FREED-HARDEMAN COLLEGE, HENDERSON, TENN., NOV. 1934

No. 1.

FREED-HARDEMAN BEGINS 1934-35 SESSION

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ADDED

Freed-Hardeman faculty boasts several new members. They have entered enthusiastically into their work and are adding strength and to their respective departments.

Miss Nona Sisco, of Memphis, Tennessee has charge of the violin department. Mr. Thomas Sullivan of Houston, Texas, teaches classes in sight singing and has charge of the glee club.

Miss La Velle Hodges of Henderson, Tennessee is assistant to Mrs. Hardeman in teaching music. Miss Hodges is a former student of Freed-Hardeman College and studied music under Mrs. Hardeman.

Mr. Dick Stewart, the football and basketball coach, is a graduate of Union University. He comes from Lexington, Tennessee, and has been coach for the past several years in Chester County High School.

Mrs. Rose Kenner, of Bells, Tennessee is the matron of the girls' dormitory.

FOOTBALL SEASON IN PROGRESS

F. H. C. opened this season with the best football material on hand in the history of the school. Three outstanding players of '33, Captain Weeks and Co-Captain Hamilton, and Barney Mainard, an excellent back, are with us again. Among the new players are:

Dugger	Miss.
Hogget	Miss.
Donohoe	Ky.
Heath	Ky.
Boaz	Ky.
Richardson	Ky.
Williamson	Ky.
Chalk	Tenn.
Hayes	Tenn.
Melton	Miss.
Lindle	Ky.

Dugger and Hogget were all-Delta men last year and are a valuable asset to any team. The Kentucky boys, as well as Melton, Chalk, and Hayes, have good records in high-school football. Our boys have had some keen competition and have won over the Tupelo Military Institute, although they have been defeated by the U. T. Junior College, Bethel, Murfreesboro, and Southwestern Freshmen. The whole school and city of Henderson are behind them to the last man.

HARK! HARK! THE LARK!

One of the departments of the school which has renewed its vigor, usefulness and pleasure under expert leadership, is that of sight-singing and glee club work with Mr. Thomas Sullivan in charge.

The sight-singing class meets twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday nights. The purpose of this class is to teach the students to sing by note and to bring about

FOOTBALL ROYALTY CHOSEN FOR '34

The football boys of Freed-Hardeman College have selected the girl that they think would make the most capable Football Queen for the '34 season, Miss Mary Nell Brumley, of Fulton, Mississippi. "Monk" is full of pep and an ardent supporter of the team. She is no newcomer, having spent a year with us in 1931-2 and having helped to make basket ball history, along with her sister DewDrop, now Mrs. Tom Ronlette, of Murry, Kentucky. The maids selected were Miss Flo Baker of Hohenwald, Tennessee, and Miss Camille Hardeman, of Henderson, Tennessee. Both Flo and Camille were students here last year and are popular among the student body.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS HAVE MEETING

The Freed-Hardeman College Board of Directors met here on Wednesday, October 3, and participated in the chapel exercises that morning. Bro. Charlie Taylor of Union City, Tennessee, a former student, read the Scripture and Bro. W. O. Davis, of Martin, Tennessee, led in prayer. After a selection rendered by the college orchestra Bro. J. C. Shephard, president of the Board made a short talk, complimenting the size of the student body. Dr. Roberts and Bro. Grable also made encouraging remarks.

The orchestra again entertained the student body, followed by brief talks by Bro. Charlie Taylor and Bro. W. O. Davis. Bro. Taylor declared that Freed-Hardeman College merits the confidence of the entire brotherhood.

Bro. Ben Harding, of Columbia who was a visitor at the meeting, made a few appropriate remarks.

Others members present, some of whom made talks were: Bro. E. P. Smith, Superintendent of Tennessee Orphans' Home; Bro. John Anderson. Bro. H. T. Dawkins of Memphis, Bro. John Leathers and Bro. E. G. Procter of Florence, Alabama.

Bro. Hardeman reported a very successful meeting and stated that the financial outlook for the school is better than ever before in its history.

better singing. The results are being evidenced by the improvement in the song service of the chapel exercises. Mr. Sullivan has organized both girls' and boys' quartettes which are already rendering valuable assistance in chapel and society programs.

The Glee Club is composed of all students who want to sing, whether they desire to read music or not. This organization meets on Saturday nights. Bro. Hardeman stated that in the future the Glee Club would be used in radio programs sponsored by the school over various stations in Tennessee, Arkansas and Kentucky.

L. L. BRIGGANCE HOLDS MEETING

GOOD INTEREST SHOWN

Brother L. L. Briggance, one of the instructors in Bible at Freed-Hardeman, conducted a series of meetings in the Freed-Hardeman College Auditorium, October 14 to 23.

Good interest was shown throughout the meeting and resulted in one restoration and one addition. Although there was not much visible evidence, the meeting was very successful.

Brother Briggance followed a logical course throughout the meeting in the order in which he preached them, his subjects were: "The Bible," "Authority in Religion," "Moses or Christ," "Walking by Faith," "Repentance," "Baptism," "Keys of the Kingdom," "Sin and Its Cure," "Analogies Between the Body and the Church," "What Must I do to be Saved," "Non Essentials," "Paul, the Apostle," and "What Shall I do With Jesus Who is Called the Christ?"

The splendid song service was under the direction of Mr. T. F. Sullivan of Houston, Texas who is at present instructor of singing in the College.

RARE PLANT IS GIVEN COLLEGE

Mrs. J. G. Hardeman, of Henderson, has recently presented to the school a rare and handsome plant a rubber tree. It is a splendid specimen, being about twelve feet, high and having a wealth of long, brilliant, leaves. The tree has been placed in a sunny spot on the stair landing in the administration hall and is quite an ornament to the building and a delight to students and teachers.

F. H. C. ORCHESTRA ORGANIZES

The school orchestra, conducted by Mrs. Hardeman, has organized and already made several public appearances. The orchestra is a great asset to the school and adds much to the programs sponsored by the College.

Following is a list of the members and the instruments they play:

Mellophone---Don Hamilton.
Trumpets---Edgar Perkins,
Thomas Craig, Ivan Ewell.
Saxophones---Charles Roland,
Frank Rowsey, Jere Wharey, and Thomas Sullivan.

Clarinet---Mildred Tate, Jack Dunn, and William Baird.

Bass Horn---Willard Smith.
Mandolins---Martha Williams,
Geraldine Carter.

Violins---Nona Sisco, Delma Pinkston, and Frank Romine.

Drums---Ray McCormick.
Piano---La Velle Hodges.

ANOTHER ENGAGEMENT
Dugger: "Rather a sharp thunderstorm last night." Coach Stewart: "I hadn't noticed; I was talking with my wife all evening."

STEAK DINNERS FOR GRIDDERS

The interest which the people of Henderson have in our football team was made manifest on Monday night, October 22, 1934, when the boys were invited to the City Cafe for a steak dinner tendered by the business men of the town. Besides the entire squad those present were: Coach Stewart, Mr. Sharp, Mrs. Hamilton; also the newly elected football queen, Mary Nell Brumley, and her two maids, Camille Hardeman and Florine Baker.

The group assembled about 6 P. M. and partook heartily of the delicious meal that was served.

Afterward Coach Stewart made a short talk expressing his thanks for the interest being shown and also for the support that the town people have been giving the team. The dinner was appreciated and enjoyed by all who were present.

LARGE NUMBER ENROLL SUCCESSFUL YEAR

On September 18, 1934, when Freed-Hardeman College opened its doors for the twenty-seventh year of work, the largest number of students ever to attend this school enrolled. There were more than three hundred and fifty young men and women, representing twelve different states.

The school opening was a success in every respect, and everything started off smoothly from the first. This is accounted for by the high type of the students who enrolled as well as the splendid work of the faculty.

No small item in the success of the opening was the cooperation given by the people of Henderson.

The citizens of the town have shown themselves interested in the work being done, and have offered every encouragement to the students, many of whom have come to Henderson for the first time.

Many visitors were present for the opening exercises, which were conducted by Brother Hardeman. He welcomed all the students and expressed his gratification at the large number enrolled. He also expressed the aim and ideals of the school and what was expected of each student.

There is every reason to believe that this will be the most successful year in the history of the school.

NEW SOCIETIES FORMED

Departing from the old traditions of having two rival literary societies, of which both boys and girls were members, we have this year, under the direction of Mr. C. P. Roland, organized four societies two of which are for boys and two for girls.

Of recent years Freed-Hardeman's society work was made up of only two societies: namely, the Philomathean and the Sigma Rho. These societies, functioning under the direction of faculty supervision, were outstanding in their accomplishments, but since it was thought that better work and more interest would be manifested were the boys and girls put into separate societies, the division came.

On Monday, October 1, a meeting was held for those interested in society work, with Mr. C. P. Roland supervising, the boys were divided into two groups, and the girls into two. Each group then adjourned to different rooms to elect officers, and make plans for the year. As a result, the names of the societies were chosen and their first presidents elected. The boys divided into the "Lambda Sigma", with Paul Wallace as President, and the "Tawassa", with Roy Thurman as President. In the girls' societies Miss Flo Baker was elected president of the "Les Camarades", and Miss Eileen Vernon of the "Calliopeans".

SUPPORT YOUR PAPER

Everyone should be interested in his school paper. It is a means through which we can keep in contact with the activities of our fellow students, and of our school as a whole. Since the paper is being sent to numerous people in various sections of the country, our school will be judged somewhat by it; thus we can see the importance of making our paper worth while. It is something of which we will be proud of, and of which we can say with pleasure, "This is a product of Freed-Hardeman College."

In order to do this every student in school must do his part. He must feel that without his aid the paper could not go on, and WORK ACCORDINGLY. Some have the idea that because they are not on the staff they have nothing to do, but this is untrue. This paper belongs to F. H. C.- not to the staff, and now in the very outset we are asking that all make some contribution before the year is up, and assure you that any effort on your part to make the Sky-Rocket a success will be appreciated.

ADAPTABILITY

When removed from their natural habitat tropical plants and jungle animals cannot long exist without special attention and care. One of the characteristics of man that puts him on a higher plane than animals is his adaptability--the power of suiting himself to his environment. But we see human beings who are sometimes as slow as lower objects of creation in fitting in with their surroundings.

We students are here from several different states of the Union, from varied types of home life. We all compose the student body, each with the same living conditions as his companions, and governed by the same laws of order. We should be plastic enough to conform to whatever rules those who are in authority see fit to place upon us, knowing that they are designed for our own betterment. It is never a sign of good breeding to be always complaining about something. No one admires a chronic "griper". He is an unpleasant associate for others, and is no satisfaction to himself.

A misfit in society is a pitiable sight. Let us all try to adapt ourselves to our surroundings-- life holds more in store for the person who can do so.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDITATIONS

CHAPEL ECHOES

By
Dean Brookshire

Some days ago an interesting talk was given in chapel by Bro. Hardeman on the passage: "We are the light of the world." We should think more about things of this kind. In John 9, 5, Christ says, "As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world. When Christ was on earth he was a light. He let his light shine by his good works to show the people he was the Christ or Savior that was spoken by the prophets. Then when Christ was crucified, the apostles took the light and kept it shining as long as they lived. They too, like Christ, suffered death at the hand of murderers, except John, the only one to die a natural death. We, as Christians today, should let our lights so shine that other people may see the good works. Matthew says, "Ye are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost his savor, where with shall it be salted? Henceforth it is good for nothing but to be cast out and trodden under feet of men. Ye are the light of the world, a city that is set on a hill that cannot be hid."

SPLENDID SERMONS
BY BRO. BRIGGANCE

Bro. Briggance's last sermon in the meeting was on, "What shall I do with Jesus?" From the latter part of that sermon we take two striking thoughts: "Pilate had to dispose with Christ's person --- We have to do so with his word."

Now one question is: "What will I do with Christ?" but a question for us to consider also, is: "What will He do with me in the judgment?,"

The man who spends today bragging about what he is going to do tomorrow, did the same thing yesterday.

So live that after the minister has ended his remarks, those present will not think they have attended the wrong funeral.

There is some good in everyone, though it may take a microscope to find it. The only one that has a right to look down on others is the one in the airship. Even tombstones speak well of those beneath them.

Men write clever sneers at religion, but they never have one carved on their tombstones.

Tourists are people who travel 200 miles to get kodak pictures of themselves standing by the car.

STUDENT PREACHERS

There are a score of preacher boys here in school from all parts of the country, Texas being well represented. Some of the recent activities of this group are as follows;

James Willeford has preached at Selmer, Mars Hill, and Cairo, (Ill.).

Arley Moore at Enville, Fairview, and Ripley, (Miss.)

Dean Brookshire at Stantonville and Crossroads (near Alamo)

Ray McCormick in his week-end visits home to Brownsville has preached there.

James O'Conner at Newbern. S. A. Freeman at congregation near Juno.

Vernon Morris at Bemis, Selmer, and Sardis.

Earl Woods at Holladay, White Bluff, Williams Chapel (near Westport) and at Westport.

Bob Roberts, who entered a month late, has held three meetings, one at Alberton, Tenn., and two in Cumberland County, Ky. He preached October 21st at Luray, Tenn.

TEACHERS PREACHING

"From you sounded out the word of the Lord--"

Paul said this of the Church at Thessalonica years ago, Today it may be said of Freed Hardeman College, especially of its teacher-preachers. During the summer they are all busy, Bro. Hardeman, Bro. Endsley, Bro. Briggance, Bro. Roland and Bro. Hall, Sometimes in Tennessee, at other times in Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Kentucky, Illinois or Indiana, all summer they are spreading the gospel and also the influence of the school.

Besides scores added to the church by this ministry, there are many students and young preachers attracted to the school here by it.

Truly Freed-Hardeman is a modern Antioch. It is a great center whose influence reaches to the Lakes, to the Alleghenies, to the Gulf and far into the western plains. These teachers not only strive to teach the preachers how to work, but they also set them the example of constant devotion to preaching the gospel.

CUB SCOUTS

The boys met October 24, and organized a Cub-Scout troop.

Robert Turner will supervise the activities of the troop. The boys expect to learn much about nature, and scouting.

The motto is "Be prepared".

"A ROTTEN SNAG"

The remains of a tree, an ugly thing;

No beauty, I'm sure you'll say, But stark and naked, 'neath the clouds

A monument of Yesterday.

Though once great arms of living strength

Stretched forth to greet the sun

Or shook in fury at the storm; Now there is left, but one.

Though once a mighty forest King,

Huge head thrown toward the sky,

'Tis now, a scarred and lichen Stump

Standing, waiting for its

Rotting with age, a rotten snag;

Years past its mates have gone Have crumbled from their lofty heights

Leaving this, to stand alone,

Perched high upon the shallow-ed hull

A Wood-hen, with her crimson crest,

Knows not the danger of her trust

In wood, so much in need of rest.

In days gone by, perhaps a ship

Split Mast, and sunk beneath the sea,

Could have been saved; had Spar and Brace

The strength, that then was such a tree,

But power is o'er, yea strength is done;

Gone is her Regal Air, long past;

Humbled now by Nature's moods,

Beneath the rains, head bent at last.

An Emperor, stripped of crown and robe;

Take heed ye men of rule and power,

Some-day you too, may humble be,

By Fate's for-ever changing hour.

Perhaps in years, short time to come,

You too, may bow to Fate's strong hand,

And like a fallen Monarch, be A mere snag, in the eyes of man.

OCTOBER'S HARVEST

October's frosts spread o'er the land

The leaves are turning brown And every time the north winds blow

The leaves go whirling down. The trees are full of hickory-nuts

Of nuts so large and round And every time the tall tree Shakes

The nuts come tumbling down. The 'simmon tree is bending low

With luscious fruit so round The 'possum climbs out on the limb

And shakes the ripe fruit down. Brodie Henson

FREED-HARDEMAN WINS FROM DELTA 7-0

LIONS DEFEAT
DELTA ELEVEN

On November 2, the Lions journeyed to Greenville, Mississippi to play the Delta States Teachers College eleven. Just before the game Coach Stewart gave the boys a talk that filled them with vigor and fight. When the game started the team showed that they were determined to win. In spite of the advanced dope that Delta would win 20-0, and facing a well experienced team that outlasted them 15 pounds to the pound, the Lions fought like "lions" and won the game 7-0.

When the game first started it looked as though the Delta team would have an easy victory, for they ran through the F. H. C. line from 5 to 10 yards at a time, but when they got within scoring distance the Lions began to play ball and Delta failed to make another inch until Freed-Hardeman booted the ball far down in the former's territory. For the remainder of the first half the ball was kept pretty well in the middle of the field, neither team threatening to score.

The Lions came back in the second half, with their determination renewed and started advancing the ball slowly into Delta territory. In the fourth quarter the Lions started a drive which ended with "Bubber" Dugger running forty yards for a touchdown. Hogget kicked the extra point. A few minutes later the Lions again threatened to score, but this time were stopped by an intercepted pass. In closing minutes of play Delta started a pass attack which for a minute looked bad, but this was broken up and the Lions had the game won.

F. H. C. WINS
FROM TUPELO

Freed-Hardeman won the most exciting game of the season from the Tupelo Military Institute by the score of 9 to 7. A carefully executed place kick from the accurate toe of Hogget in the third quarter saved the day for the Lions. The visitors started an aerial attack about the middle of the last quarter which was immediately smothered by the efficient backfield of the local aggregation. Chalk, Boaz, Dugger and Hamilton were the outstanding players for the F. H. C. team.

CHEER LEADERS ARE CHOSEN

At the beginning of the football season the students chose those who would lead the yells for the season. Those selected were: Bill Reagan, of Springfield, Mo.; Rogers Bartley of Parrish, Ala.; and Willard Smith of Henderson Tenn.

These boys have done much toward adding to the pep of the cheering section. They have called several pep meetings before the home games and picked up enthusiasm among the student body. They are insistent that everyone be present at the home games and give the boys a loud assurance that we are backing them.

Coach: "Suppose it was fourth down on their fifteen yard line, with the score tied and three minutes to go, what would you do?"

James Graham: "I'd slide down on the bench to get a better look at the next play."

Hogget: "I was a four letter man in High School."

Boaz: "Yes; D-U-M-B."

"Teacher: What is he noted for?"

Student: "He's either a literary man or a magazine writer, I can't remember which."

F. H. C. WINS
FROM CORPORALS

The Freed-Hardeman Lions lost a conference tilt Friday, October 18, to the tune of 7 to 0. The game was hard fought all the way and the visitors scored their only tally in the third quarter. While the Lions played good and hard all during the game, the last years conference winners were just a trifle too much for the boys. As usual, the most spectacular player on the field was Bubber Dugger, of the old Mud-Hen State. Mainord, hard driving fullback, twisted his leg in the second quarter and was on the bench the remainder of the game. Dugger, Boaz, Hogget, Lindie, Donchoe and Richardson were the outstanding players on the F. H. C. team, and Looney, fullback, starred for the Bethel aggregation. The line-up was as follows:

F. H. C.	Bethel
Weeks	L.E. J. Fields
Donohoe	L.T. Thompson

Velton	C. McGlocklin

PROSPECTS GOOD

Basketball season is almost here again the thumping of the ball in the gym every afternoon. It has been the custom of F. H. C. for many years to have a splendid team and from the looks and records of the prospects, this year will not be an exception. The season is still in its infancy, however, and only time will tell what the future will bring. The girls already out are as follows:

Mrs. L. C. Fowler	-Forward- Manchester, Tenn.
Florence Lowery	-Forward- Bradford, Tenn.
Florine Baker	-Center- Last years Squad.
Lillian Howell	-Guard- Last years Squad.
Irba Jane Austin	-Guard- Parsons, Tenn.
Elizabeth Powell	-Forward- Milan, Tenn.
Mary Frances Harris	-Forward- Newbern, Tenn.
Martha Jane Williams	-Forward- Lexington, Tenn.
Emily Cooke	-Guard C. C. H. School.
Camille Hardeman	-Forward- Last year Squad.
Monk Brumley	-Guard- Fulton Miss.
Eileen Vernon	-Guard- Last years Squad.

LIONS WILL PLAY
EAGLES NOV. 10,

On Saturday, November 10, practically every student in F. H. C. and a proportionate number of town fans will journey to Jackson, Tennessee for the Lambuth game. Opportunity for every student who wishes to attend will be provided and the Sky-Rocket staff wants to see every student in school at Jackson that day. Our foot-ball boys will have the support of every student. Students, talk the game up everywhere you go, in your home town and elsewhere, and let's have a 100 percent attendance the day of the game.

Coach Stewart took Chalk aside one day and said: "Chalk, you are going to pieces. You're pale and thin and flabby. What's happened to you? Are you drinking?"

"Drinking? Me?" said Chalk. "I should say not! You must be smoking, then." "I never touch a smoke" Coach looked at him hard. "Chalk," he said. "It can't be you're studying a little?"

"Well, you see," Chalk turned very red. "well yes, I am studying a little- you see."

But Coach cut him short. "Any more of that, Chalk," he said, "and you're off the team."

Ruth Mansfield, Guard Mc-Minnville, Tenn.

Ethel Gadd, -Forward- Nashville, Tenn.

Eleanor Kenner, -Forward- Bells, Tenn.

The girls have been practicing at night and Coach Stewart starts meeting with them Tuesday, October 29.

JUST A FEW
HISTORIC REMARKS

EVE: I simply must have some decent clothes.

Noah: It looks like rain.

SAMSON: My wife says I gotta get a haircut.

LITTLE DAVID: Hey, ma, lookie! I just made a slingshot.

SOLOMON: Tell me something I don't know.

NERO: Here's a song that will set the town on fire.

CLEOPATRA: Caesar, meet Brutus, you two boys ought to know each other.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH: step on it, Kid.

HENRY VIII: I'm sorry I ever married you.

NAPOLEON: I woulda won easy if Wellington hadn't called in a couple other guys.

RIP VAN WINKLE: I think I'll lie down for a minute.

JOHN ALDEN: Honest Miles, I left the speech in my other suit.

PAUL REVERE: Does this road take me to Concord?

LANDSCAPING RESUMED

The task of re-landscaping the boys' dormitory was started Oct. 5th, under the direction of Mr. Austin Boyd of Boyd Nurseries, McMinnville, Tennessee. All the plants and shrubs that were in front of the dormitory were replanted on the east side. This work is being done by students who are receiving government aid.

Mr. Boyd, assisted by the women members of the faculty made complete plans for the re-planting. The aim is to make the campus the beauty spot of Henderson.

BOOKS ADDED LIBRARY

Bro. N. B. Hardeman has recently donated to the school library about 150 books from his personal library. These include religious works and books of history, biology, sociology and ethics.

This contribution adds much to the school library, of which Freed-Hardeman is justly proud.

LAMBDA SIGMA NEWS

The Lambda Sigma Society organized on Monday, October 1, and elected the following officers: Paul Wallace; President; Frank Payne, Vice-President; James O'Connor, Secretary; Marvin Melton, Sergeant at Arms; and James Willeford, reporter.

The Lambda Sigma Society meets each Monday afternoon and its chief purpose is to develop the speaking and forensic abilities of its members.

THE DEBATING CLUB

The Young Preachers have organized and now have one of the best societies in the history of school. In this society the talents of the young preachers are being developed and soon we hope to have several preachers who are qualified to defend the truth and preach the unadulterated word of God. Several of the members of this society have had considerable experience as preachers already.

The preacher boys are deeply interested and with this attribute there is likely to come from them some good work as preachers and debaters. The preachers in this society have come from several states, and we have reason to believe that when they return from Freed-Hardeman to their respective states much improvement will have been made.

The boys have discussed three subjects thus far. The first debate was on the subject of apostasy. Earl Woods and James Willeford maintained that the Bible teaches the possibility apostasy while Paul Colley and Maurice Howell denied this. The second debate was on the mode of baptism. James O'Corner and Arley Moore maintained that the Bible teaches immersion; Everett Fields and S. A. Freeman declared that it also teaches sprinkling and pouring. In the third debate Dean Brookshire and Durward? affirmed the establishment of the Church on Pentecost and Paul Wallace and Frank Payne denied this.

The Freed-Hardeman College Bus has been unusually busy since the opening of school. Besides the regular trips it makes with the football squad, it has carried the students to Jacks Creek and Scotts Hill, Tennessee where Bro. Hardeman was conducting services.

Mr. Nelson Allen has returned to school after a short stay in his home in Nauvoo, Ala.

Miss Mildred Tate spent the week-end of the 20th in Nashville with her family.

Miss Nona Sisco and Julia Anderson were week-end visitors in Memphis, Tenn. Oct. 20-22.

TAWASSA NEWS

At the beginning of school, instead of the old order of societies, new ones were organized. The boys were divided into two groups, one of which was named the Tawassa. This society began by electing the following officers: Roy B. Thurman, President; Don Hamilton, Vice-president; Ray McCormick, Secretary; Sidney Shepherd, Treasurer; and Rogers Bartley, Sergeant-at-arms.

The society started off with much spirit. They immediately framed and ratified a Constitution under which they meet regularly each week. The purpose of this society is to develop its members in public speaking, debating, dramatics, music and similar arts.

"There goes a fellow who seems to take the worst possible view of every thing."

"Is he a pessimist then?"

"No; he's an amateur photographer."

"Is that airship finished yet?" queried the high official.

"No-o, not exactly," responded the other.

"How far are you along with it?"

"Well, we have the air all ready."

Bill was pugnacious, but he didn't livelong. A few days after his funeral his widow was hanging pensively over her front gate. A neighbor came along.

"Well, poor Bill," she began, "he'll be hittin' the harp with the angels."

We may live without poetry,
music and art

We may live without conscience
and live without heart;

We may live without friends
and live without books,
But civilized man cannot live without cooks.

He may live without books,
what is knowledge but grieving?

He may live without hope, what is hope but deceiving?

He may live without love, what is passion but pining,

But where is the man that can live without dining?

LES CAMARADES

Under the supervision of Bro. W. C. Hall, the F. H. C. girls were divided into two groups on Monday, October 1. One of these groups named themselves "Les Camarades" and chose the following officers: President, Flo Baker; Vice-president, Lillian Howell; Secretary, Ruth Bobbitt. A committee appointed by the president wrote the Constitution of the society, which was adopted at the second meeting.

The chief aim of the society is to develop its members in speaking and performing in public.

In the study of pre-histories, we have decided that they had radios even then. Adam's rib made the first loud speaker.

CALLIOPEAN NEWS

Monday, October 1, 1934 the girls of Freed-Hardeman College met with Bro. W. C. Hall to form two societies. With twenty charter members the Calliopean Society was organized with the following officers: President, Eileen Vernon; Vice-president, Annie Margaret Pearson; Secretary, Margaret Farris. The president appointed a program committee and a committee to write the constitution.

New members are invited to the society.

The story goes that Martha Williams and Harley Stone are going to exchange diets so that they can grow a little the other way.

Richardson and Boaz really had a time at the Union-Spring Hill game last Friday night. Ask 'em about it I hear Phoebe is awfully nervous these days. . . . Future Greek Gods- Boaz, Richardson, and Lindie. They exercise every night. . . . Wonder why the Lemon drop Kid spilled $2.00 worth of perfume on her floor the other night. . . . Mr. Sullivan is one of the best sports I ever saw, considering his position. Frank Payne wanted Peapicker to put some chairs in the hall the other night so someone would trip. Imagine If you want to get a walking cane rapped over your cranium, tease Doc Wilburn about the Mud Hen State. . . . Tate, Giles and Deedie have bought 'em some cap pistols. Sounds like a rodeo. . . . Mrs. Hamilton is the best matron that ever governed a boy's dorm. If you don't think so, ask someone who has been in other schools. . . . If you see Fike and Doc Presley walking along and Doc is out in the street don't be alarmed. It is just the result of the Walker-Parrish football game. . . . The fact that a bunch of the boys can take it was shown the other Saturday night. . . . Someone's door was found under Mr. Sullivan's bed the other Saturday night. Some say he had something to do with it, but I don't believe it. . . . You oughta see some of our gals pitch horse-shoes and washers. They are good. . . . Edgar is afraid to let anyone in his room after dark. . . .

'34 STUDENTS ENGAGED VARIOUS ACTIVITIES

Elton Deacon works in a bakery in Nashville, Tennessee. Travis and Gilbert Thompson are attending 'Teaceers' College at Memphis. Louise Rice is in State Teachers College, Florence, Alabama. Raymond Roberson is a clerk in a store at Sumter, South Carolina. The following are now engaged in teaching school: Ray Hankins, Lucy Byrd Smith, Lurla B. Daniels, Alma Freeman, Naomi Todd, Alvis Gross, Pearl Coburn, Mamie Luttrell, Ethel Kimble, Hattileen Bonner.

WE WONDER IF-

Mr. Sharp is going to give a picnic for all his A plus students in College Algebra. Mrs. Sharp still worships her husband by presenting him with burnt offerings three times daily. Mr. Folwell really goes to the library at frequent intervals merely to look up words in the dictionary. Billie and Phoebe plan to be Math teachers. Elizabeth Powell has learned to keep her dates straight. Ivan Folwell is still tired because he dreamed last night he got a job. Leon Hardin will have a mustache by Christmas. Frank Payne preached the Milan congregation a good sermon last Sunday night. It will snow this winter for Venice Sweet. Martha Jane's interest in football is entirely the old school spirit.

If it's beauty you're seeking,
My lady fair;
Go to Week's and go only there.
A Permanent, a facial and a
Manicure combined;
Will make you look twenty in
The place of forty nine.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT

PERSONALS

The Primary Department is glad to announce the enrollment of the following new pupils: Louise and Dorothy Joe Archer, Bettie Ann Paschal, Mack Wall, Jasper O'Dair, June Hardeman, and Edgar Perkins of Corinth, Miss. Brodie Henson has recently returned to school. He broke his leg in September and is just now able to be out.

Julia Anderson spent a week-end with Miss Nona Sisco in Memphis.

Bible study for this quarter is under the direction of Mr. Frank Payne. The class is studying Genesis and exodus.

THE LITTLE BOY KING

"The king is dead
Long live the king!"

A little boy named Peter was playing football with some other boys when this cry went around the world. He was going to school in London but he had to leave and go to his home in Yugoslavia with his grandmother. That football game was his last one. Suddenly he had become the world's youngest king, only eleven years old, as a cruel assassin's bullet had killed his father, King Alexander.

King Alexander had gone on a good will visit to France. He and the French foreign minister were riding in a car through the streets of Paris when suddenly a man jumped up at the running of the car and shot the king. He fired four shots before the guards got him. The minister tried to shield the king but he was shot too. This was so quickly done that the guards, who were all around the car, could not get to him in time. They took the assassin to a store near by for questioning and after a while he died too.

NATURE STUDY

The primary students are having a Nature Study class supervised by Mr. Paul Wallace, of Texas. Topics for study have been: leaves, flowers, and birds, also a few butterflies. Nature books were made in which to keep mounted birds and flowers.

Jean Anderson.

THE KIND OLD MAN

Once upon a time there was a kind old man. He lived about two miles from town. His house was a shack. He was very poor.

One day a stranger stopped there. The stranger wanted something to eat and the old man gave him something. The stranger gave the old man two gifts; a kind spirit, and a beautiful palace instead of the shack to live in.

The stranger next stopped at a rich man's house. He asked the rich man for something to eat, but the rich man was selfish and would not give him anything to eat. The stranger, who was an angel, changed the rich man and his wife to frogs.

You'd better not be selfish either or something might happen to you by and by.

JUST A LOTTA FUN

By
LEON FIKE

What? I'm to write "Jokes"? That's some joke, isn't it? Who'd ever thought it?

But since it's that way--I'll do my best. The trouble though, is that I don't know any jokes, except the ones Cleopatra heard in all her romances. They say she stabbed a fellow for telling her what he thought was a "brand new joke." So if I try to tell one and it's so old it has to get about on crutches, lots of things might happen to me. Just for example: Some Oklahoma guy is liable to scalp me; a Mississippian throw mud in my face; a fellow from Missouri make me ride a mule through town bareback; the Kentucky mountaineers (I hate to even think of it) these pals o' mine from Arkansas, I'd rather a pigtail would get after me; but worst of all, these Alabama "burr heads," they're terrible!

And there! I'd die forty different deaths, and nobody'd know how it all came about. Folks don't know the danger we newspaper reporters are facing. For us to smile is sorta like a little ditty I heard Mr. Sullivan singing:

Some men smile in the evening;
Some men smile at dawn;
But the man worth while
Is the man who can smile
When two front teeth are gone.

I don't know why I'm lamenting the fate of newspaper workers unless it's because I'm studying Job, and all his troubles.

Ain't folks peculiar? Now last year, we had a fellow that thought he'd try 'em all. He went to the matron of Oakland Home and asked for a list of the girls rooming there. Then he comes back, and goes to all the trouble of arranging them in alphabetical order. After finishing this work, he got busy.

First he dated all the girls with names beginning with A; next B, etc. Everything was running smoothly, but students noticed he wasn't making progress--He had stopped on the D's.

Folks have the queerest ways of doing things!

Frank Payne seems to have a theatrical mind.-- I'm just wondering whether or not he could explain such actions.

Daniels is an enticing name, isn't it?

ALWAYS SOMETHING

He brushed his teeth twice a day with a nationally advertised tooth paste.

The doctor examined him twice a year.

He wore rubbers when it rained.

He slept with the windows open.

He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables.

He relinquished his tonsils and traded in several wornout glands.

He golfed--but never more than eighteen holes.

He got at least eight hours sleep every night.

He never smoked, drank or lost his temper.

He did his daily dozen, daily.

He was all set to live to be a hundred.

The funeral will be held next Wednesday. He is survived by eighteen specialists, four health institutes, six gymnasiums, and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics.

He had forgotten about trains at grade crossings

ONE WAY TO REDUCE

'He's not as big a fool as he used to be.'

"Is he getting wiser?"

"No--thinner."

Fortunately for stupid people, the weather changes often enough to supply them with some thing to talk--

WHY WORRY?

There are only two reasons for worry. Either you're successful or you're not successful.

And if you're successful there's nothing to worry about. If you're not successful, there's only two things to worry about-- your health is either good, or you're sick.

And if your health is good there is nothing to worry about, and if you're sick--there's only two things to worry about. You're either going to get well or you are going to die.

If you're going to get well, there's nothing to worry about and if you're not going to get well, there's only two things to worry about. You're either going to Heaven, or you are not going to Heaven.

And if you are not going to Heaven, there's nothing to worry about; and if you're going to the other place, you'll be so busy shaking hands with old friends you won't have time to worry. So, why worry?

Mrs. Kenner: (after some experience) "She's of the bungalow type--no upper story."

Mary had a little light,
It was well trained no doubt,
For every time a fellow called,
The little light went out.

Woman's hair, beautiful hair--
What words of praise I utter;
Oh, how sick it makes me feel
To find it in the butter.
