillips	R. G. Whittle
King, Jas.	R. T. Watson
King, John	R. E. Pitt, C.
Kent	L. H. Mockbee
Pitner	R. H. A. Barnett
Anderson	Q. B. Hamilton
Mainord	F. B. G. Barnett
Score by periods
Freed-Hardeman	0 7 0 0 . . . 7
Senatobia	0 0 0 0 . . . 0
1st	Wright Goolsby
2nd	F. B. Gibbes
3rd	John Johnson

Deacon Wins Tennis Tournament

Elton Deacon won the first annual Freed-Hardeman College tennis tournament by defeating Sid Irvine in the finals. The best three out of five sets were played in order to determine the championship.

Irvine won the first and third sets 6-4 and 6-3. Deacon won the second, fourth and fifth sets 6-1, 6-3 and 6-4. Before Deacon advanced to the final Paul Tucker, Ray Hankins and Nelson Allen were defeated by him.

Irvine drew a bye in the first round and then defeated William Reagan, James Faulkner and Leon Hardin.

The only upset of the tournament was when Neil Anderson who is rated one of the three best tennis players, was defeated by Nelson Allen.

The other entrants to the tournament were Raymond Roberson, Fred Walker, Mr. Sharpe, John Leeper, Curtis Burch, John Gore, William Payne and Don Hamilton.

According to the results of the tournament the best players are as follows: Elton Deacon, Sid Irvine, Leon Hardin, Nelson Allen, Neil Anderson, James Faulkner, Ray Hankins, William Payne, Curtis Burch and Mr. Sharpe.

Scrips From The Scribe

By William Payne

It has been said that the success of an army depends upon the ability of its leaders. If this statement is to be given consideration in connection with the Freed-Hardeman eleven, "all eyes must be focused upon its captain, 'Doo' Anderson."

Which is the oldest sport? In "Do You Know" by Scott, we find that archery is the oldest. It is so old that we do not know when it originated. But we do know that the Egyptians were very good archers four thousand years ago.

Next spring when track and field meets are held, remember that the first one was held in Greece, two thousand six hundred years ago. One hundred years later, also in Greece, the first horse race was held.

One of the most popular major sports, football, started in ancient Sparta, two thousand four hundred years ago. Scotland is responsible for the game of golf, which is five hundred years old. Tennis is a relatively young sport. It was first played one hundred fifty years ago, in England.

However, base ball is even younger. It is only one hundred years old and the United States is its proud father. This country also started basketball, which is only forty two years old. Our youngest sport is auto racing.

It is thirty nine years old and originated in France.

"The more the merrier" applies well to pep rallies and the cheering section. The entertainment connected with a rally is enough of an incentive in every way to produce a well organized and harmonized cheering squad that will do their part in staging football games. More enthusiasm should be shown at Freed Hardeman. This can be done if more students will devote a little voice to the cause of their school, Freed Hardeman.

Football Schedule

Just A Lot Ta Fun

Sept. 30, Lambuth at Jackson
Oct. 13, Senatobia at Henderson
Oct. 21, State Teachers at Memphis
Oct. 27, Murray Freshmen at Murray
Nov. 3, Bethel College at McKenzie
Nov. 11, Lambuth at Henderson
Nov. 17, Southwestern at Memphis
Nov. 25, Sunflower Jr. College at Moorehead.

Cheer Leaders Elected

Recently the student body selected the cheer leaders for the year. Naomi Todd, Mabel Stanfill, Raymond Roberson and John Gore were chosen. These students are full of pep and with the proper assistance should give to the team loud and lusty demonstrations that we are backing them.

Lions Hold Lambuth to Score of 19

The Freed-Hardeman College Lions inaugurated their third season of football at Jackson, September 30, being defeated by Lambuth College, 10 to 0. The Freed-Hardeman aggregation, under the tutelage of John H. Barkley and boasting several Freed-Hardeman stars, made a creditable showing against the Lambuth forces this year, directed by M. E. Eagle, with J. L. Johnson and Harold Stanley as assistants.

Freed-Hardeman received the kickoff and started drive that carried them deep into Lambuth's field but fell short of "Touchdown" territory. Lambuth retaliated with a hard running and passing attack which netted a touchdown late in the first quarter. The score was made on a pass from Luke Webb to Mac Evans, both former Freed-Hardeman stars. In the second quarter Lambuth scored again on a pass from Armstrong to Webb. The final score came in the closing minutes of the game when the Lions finally weakened after stubborn resistance and Armstrong crashed over from the 5 yard line. For Lambuth, Webb, Evans and Kent starred, while Captain Anderson, Weeks and Mainord were best for Freed-Hardeman.

Our players were handicapped by inexperience and lack of reserve strength. Feeling also that their toes got a majority of the "breaks". The Freed-Hardeman gridders are far from being discouraged but are now preparing to make history tell a different story when Lambuth comes here for a return game November 11.

Lineups:

Lambuth	F. H. C.
Dennison	L. E. Weeks
Crowe	L. T. Pitts
Hicks	L. G. Hopper
Nicholas	C. Fields
Cruerby	R. G. Phillips
Evans	R. T. James King
Drummond	R. E. Cooke
Armstrong	Q. B. Anderson
Kent	H. B. Joan King
Felts	H. B. Barton
Webb	F. B. Mainord

No one cares to tell or hear the whole truth about himself. A large vocabulary is a handicap to most writers; no one can understand what they write. He that walketh with wise men shall be wise; but a companion of fools shall be destroyed...Prov.

Be sure that your fingers are clean enough to eat spaghetti (if it should be on the table).

Conversation should be suspended entirely when the whole spiced peaches are being eaten.

Leon Hardin: "I have killed five tics, two masculine and three feminine."

Burke B. Daniels: "How do you know that?"

Hardie: "Two were on the table and three on the mirror."

Eat A Good Hamburger at SHACK'S HAMBURGER STAND

PEOPLE'S CLEANERS

Phone 16

We Clean Clothes Cleaner

B. M. TERRY VARIETY STORE

School Supplies A Specialty

A Real Roof Over Your Head If You Use Our Weather Proof Roofing for That New House.

Build A Home First.

John A. Johnson Lumber Co.
Building Materials of All Kinds

O. FOY & SON'S

Manufacturers of

ICE

Dealers in

COAL

Phone 59 Henderson, Tenn.

SUPPLY YOUR NEEDS

At the

READY-TO-WEAR STORE

MRS. A. J. REED

ROGER'S BARBER
SHOP

Haircut 25c
Shaves 15c
Other Work
In Proportion

It Pays to Look
Well.

TUCKER'S
BARBER SHOP
and Beauty Parlor
Henderson, Tenn.

The Place Where
Sanitary Foods
Are Served

THE CITY CAFE
Henderson, Tenn.

The Store That Has

ALWAYS

Supported Every

FREED-HARDEMAN ACTIVITY

CITY DRUG STORE

Henderson, Tenn.

A Specialty
GROCERIES, FRUITS, CANDIES, FEEDS

B. F. DEMING

Henderson, Tenn.

GIBSON'S

For Everything You Wear

Henderson, Tenn.

Go to

Frank's Service Station

For

Washing, Polishing, Storage, Tires and Battery Service. All kinds of Auto
Accessories, Sinclair Gas, Ovaline Oil

Henderson, Tenn., Phone 211

How Well Informed Are You?

(Answers)

1. "The glory of God," his handiwork; Ps. 19: 1.
2. The creation of the first woman; Gen. 2: 22, 23.
3. The Levites; Num. 3: 44, 45.
4. Enoch; Gen. 5: 22.
5. 2 John 6. The stars of Bethlehem; Matt. 2: 1, 2.
6. Three times; at his baptism; Mark 1: 11; at his transfiguration; Luke 9: 33; and when the Greeks sought him in temple; John 12: 23.
7. Archangel Gabriel; 1. v. 1: 19.
8. The archangel Michael; Rev. 12: 7.
9. Because she sheltered the two spies whom Joshua sent into Jericho; Josh. 2: 1, 14.
10. Queen of Xerxes (Ahasuerus) whom he deposed; Est. 1: 12.

Are the girls getting prettier or is our eyesight getting poorer?

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed-- Jones

News of '32-'33

by Clarice Mingle

Marriages

Luke Webb to Kate Pennington
Frances Foy to Grace Peal

Dorothy Anderson to Marguerite King

Roy Marlin to Martha Baker

Joel Anderson to Norris Hall

Woodrow McAdams to Opal Gibson

Paul Bell to Margaret Winters

Albert Warner to Sara Haywood

What some of the Alumni

are doing

Iva Mae Barton teaching school

at Cross Roads, Ala.

Fred Barton, teaching and coaching at Addison, Ala.

Jack Carter attending Abilene

Christian College

Bonds Stocks, Editor, Baldwyn

Home Journal, Baldwyn, Miss.

Edith N. Wright, attending

Sam Houston Teachers College,

Huntsville, Texas

Ray McCormick--preaching at

Ft. Smith, Ark.

Bryon Brooks--Owens restaurant in Decatur, Ala.

Lottie Williams, teaching in primary department at Sayreton, Penn.

John B. Hardeman, Jr., attending

Murry Teachers College.

Carl Hardeman, working in

Henderson

Lucy Byrd Smith, teaching school at Hardinville, Ky.

Ray Jordan, attending University of Alabama

Hubert Ross, attending Abilene Christian College

Mary Jane Stover, attending

Jackson High School

Alma Gilbert, Secretary Boys

Nursery, McCallie, Tenn.

Nine New Faculty Members

(Continued from page 1)

Its staff nine faculty members who were not here last year. They represent five states and have specialized in varied fields. Miss Eddie Wilson is Dean of Women in the Girl's Home and Instructor in Home Economics. She is from Murfreesboro, Tenn., and she received her B. S. degree at Murray State Teachers College. Miss Wilson formerly taught in the high schools of McCracken and Calloway counties, Kentucky.

Mr. J. K. Sharp, of Linden, Tennessee, who holds a B. S. degree from Mtn. Free State Teachers College, is now head of the Mathematics department, and does work in history also. Before coming to F. H. C. he was principal of Perry County High School, and coach of the basketball team.

Miss Christine Lawrence, of Henderson, is the new librarian. She is a graduate of Freed-Hardeman and has taken additional work at Murray State Teachers College. For five years she wore F. H. C. colors on the basketball floor and for two years represented this school in tennis.

Mr. Brooks Ware, assistant coach, was for four years a regular on the football team of Murray Teachers.

Miss Wilma Joe Tracy, who comes from Sistersville, W. Va., is assisting Mrs. Irene West in the primary work, practice teaching and primary methods classes. Miss Tracy received her B. A. degree from State Teachers College at Huntingdon, W. Va.

Debating Club Changes Name

The group of boys that meet every Monday night for debating have recently changed the name of their club from "The Preacher's Debating Club" to "The Debating Club," and invite any boy in school that is interested in that line of activity to join them.

Lynn Browning was elected chairman for the first month at the first meeting of the club.

The members are: Fred Walker, Ray Hawkins, James Faulkner, Raymond Robinson, Frank Payne, Barnett Mason, Waldrop Johnson, Lynn Browning, Paul Wallace, Leon Hardin, and Bro. Regneor L. Ludlam, Jr.

The Club is sponsored by Bro. J. R. Ensley, who has served in that capacity for the past two years. Due to his experience in debating and speaking, Bro. Ensley is well qualified as a critic for the club and spends a part of each program criticizing the speakers.

The Club meets for one hour every Monday night in the Administration building. Two members debate on each program, the time being divided into two fifteen minute rebuttal for each speaker, after which the critic makes his report.

Gym Parties

Continued from page

will be under the direction of Dr. Hamilton, Mrs. Johnson, and James King. All students are invited to come and see just how the boys can entertain.

The "Old" girls of Oakland Hall entertained with an informal party in honor of the "new" girls Saturday evening, September 20, from seven until ten o'clock. The main purpose of the girls' home is to form a good character and good habits." It was gathered from his statements that during his home and school life is the time lay the foundation for a successful career. Bro. Wallace has been minister of the gospel for many years and has reared two sons, Bro. Fred E. Wallace, Jr., and Bro. Cleo Wallace, who are preaching now. A younger son, Paul, attending Freed Hardeman, is present preparing for the ministry.

Three Visitors Give Chapel Talks

On Wednesday morning September 20, Prof. E. P. Smith, County Superintendent of Weakley County, addressed the school in Chapel. He made a very profitable talk on "Sitting in the Other Fellow's Seat" as suggested by Ezekiel's vision, in which he declared that we are unable to judge our fellow men until we have put ourselves in their place and have experienced the same things. Bro. Smith is one of the directors of Freed Hardeman College.

On Wednesday, September 27, Superintendent E. L. Browning said, that the parents now have the opportunity to choose schools of good environment for their children. He also emphasized the fact that ten per cent of those having technical skill fail in life because they do not have character. He explained good environment and results the things that are done are good builders of character. In conclusion he stated prospects of Freed Hardeman College look fine and he wishes the school a good year.

Bro. Foy E. Wallace, Sr., Longview, Texas, occupied time at chapel by making a talk Wednesday.

Bro. Wallace stated, "The purpose of a student's attending Freed Hardeman College is to form a good character and good habits." It was gathered from his statements that during home and school life is the time to lay the foundation for a successful career. Bro. Wallace has been minister of the gospel for many years and has reared two sons, Bro. Fred E. Wallace, Jr., and Bro. Cleo Wallace, who are preaching now. A younger son, Paul, attending Freed Hardeman, is present preparing for the ministry.

Young People's Society Resumes Activities

The Young People's Society met Thursday night September 20, in the Mason Memorial room for its first weekly session in 1933-4 to elect its officers.

Bro. Henson began the meeting with a splendid talk on "The Value of the Young People's Society" in which he explained to the young people that the purpose of this organization is to further their religious development. Fred Walker was elected president and Bonnie Elinor made secretary. A program committee consisting of Misses Edna Hopper and Lula B. Daniels, and Bud Johnson was appointed. The first regular meeting was held on September 27. Edna Hopper read "The House by the Side of the Road," and Josephine Anderson answered in the poem "Let Me Walk With the Men." Fred Walker presented a short sermonette "Son," and the one of Lynn Browning, John Gore and several others.