FREED-HARDEMAN COLLEGE, HENDERSON, TENN., NOVEMBER 1943

NUMBER 2

Halloween Frolic, Bonfire, Games

Halloween is the time for ghosts, witches, black-cats, and goblins. To get the better of them, Freed-Hardeman boys and co-eds gathered around a glowing bonfire in the "quad" between the buildings last Saturday night. After some spirited group songs, "Miss Mary" and her aides produced food. Wieners were roasted (some slightly burned) and served with cole slaw, potato salad and delicious hot chocolate. When everyone was thoroughly fed, we went up to the gymnasium where decorations of cornstalks and autumn leaves emphasized the season of merriment.

In the gym, we began with a Grand March. Naturally everybody got mixed up, but it was fun. A five-piece orchestra then played all the different society songs. Next we used some of our excess energy by playing the "Cat and Witch". (Too bad the floor was so slippery) One of the highlights of the evening was a reading given by Owen Freeman. As Zeke, he just "chawed" on. After playing some more games we were again entertained by some musical selections "Dark Town Stutter's Ball" (should have played that for the Grand March) and "Missouri Waltz." As the climax to the occasion, the lights were turned out and a trio of witches came to tell fortunes. They knew too much to be anybody but Dora Boone, Mary Nell Harper, and Lu Evelyn Patten.

ANNUAL OUTING AT CHICKSAW PARK

Enchanting Chickasaw State Park was the scene of a splendid outing on the afternoon of October 9. The richly-wooded hills, now touched with autumn's colorful brush, and beautiful Lake Placid nestling among them, are a treat for all who love the outdoors. This excursion is always one of the highlights of the year for Freed-Hardeman.

Very soon after the lunch hour the students and faculty assembled in front of the Administration Building, where large trucks awaited them. The group had a rather breezy but pleasant eight-mile trip out to the lake. Soon softball games, tennis, horse-shoe matches, and hikes were begun, while some groups simply strolled around and enjoyed the beautiful scenery. As the afternoon passed on fires were started in the rustic grill, over which wieners soon reached the delicious stage. Other eatables were served for the enjoyment of all present. A merry trip home was the climax to the occasion. A sense of deep satisfaction was in the heart of every student as the group returned to the college campus.

Six-Medal Hero Returns from War

Lieut. George Johnson has just returned from active duty in the North African theater. Lieut. Johnson is a navigator in a Flying Fortress crew. As a member of this crew he has completed 51 missions over enemy territory. During this time he didn't receive as much as a scratch, although his plane, the "Wily Witch," has received as many as 63 holes from enemy gunfire on a single mission.

Lieut. Johnson was valedictorian of the class of 1936. He is married to Raye Evelyn Franks '39, and is the son of another alumna, Cecil (Louder) Johnson.

When asked how he felt in combat duty Lieut. Johnson replied, "You are so busy that you don't have time to analyze your feelings."

George is possessor of the Air Medal, four oak leaf clusters in bronze and one in silver, as well as a citation from the Army Air Force.

William Allen '39 is studying advanced Chemical Engineering in the Army Specialized Training Program at Iowa Union, Iowa City, Ia.

Harry Cheatham '33 was recently baptized, in Honolulu, by Harry Moore '40.

Cecil Anderson '33 was promoted in mid-October to first Lieutenant at the Army post in Independence, Kansas.

MORE WEDDING BELLS

On the evening of August 10, Barbara Harrison, '43, of Sherman, Miss., and Richard Curry, '42, of Winchester, Ky., were married at the Church of Christ in New Albany, Miss. They are residing in Muncie, Ind., where Richard is minister.

Madeline Clark, '43, and Logan Fox were married at the Aldan Church of Christ in Philadelphia, Penn., on September 23. James Finney '42 sang at the wedding.

Lt. Fred Brigrance, '38, Henderson, Tenn., and Mary Mae Morgan, '42, Tulsa, Okla., were married Monday afternoon, October 25, at 4 o'clock, in the study of the East Hill Church of Christ, Pensacola, Fla. They will reside in Pensacola.

Barnie Keith, '42, and Lillian Cates, '43, were married October 17, in Florence, Ala. where they are making their home. The ceremony was performed by Bro. Frank Puckett, of the Poplar Street Church.

Dan Sharpe '42 was married to Inez Colvin in Ruston, La., on September 2. He is in the Army, having been stationed at Camp Ruston for a year.

Mary Hardage '43 was married to her sailor in late summer and is now Mary Phillips of San Diego, California.

Earline McIlroy '41 was married to William Warren '33, of the Armed forces, during the past summer.

Book Week is Here!

TWENTY-FIFTH annual BOOK WEEK will be celebrated here and throughout the nation, November 14-20. The challenging slogan, "Build the Future With Books," suggests that BOOK WEEK 1943 presents greater opportunities than ever. As Katharine F. Lehnroot of The Children's Bureau (U. S. Dept. of Labor) states: "One of the surest ways I know to help our children climb over our false political, racial, economic and religious barriers, and move forward into a world where people of high courage and bounteous goodwill live, is to give them good books, and more and more good books."

Founded in 1919 by the American Booksellers' Assn. and the American Library Assn., BOOK WEEK has attracted the support of many organizations during its first quarter century including Boys' Clubs of America, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Parent-Teacher Associations and government agencies such as The Children's Bureau, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, and the U. S. Office of Education.

SOCIETIES PLAN FOR DEBATING TOURNEY

Freed-Hardeman has always had a large number of excellent speakers and debaters. This year the number of students interested in this phase of college life seems to be unusually large. Under the advice of our dean, Bro. Roland, a debating tournament will be held this year. The literary societies have agreed to carry out this contest in order to quicken interest among themselves in the society work, as well as to improve in their literary talents.

The subject of this year's debate has as yet not been agreed upon. It has been suggested that the debaters use the selected collegiate question, "Resolved: That the United States should cooperate in establishing and maintaining an International Police Force upon the defeat of the Axis".

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY BOTH CLASSES

On October 23, the Senior Class, under the leadership of Bro. Roland, met to elect officers. Those chosen were: Billy Nicks, President; James Falkner, Vice-President; and Becky Park, Secretary.

The following week on October 28, the Juniors met and selected: Don Taylor, President; Paul Hall, Vice-President; and Miriam Leeper, Secretary.

Nichols Meeting Inspires Church and College

Farrell's Persistence Brings Him Honor

Kerby Farrell, who starred in F. H. C. basketball in the real basketball days of 1934-5, and who married Nell Ledbetter in 1936, is still a source of great pride to his friends and fans—though now their roster extends across the nation. Kerby is at present back home in Henderson for a few weeks vacation before he resumes a bond-selling tour begun in late September. On tour he is the "skipper" or Captain of the National Baseball Leagues' All-Star team, composed of players from the Cubs, the Dodgers, the Pirates, the Phillies and his own team, the Boston Braves.

"The Sporting News" of August 26 featured a picture of Kerby on page 3, and a double column story by Ed Rumill, of the Christian Science Monitor. It is captioned: "Kerby Farrell, Tourist of Minors, Guides Braves over Rocky Path," and narrates how, after nine years of bus circuit, in minor leagues, he stepped to the plate for the Boston Braves, on April 24, virtually unknown, stuck by his determination to play, and made good. On July 22, in Chicago, when Johnny McCarthy fractured an ankle, Kerby stepped into his place and bolstered the Braves into a favorable League spot for the rest of the season.

One of the most gratifying things about Kerby Farrell's success is the esteem in which he is held by his fellow-athletes and the sports critics, as well as his near-worshipful fans. Miller Hollingsworth, of Erie (Pa) Times, wrote of him: "If ever a baseball player enjoyed the complete popularity of the local fans and had them 'on his side' at all times, then that gentleman was Kerby Farrell, a hard working manager, competent first baseman and better than average hurler." Chilly Doyle, of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, wrote in August: "Farrell is a pitcher, outfielder, and first baseman and also a real batter. He managed Erie before the war stopped the Mid-Atlantic League. He plays first base with the grace of a Fletcher"

On September 23, Fred Barry wrote from Pittsburgh: "Early in the now fast waning diamond season, followers of the Braves observed an athletic, wiry type southpaw relief pitcher and pinch hitter employed upon occasions." The critic relates the story of Farrell's replacing McCarthy in Chicago and his consistently fine playing thereafter. "Farrell, therefore, has not let all the grey matter acquired through years of toil in the difficult and lower minor leagues rust away....Well, Kerby it looks as though you have a job - and not

The students of Freed-Hardeman as well as the people of Henderson have had the privilege of hearing a series of powerful and eloquent gospel sermons delivered by Bro. Gus Nichols of Jasper, Alabama. The Chapel Hall was practically filled at every service; much interest was manifested throughout the meeting, and as a result there were seven baptisms and three restorations. The meeting lasted from Oct. 17th through the 28th with a sermon each evening. Bro Nichols also spoke in chapel each morning, giving wonderful lessons on living. Song service was led by Billy Nicks.

We feel that much good was accomplished, both visible and invisible. We are looking forward to having Brother Nichols with us again during the special courts, which will begin about the first of the year.

Some of the subjects discussed were: "Soul Winning"; "The Blood of Christ"; "God Works In Us"; "Reverence"; "Five Ways to Disobey God"; "The Love of God"; "The Church"; "The Pillar and Ground of the Truth"; "The Great Invitation"; "Why People Are Lost"; "Worldliness in the Church"; "A Change of Heart"; "How to Love Life" and "Abrahamic Faith".

NEW CONCRETE COURT FOR TENNIS PLAYERS

The College has just completed the second all-weather tennis court out on the recreation field. The first was constructed last spring, partly by gifts from two graduating classes. Now the pair of smooth and handsome courts more than doubles the looks of the "tennis end" of the field, and multiplies by many times the number of playing days possible and the fun of the players.

The new court is intended especially for beginners in tennis, so that everybody may have a chance to learn one of the most interesting and healthful of games.

just 'for the duration.'

The Associated Press's Ed Deane, writing for the Philadelphia Enquirer on September 3, says: "Farrell's persistency in working out at first base during infield drills and taking occasional turns on the mound for batting practice won him the favor of Stengel (the Braves' Manager)." "His determination to win himself a spot in the majors should be an inspiration to every kid on the sandlots and in the minors." "After 10 years, Farrell has grasped the opportunity." "He accepted the chance to come up to the majors, even though some 10 minor league teams wanted him as a manager."

ALLEGIANCE

Much emphasis is being made upon allegiance to our native country in the conflict in which we are now engaged. Properly defined, allegiance is the tie or obligation of a subject to his sovereign or government.

But we should remember that there is One to whom we owe allegiance above any nation.

However, we should not disobey the commandments of man until they begin to conflict with God's law. Timothy tells us to pray for the rulers of the land that we may abide in peace and godliness. We should respect the flag of our homeland but no worship is due to it or its representatives.

But to God we owe both respect and a worshipful spirit in all things that we do.

E. L. P.

NOW ON MANEUVERS

"I wish the boys and girls who attend F. H. C. and those who sit in your _____ classes and all, could only begin to appreciate what a wonderful blessing they have. I'd give a month's pay just to spend a few days there and be a student with all the privileges that they think they don't have. We live in a tar-paper hut up on this hill and I can't help sometimes but compare it with the dormitories and wonder if some people ever realize how fortunate they are. I could pray in Paul Gray Hall without hearing a dice game, a poker game, unbelievable swearing and filthy talk, and even without having some drunk vomit on me as he reeled thru the hut about 11 or 12 P. M. And you even have napkins out there, don't you? Well, I love everyone of them (the F. H. C. students) and pray God's finest blessings upon them. I hope no one of them ever knows what the score is in this mess. Let them be happy and smile and gripe a little at the rules that they think are strict. Someday I'm going to do that again, myself, I hope. Goodbye for now and may God bless all of the boys and girls, you, and all the faculty in your work--- keep all of you happy and sheltered as much as possible from the storm."

(Excerpt from a letter of October 8, from an alumnus of '43 now in the service.)

HOWLERS FROM ENGLAND

(As quoted in current literature)

There are people who insist that an Englishman can't understand a joke. Here is proof, however, that they are capable of making a joke. These are some of the "howlers" which resulted from written lessons in British schools:

School boards were not introduced until 1870. Previous to this small slates were used.

The population of London is a bit too thick.

The opposite of flat-chested is hump-backed.

A damsel is a little plum.

Syncopation is emphasis on a note which is not in the piece.

A compliment is when you say something to another which he and we know is not true.

Question: Explain sarcasm

Answer: When I say, "God bless teacher."

Question: For what are the following dates important: 55 B. C., 1066 A. D., 1485 A. D.?

Answer: 55 B. C.- Julius Caesar was born; 1066 A. D.- Julius Caesar landed in England. 1485 A. D.- Julius Caesar died.

PREACHER PARAGRAPHS

On October 8, the Preachers' Club heard talks by Harold Trimble, Joe Wilson, Lowell Clark, Don Taylor, and Owen Freeman. On October 15, it had the first debate of the season when Charlie Brown affirmed and Orbra Johns denied. "The Use of Uninspired Literature in the Church is Anti-Scriptural." After the debate the meeting was drawn to a close when Charlie said, "I don't believe a word I've said."

Because of a meeting held by Brother Gus Nichols, the club meeting for the 22nd was postponed. On the 29th, however, new officers R.E. Van Tassel, J.C. Davidson, and Joe Foy, were elected. E.W. Guthrie, Gordon Miller, and George Estes, made talks.

Since the beginning of school the following young preachers have preached in and around the places designated: J.C. Davidson, Estes and Medina, Tenn., and Huntsville, Ky.; Owen Freeman: Tusculumbia, and Florence, Ala.; Junior Richardson: Jacksonburg and St.

Florian, Ala., and Coxville, Tenn.; Billy Nicks: Memphis and Bemis, Tenn., and Florence, Ala.; Winston Burton: Halls, Somerville, Laconia, Tenn. and Stanford, Ark.; Claude Gardener: Fayetteville, Nashville, Tennessee, Charleston, Mo., and Dell, Ark.; Orbra Johns: Troy, Tennessee, Jacinta and Ruleville, Miss.; Roy Hearn: Memphis, Tenn.; Charlie Brown, Cincinnati, Ohio.; George Estes, Florence, Alabama, and Metropolis, Ill.

With the fall weather upon us and Old Man Winter just around the corner, those little country school-houses used as places of worship by brethren on Sundays are being warmed for the first time since last winter by the old wood stoves. Such was the case last Sunday where John Scott was preaching. Everything went along fine until a large family of wasps, whose home was in the chimney, became frantically disturbed. Those motions that the audience saw John make were not gestures---he was dodging diving-bombing wasps!

HOMEMAKERS

Friday night, October 29, the Homemakers Club held its formal initiation of new members. With Helen Harden, president of the organization, acting as the Spirit of Home Economics, each member was inducted singly in a most impressive candlelight ceremony. At the close the new members repeated the pledge, and all members sang the club song. Those inducted were: Georgia Sanders, Stella Haun, Dot Kesler, Lu Evelyn Patten, and Alma Foster.

A brief discussion of the plans for the year was held. The club voted to join the National Association of Home Economics. "Foods for Victory" was selected as the theme for the year, and suggestions for semi-monthly programs were made.

TWO GUEST SPEAKERS ENJOYED BY THE A. C. E. GIRLS

The A. C. E. club held its second meeting at the home of Mrs. Foy Friday afternoon, Oct. 7. After the business meeting Mrs. Foy's brother, A. B. Sowell, Commercial Attache to the Republic of Panama, made an informal talk about Panama, discussing the government, the people, customs, language, dress, the fortification of Panama, native flower, religion, education, their feeling toward the United States, his trip home, and other topics. There followed a Piano solo by Miriam Leeper, and two numbers by the girls' trio.

Bro. Gus Nichols was the guest speaker at the third meeting, Oct. 21. His subject was, "Train up a child in the way it should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

PHILOMATHEAN

Philomathean athletic teams are zooming toward the top now.

On October 25 the society elected officers for the second six-weeks term. Those chosen are: Charles Holt, Mary Helen Henry, Frances Green, Kathryn Phillips, Mary Nell Harper, Harold Purdom.

After the business meeting, the Philo quartet sang three songs: "Church in the Dale", "In the Evening by the Moonlight," and "Stars of the Summer Night."

A most interesting question was: Resolved that We Should Have Blind Dates, discussed by Frances Green and Myrna Chapman.

SIGMA RHO

Recently the Sigma Rhos were enlightened by a debate, "Resolved: Only Boys Should Ask for Dates." Carroll Lancaster and Clinton Hamilton were in the affirmative. In the negative, Becky Park and Donna Tigrett gave strong points. A vote was taken and the girls were victorious.

June Powers gave a reading and Delton Haun outlined the fundamental rules of debating at another recent meeting. New officers are: Roy J. Hearn, Clinton Hamilton, Carroll Lancaster, Mary Jo Logan, Claude Gardner, and Maxine Mercer.

BUSINESS COUNCIL MEETS

The Business Council had its first meeting of the year September 5. The meeting was called to order by our sponsor, Bro. Fol-

PHI KAPPA ALPHA

At the last October meeting of the PKA, Olin Hastings, Pat Hardeman, Raymond Duncan, and Norma June "Kansas" Smith were elected officers.

A chorus has been organized under the direction of former president, Billy Goss.

Our athletic teams have continued to win in their usual custom, except on Monday Oct. 25, when the Philomatheans defeated us in two games.

ALPHA TAU LAMBDA

The A. T. L. chapel program of October 14 was varied and highly entertaining. It included a piano solo, "Kitten on the Keys," by Miriam Leeper; a song, "When Big Profundo Sings Low, C" by H. A. Fincher, saxophone and guitar duets "Margie" and "Smiles," by Gordon Miller, Sr., and James Brasher; a quartet by Owen Freeman, Donald Taylor, John Scott and H. A. Fincher; Chopin's "Minute Waltz," played by Jean Anderson; and a delightful session between "Scotty (John) Scott and his Stogie 'Lester'" who is a real threat to Charlie McCarthy-- the whole program being announced in original verse by Paul Rotenberry.

At the October 25 meeting, the Society chose as new officers, James Brasher, Paul Rotenberry, Ettie Spears, Bonnie Hatter, Benjamin Morton, and Miriam Leeper.

well, who made an interesting talk about last year's club and its activities.

Present officers are as follows: Becky Parks-president; Helen White-v-president; Dusky Broadus-Secretary; Delores Tatum-assist. secretary; Kathleen Logan--sgt-at-arms; Francine Cooke-reporter.

SPORT SLANTS

By "SHORTY" WATSON

For the past four weeks softball has been the outstanding sport on the campus, but the cold weather is here and softball will soon be out of the picture.

Although the Phi Kappas have been hindered by injuries, they have managed to stay on top in softball. At the present they have won all league games that they have played. The Philos, who won all but two of their games, are in second place. The Alpha Taus are in third place, and the Sigma Rhos in last.

The Philos, having won four touch football games and lost only two, are in possession of first place. The Alpha Taus were the first team to score on the Philos and beat them in the field. The Alpha Taus, having won three and lost two, are enrolled in second place.

The Phi Kappas, who have won three and lost the same number, are in the third position. The Phi Kappas also defeated the Philos. The Sigma Rhos, who have quite a bit of raw material, have undisputed possession of the fourth place. They have won one and lost four.

Another very interesting thing to note is that the second all weather tennis court is completed. We are very grateful for the pair of splendid courts we now have.

Here is some late news for the sports fans. The Alpha Taus defeated the Phi Kappas in softball on October 25, by the close score of one to nothing. The lone run was scored in the last inning. This narrows the Phi Kappas' lead to one game. The Philos are waiting for a chance to pull into the lead.

MISS FIXIT SAYS

Dear Miss Fixit:

I know I shouldn't bother you, the great Lettus Fixit, with the riny troubles of a mere me, but gosh, I'm worried. You see, I'm just crazy about a certain male, but he doesn't even know I'm alive. I guess you wonder why I don't quit him, but, you don't know him, Miss Fixit. He's wonderful!

He's a robust Westerner, a curly-haired, sun-tanned cowboy from Oklahoma, and oh, is he handsome! But even though he looks like a Gable, he's not merely good looking. Miss Fixit, you should see his shoulders! Oh, and his neck and wrist muscles! (And his pearly teeth -- all thirteen of them!)

But, he still doesn't know that I'm starry eyed about him. What am I to do? Should I tell him? Or should I spend the rest of my life reading "Physical Culture," "Strength and Health," and "Hygeia"? What shall I do?

Sincerely,
Blue Bonnet.

Dear Blue Bonnet:

Oh dear, you even had me sighing with your description of that super-male. What a man he must be!

But, oh cruel passion, fly, fly, and leave me with a settled brain, a clear head, and a cool conscience, with which to solve this befuddled maiden's tempestuous torment.

My dear girl, as a woman of experience, I must warn you against the folly of falling for a man. There are millions of fish in the sea. Why, just look around and find another. Take Gardner Chamberlain, for instance. He looks like Rudy Vallee.

So buck up, Miss Blue, don't let it get you down. Rise up in arms against a sea of troubles, and, by opposing, end them. By the way, who is this creature?

Yours Truly,
Lettus.

BRICKBATS

By JOE FOY

Here goes again with this monthly gleaning of the latest campus highlights, lewlights, limelights and lovelights. Have decided to keep my witticisms on a more intellectual plane this issue, since my last column was so severely red-penciled by "ye olde ed" and "Auntie" as to render it almost unrecognizable.

Philosophical browsings: (1) If the sports editor were a Philo, our team would look good too. Don't those PhiKappas shine--on paper!! (2) A most interesting feature of the society ball games has been the cheering of Bill Seaman. Keep up the good work, Bill. (3) I wonder what makes girls choose rather to court a blond pitcher than to be loyal to society. Pardon me--I mean their society. How about that, Mary Helen? (4) Passing gum in General Science can cause some awful gummy situations, cousin, especially when one receives letters daily from Nashville in a delightfully illegible, feminine, and slightly dark-haired hand.

The latest reports from "Sherlock" Purdom, and "Hawkshaw" Ary show that they are hot on the trail of certain hoodlums who stacked their room, along with others, last Sunday morning. Of course, being no stool pigeon, I wouldn't tell them that Stanley Ash, Charles Plum, Neal Penny and Willard Reel all had a wonderful opportunity to do it. So don't tell them this, readers, make 'em find out the hard way. Mearwhile your local police reporter will keep you posted for developments in this most intriguing case.

Well, at last Paul Hall and Pat Hardeman got out of their respective casts and crutches after a long period of disablement and what happens? Jimmie Powell falls down the stairs, sprains his ankle, and becomes the latest member of the "Phi Hobble Kappas." To appease the fates, I suggest that they sign Hastings and Hammontree over to the Philomathean Society. No doubt the injuries would cease.

Regardless of outward appearances, Norma June Smith was a girl scout. She always does her good deed daily and is a model for all good little girls. She says: "Always hold your temper, girls. Never get mad, even if you strike four times in a ball game. And if someone happens to be teasing you and taunting to the point of exasperation, why, that's just a better opportunity for manifestation of your benevolent character." Take it from Coach, she's certainly a studious, well-behaved little girl.

Sam, my pet buzzard, just walked in and tapped me on the shoulder. He says I'd better quit, before I get too caustically sarcastic. You folks oughta see Sam. He's a pious old thing if there ever was one--always does the right thing. But of course I never pay any attention to Sam, the old fruit.

Sam, what are you doing?-- Turn me loose, Sam--Help--awkk!
