

F. H. C. HAS BROADCASTED JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The long-anticipated radio program given by the Freed-Hardeman trio was heard on the night of April 5th, at 8:30, coming from WMC, the broadcasting station of the Commercial Appeal, Memphis. Through the kindness of Mr. Robert Hardeman who moved his receiving set to the college auditorium and operated it there, a large audience had the privilege of listening in. To hear our friends playing and singing at so great a distance and with no visible means of communicating was certainly a novel and most interesting experience. It was proved that our trio and accompanist entertained an audience much greater than that one listening in Henderson by the multitude of telegrams, telephone calls and letters they received. These communications came from every one of the Southern States as well as from states as distant as Indiana and Michigan and were most complimentary to our talented four of whom F. H. C. is so justly proud.

The program given by Mr. Holland, Mrs. Bell, Dorsey and Carrie Neal Hardeman was as follows:

- (a) Harken to the Pipes of Spring
- (b) The Owl
Freed-Hardeman Trio
- The Valley of Laughter
Mrs. Bell
- The Bird Song
Mr. Holland
- Sing Me to Sleep
Mr. Holland and Mrs. Bell
- (a) Good-bye
- (b) My Rosary
Mr. Holland
- When the Winds O'er the Sea
Blow a Gale
Mr. Holland and Mr. Hardeman
- (a) The Dancers
- (b) Stars of the Summer Night
Freed-Hardeman Trio
- (a) Asleep in the Deep
- (b) On the Road to Mandalay
Mr. Hardeman
- (a) The Night Wind
- (b) The Lamplit Hour
Mr. Holland and Mrs. Bell
- (a) Sweet Baby
- (b) Somebody Stole My Gal

Addition to Faculty

The latest addition to our faculty is James Klingman Sikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sikes, born Saturday, April 12.

One of the most delightful affairs of the year took place on the evening of March 18th, when the Junior College class entertained in special compliment to the Seniors. At 7 o'clock both classes assembled at Oakland Home and proceeded to the Woodward Hotel where a delicious four-course dinner was served.

The dining room and table were prettily decorated in the Senior green and white and the Junior rose and silver and the green and white note was repeated in the menu. Ben McCann acted as toastmaster and his calls were responded to by Mr. Roland, sponsor of the Junior class, Knox Summitt, Senior president, Worth Powers, guest, and Kathryn Humphreys and Dorsey Hardeman, Juniors. At the conclusion of the dinner, the party was conveyed to the home of Ben McCann where the remainder of a most enjoyable evening was spent. Before the large open fires marshmallows were toasted, corn popped, apples and oranges passed and a wonderfully good time had by all. Those who had the privilege of attending the party were: Prof. and Mrs. Roland, Mary Elizabeth Jones, Knox Summitt, Brooksie Atkison, Houston Biggerstaff, Gwendolyn Humphreys, Tolbert Kennedy, Irene Anderson, Albright Goodgion, Kathryn Humphreys, Dorsey Hardeman, Mary Campbell, Ben McCann, Pearl Winstead, Sidney Campbell, Mary Nell Hardeman, Worth Powers.

CHAPEL

Chapel exercise, the period from 9:10 to 9:45 A. M., has been varied and more than usually interesting of late.

On Saturday morning, April 5th, Mr. Pruitt, who is now conducting a series of meetings in one of the Henderson churches, Mr. E. F. McDaniel, pastor of the Methodist church and Mr. W. H. Baldy paid us a highly appreciated visit. After a scriptural reading by Mr. Pruitt and the prayer by Mr. McDaniel, Mr. Pruitt talked to the student body along the line of individuality using as a text the passage reading, "I, Tertius, wrote this with my own hand."

On Tuesday morning Miss Mary Sharpe, of Florence, Alabama, gave two beautiful solos, accompanied by Miss Lieta Bietman, also of Florence, who added to our entertainment by the rendition of a piano solo.

It has been decided to set apart one morning of the week from now on, on which Mr. Holland gives talks on etiquette. The students are thus instructed in many fine points and concerning many customs, the knowledge of which is essential to the many-sided man who is most successful in life and is distinguished by his ease and poise.

Saturday mornings have for several years been turned over to the students who provide the entertainment and every one looks forward to them. Usually we have a number of visitors on these mornings who come to enjoy the songs, solos, readings, speeches and current events given by the students.

Let us endeavor so to live that when we come to die even the undertaker will be sorry.

— Mark Twain.

The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work.—Sarah A. Bolton.

Spring Cleaning

Several weeks ago the college campus received a good cleaning in preparation for the present season and the one to follow. The twigs, dead leaves, acorns and other debris which autumn and winter bring were carefully removed and the ground left to the kindly ministrations of sun and shower. Now it has donned its coat of green just as the buds on the trees are beginning to change into the leaf and blossom of April. Our campus with its four lovely terraces and their carpet of emerald hue studded with the magnificent oaks from which Oakland Home derives its name is a "joy forever" and a never failing source of admiration. Why should not such a change be brought about in the hearts and minds of individuals? Why could not they be freed from all their unattractive, useless, idle thoughts and fancies in order that the noble nature hidden often too deeply under them might be brought to light and be of pleasure and benefit to others? Why not clear out all the mental debris and leave room for the good, sensible, attractive side of us to blossom forth in all its beauty and freshness? Certainly it is a logical time to do so, thus following the example set us by Mother Nature. According to tradition, men make new resolutions at the dead of winter, January first, but it seems easier to break away from the past and start on a new era at the time when spring changes are occurring all about our winter-wearied selves and all out doors is discarding the drab raiment of Autumn for the charming apparel of Spring. Our homes know the rejuvenating process of spring cleaning, our schools are acquainted with it, our lawns and campuses feel it, so why should not we begin a mental and individual spring cleaning in preparation for a life that will be an inspiration, and when it is ended, whose memory will be a benediction.

Playtime

F. H. C. students have recently enjoyed a number of good things. On the night of March 16th Mr. Thomas, of Vanderbilt University, spoke in behalf of the Near East Relief organization and was presented with a generous donation for that work.

On March 28th, F. H. C. girls and boys went to a "Hodge-podge Entertainment" at the County High School.

On the evening of Wednesday, April 2nd, Mrs. Bell, Mr. Holland, Dorsey and Carrie Neal Hardeman, and Miss Jones presented a program consisting of songs, instrumental solos and readings.

On Friday, April 4th, the High School American Literature class was allowed to go to the County High School to see the picture, "The Courtship of Myles Standish."

The Dixie Trio, composed of Miss Mary Sharpe, Miss Lieta Bietman, and Mrs. Brownie Jones, of Florence, Alabama, appeared in recital at the College auditorium on the evening of April 7th, and rendered many highly entertaining numbers.

The High School class is practicing daily on its play, "The Path Across the Hill," which will be given on April 17th.

On the 22nd, the State Forester, Mr. Robert Maddox, will lecture to us in the College auditorium.

"The Importance of Being Earnest"

On Thursday evening, March 20th, the college students presented a comedy of Oscar Wilde's, "The Importance of Being Earnest", in the college auditorium. Mr. Black appeared in the role of "Ernest" and other big parts were played by Dorsey Hardeman, Mary Elizabeth Jones, Mary Campbell and Mary Nell Hardeman, ably assisted by Knox Summitt, Brooksie Atkinson, Ben McCann and Albright Goodgion.

In spite of the unfavorable weather a large audience was present and pronounced the play one of the most interesting and amusing given in some time. The proceeds of the play went to increase our growing library and we are glad to announce that over a hundred dollars was realized for that purpose above all expenses.

Just For Fun

Absent minded Professor Sikes: "Mr. Kennedy, I want you to answer this question."

Tolbert: "Professor Sikes, I'm absent to-day."

Professor Sikes: "I beg your pardon, sir, the boy next you will answer the question."

Mary Campbell: "Both Ben and Knox proposed to me yesterday."

Pearl Winstead: "And you refused them both?"

Mary Campbell: "Yes, but how did you know?"

Pearl Winstead: "I saw them shaking hands and congratulating each other over something this morning."

James Shelly: "So Miss Dorothy is your oldest sister. Who comes after her?"

Elizabeth Fox: "Nobody has come yet; but Pa says the first fellow that comes can have her."

A Friend: "Is your son's college education of any practical value?"

Mr. McCann: "Yes, it has cured his mother of bragging on him."

Prof. Rivenbark (with new glasses): "Hello Houston, you look like some one else."

Clyde: "I am. This is not Houston."

Geneva Hall: "What do you think of my voice?"

Prof. Holland: "I think it would come in very handy in case of a fire."

Prof. Hall: "Who led the children of Israel into Canaan?"

No reply.

"Can no one tell that?"

Flossie McClure: "It was not I. I—I just came here last fall."

Burglar: "Where's your husband?"

Mrs. Black (trembling): "Under the bed."

Burglar: "Then I won't take anything. It's bad enough to have such a husband without being robbed too."

Kathryn: "I don't look like myself at all in this new hat."

Pearl: "No dear; I think you made a very wise selection."

Lois Sanders: "Is my hat on straight, Joe?"

Joe Raines: "Absolutely straight. Do hurry, we're late already?"

Lois Sanders: "I'll have to go back and fix it then. This isn't the kind of hat that's worn straight."

Spanish Students of F. H. C.
Carry on International Correspondence

The students of Spanish in this institution are now actively engaged in corresponding with native Spaniards who have similar interests and taste. Letters are being sent to three different Spanish schools which have about the same rank as this school. This experiment certainly will prove a success. Linguistic training will be secured, and there will be a fine exchange of historical, geographical, artistic, manufacturing, commercial, home-life information and material, picture postals, kodak views, clippings, etc., which will permit the exchange of sympathies and ideals and will stimulate interest.

Supervised educational letter exchange between Americans and foreigners is fast becoming an integral part of the best method of modern language teaching, and this school stands for the best in everything.

Dorsey's Soliloquy: "If I can get along without the women, why can't they get along without me?"

What!

Geneva: "Mrs. Holland is a grand woman."

"So upright", chimed in Verna.

Mr. Rivenbark: "When did Caesar conquer the most men?"

Carrie Neal: "On examination day."
