FREED-HARDEMAN COLLEGE, HENDERSON, TENN., DECEMBER 1943

NUMBER 2

Recent Gift of "Comerfarm" Is Great Boon to College

Brother R. W. Comer, long tried-and-true friend of the cause of Christ, of Brother Hardeman, and of Freed-Hardeman College, has recently made a generous gift to the College. It is a fifty-six acre tract of land, now known as "Comerfarm", on the edge of Henderson, and is destined for the practical use and support of the school.

We have long needed such a tract, in order to produce and conserve for our own maintenance, not just during wartime, but as a permanent source of sustenance. Most of the land will be devoted to "truckin'", the raising of our own vegetables and fruits, but a good part will be in pasture, to keep the school dairy herd of Guernseys and the beef calves. Poultry-raising, and the canning, drying and preserving of food will be important parts of the arrangements, which will begin to function in time for the 1944 growing season.

"Comerfarm" will also have a corner somewhere for outdoor grills and rustic seats, to serve as a picnic spot for the college students. It will be a pleasure to hike the mile or more to the farm, cook a meal outdoors, and enjoy the homey farm scenes, knowing that they are helping to make a solid, lasting foundation for the present and future of Freed-Hardeman.

Twenty-Nine Dallas Churches Combine for Hardeman Meeting

Holiday Events Enjoyed by All

Thanksgiving is one of the outstanding days in the school year at F. H. C. and this year as usual it was a day of fun as well as Thanksgiving. The day was begun with the Chapel program at 10:30 in the Chapel Hall. Two hymns with the Thanksgiving theme in mind were led by Billy Nicks. Holbert Rideout read the scripture and the prayer was led by J. C. Davidson. Following the devotional a chorus sang two numbers--"Doxology" and "Come Ye Thankful People". Donald Taylor then read the "History of the First Thanksgiving", followed by a solo by John Scott. Several historic Thanksgiving Proclamations were read by Orbra Johns. Nita Mitchell read a group of Thanksgiving poems, followed by a talk by Winston Burton about "Why We Should Have Thanksgiving This Year". The girl's sextet, dressed in red, white, and blue sweaters and black skirts sang two patriotic songs: "America" and a song written to the tune of "Dixie". The lighter part of the program was introduced by Nell Jones, who presented a Thanksgiving quiz which carefully "Dissected Mr. Gobbler". The closing number of the program was a piano duet by Jean Anderson and Miriam Leeper, "The Star-Spangled Banner".

"Miss Mary" had planned a perfect Thanksgiving dinner in its true form, even pumpkin pie. Everyone felt the spirit of the occasion while eating this delicious meal.

A hike was planned for the afternoon. Accompanied by Bro. Witt, couples walked to Sugar Creek and detoured on the way back through a field, up and down. To everyone's surprise the path led to the highway. Feeling pepped up and happy, everyone returned to get ready for the ballgames planned for the concluding part of the one-day Holiday.

STUDENTS TO ENJOY CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

On December 16, at noon, the holidays for the Christmas season will begin. Students will leave for their respective homes in anticipation of a gathering with the home folks and the gala events connected with the Yule-tide. On Tuesday morning, December 28 classes will be resumed as a part of the second quarter of the 1943-44 session.

Brother Hardeman was welcomed back to school on December 1 after another outstanding achievement-- a great cooperative meeting for twenty-nine congregations in Dallas. The meeting extended from Nov. 14th to 28th, with noon services the first week at the Melba Theatre, and evening services both weeks at the centrally-located Pearl and Bryan church. Brother Basil C. Doran did a splendid job of the song direction.

Rarely has a meeting been so finely advertised and publicized. Folders were made by the thousands, containing an illustrated biography of Brother Hardeman, and announcement of the meeting. Admittance cards were given out. Large, well-prepared ads appeared in all the newspapers, and stories on the progress of the meeting were frequent. Special parking arrangements were made with parking lots and garages near the auditorium. A map of the city of 440 000 people was published in the papers, showing the location of the 29 congregations and directions printed as to how to reach the meeting by bus and streetcar. To quote the Christian Chronicle: "And don't you doubt it, Dallas knows this meeting is on." "People came, and kept coming. They were lined up around the front of the theatre as if the show were opening a special run." "Estimates of the noon attendance range from 1500 to 2000."

The Dallas Times-Herald had this to say: "Noonday churchgoers Tuesday packed the downstairs of the Melba Theater to hear N. B. Hardeman, Church of Christ minister and president of Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn. Many were members of the Church of Christ, Pearl and Bryan where Mr. Hardeman is speaking through Nov. 28. But also making up the crowd were soldiers who had wandered in out of curiosity, a woman who sold newspapers on a street corner, white-collar workers on their way to lunch went to church instead.

"Upstairs in his office, Dick Foy, manager of the theater, said he'd never seen anything like the crowds that have been coming to church. 'The downstairs seats 1736 and Tuesday the theatre was just about filled,' he said."

On Wednesday, the 17th, the Times-Herald reported: "The Pearl and Bryan church building, the largest among the Churches of Christ in the city, was filled to capacity last night, with extra chairs placed in both the balcony and lower floor."

Again, and continually, we have reason to be proud of, and supremely grateful for, N. B. Hardeman.

"WHERE ARE THE NINE?"

One of the most striking rebukes administered by our Lord while here on earth was in this question: Where are the nine? Ten men, one a samaritan, the others Jews, came to Christ to be healed of their leprosy. Because of his unfailing love he pronounced a cure upon them. As the law required, they presented themselves to the priests. The Samaritan turned back and expressed his gratitude to the Lord for the benevolence he had shown. This man, a member of the hated race went out of his way to express gratitude to a Jew. For that he obtained the commendation of our blessed Savior.

How often today are we among the ungrateful nine? Are we truly thankful for the blessings of life? Do we express our gratitude to those who have done good to us?

How little effort it takes to express a kindly "thank you". With little effort on our part we can thank our parents for the sacrifices they have made in order that we might get a college education. Are we grateful to the Akins and others who have helped so many of us to pass through these halls? Let us determine that we will not be guilty of ingratitude. Let us resolve to be counted with the one Samaritan and not with the nine.

WHAT MAKES IT?

A letter of last month from Leo Willeford '41 to Brother Hall contains the following paragraph.

"I was in Long Beach, Calif. not long ago and met Evelyn (Detherage) Hughes there at church. We met while there and he really asked a lot of questions about F. H. C. and also wanted to know what made all the students to be so loyal to F. H. C. I think that we answered all his questions."

Knowing Leo and Evelyn, we're willing to concede that they really gave the answers.

MRS. FOY HAS ARTICLE IN TENNESSEE TEACHER

In the November issue of the Tennessee Teacher Mrs. Oscar Foy, who is in charge of our Demonstration School, had an article entitled, "A Sower Went Forth to Sow." the lesson of the responsibility of the sower to sow the right seed in the right soil and to apply the proper cultivation to the training of children in the early stages. The world has reaped many sorrows because the wrong seed was sown in the hearts of the children. On the other hand the world enjoys many blessings because of the sowing of the right kind of seed in the heart of Christ while a boy. We should get the great lesson from that and sow eternal truths, tolerance, love, and reverence to God.

PHI KAPPA ALPHA

On November 10 the Phi Kappas presented a chapel program on the general theme "The Cross of Christ." Olin Hastings, president, announced the numbers. Paul Hall's speech on the "Cross of Christ" was followed by "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," sung by the club chorus under the direction of J.W. Goss. Pat Hardeman and Eddie Wolven gave poems and a mixed quartet sang "Nailed to the Cross." After the chorus sang "Up From the Grave He Arose", the male quartet closed the program by singing "Shall I Crucify My Lord".

SIGMA RHO

The Sigma Rho Society presented its second chapel program of the year November 4. Rebecca Park gave a humorous reading, "Being Misunderstood."; Larry Grounds, accompanied by Elmo Hazlwood, gave several Hawaiian renditions on his electric guitar. A quartet, composed of Roy Hearn, James Faulkner, Quentin McCay, and Larry Grounds, sang two spirituals.

ALPHA TAU LAMBDA

On Thursday, November 18, the Alpha Tau Lambda Society presented a chapel program centered about "The Evolution of the Negro Folk Song."

Paul Rotenberry presented the narrative, interspersed with songs of the negro race. Some of the earliest songs of the negro in America were "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," which was rendered by the Alpha Tau chorus, and "Old Black Joe," sung by Don Taylor.

A male chorus accompanied John Scott in singing "Old Man River"; H.A. Fincher sang "Deep River," and the boys' quartet sang "Massah's in the Cold, Cold Ground" and "Shortenin' Bread." The program concluded with a modern number, "Mah! Lindy Lou" sung by the girl's quartet.

PREACHER PARAGRAPHS

"The Scriptures Teach That it is Impossible for a Regenerated Child of God to Sin so as to be Lost Eternally in Hell", was the statement that William Thompson affirmed in Preachers' Club Friday night November 12, in a debate with Bill Goss. In the best debate of the season, these two young men kept the listeners spell-bound by their eloquence and knowledge.

During the past month talks have been given by Holbert Rideout, Delton Haun, Paul Waller, Junior Richardson, Evert Pickartz, Bennie Morton, Marvin Rockwell, Carroll Lancaster, W. R. Jones, Elwin Freeland, Claud Gardner, Ward Hogland, Alan Marshburn, John Wheeler, Paul Brock, and Bert Brown. At the next meeting discussions on parliamentary and debating rules were given by Winston Burton and John Scott.

The following young men have preached in and around the places designated: Joe Hardeman Foy; Kenton, Memphis, McNairy, Tenn., and Lepanto, Ark.; Bill Goss, Cloverdale, Nance, Rives, Tenn.; Neal Penny, Bethany, Dorris Chapel, Curve, Good Hope, Tenn.; Elwin Freeland, Glendale, Samburg, Mt. Zion, Dresden, Tenn., and Murray, Ky.; James Brasher, Big Buck, Refuge, Clarksburg, and Paducah, Ky.; William Thompson, Ripley, Acton, Shiloh, Tenn.; John Scott, Woodburn and Richpond, Ky., Shawnee, Okla., and Clarksburg, Tenn.

One of our number was recently serviced by Dr. Stephens of Henderson. Upon asking the charges he was told, "Oh, you may have to preach my funeral some day." Now, dear readers, the shocking thing is that Brother Renshaw's unthoughtful answer was: "YES SIR, I'LL CERTAINLY BE GLAD TO DO SO!"

H. A. F.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club met on Nov. 18 in the Science Building. The president, Earl West, called the meeting to order. The program consisted of three speeches on the subject of "Explosives." Stanley Ash gave a demonstration in his talk and soon had the building filled with smoke. He discussed the subject, "Gunpowder." J. C. Townsend lectured on the subject of Dynamite. Bro. Witt gave a very interesting discussion on "How Ammunition is Stored" He also discussed the different kinds of bombs.

On November 24, the club met for the purpose of electing presidents for the remainder of the year. Charles Ary was elected for the winter quarter, and J. C. Townsend for the spring quarter.

A. C. E.

Dr. Mildred Dawson, of the University of Tennessee, was the guest speaker of the A. C. E. Club November 5 in the high school auditorium. Her subject was "Teacher Recruiting".

On November 19, the A. C. E. Club met in the home of Mrs. Oscar Foy for its semi-monthly program. A welfare committee was appointed, Dora Boone being chairman. Plans were made for a Thanksgiving box to be given to a needy family in town, also for a Christmas party.

The program consisted of:

Duet...Norma Smith and Jean Anderson.

Piano Solo...Miriam Leeper.

Impromptu talks.

Reading...Dora Boone.

Piano Solo...Lois Conder.

Quiz Program...conducted by Miriam Leeper.

BUSINESS COUNCIL ENJOYS BANQUET AND PROGRAM

A highlight in the history of the Business Council is the formal Banquet which was given Tuesday night, November 23, in the Home-Economics Department. The table was decorated with green fern and yellow chrysanthemums with placards in the form of pumpkins. The dinner, prepared by the Homemakers, was served in 3 courses. Olin Hastings, toastmaster, presented the history of the Council. A reading was then given by Becky Park, president of the Council who introduced the officers. Katherine Phillips gave a talk on Correspondence and Christeva Moody discussed present business conditions. Raymond Duncan sang a duo of songs dedicated to Mrs. Finley: "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "I Love You Truly", accompanied by Dora Boone. Janet Whitehurst gave a talk on secretarial efficiency. After the dessert, Dusky Broadus sang "Mary" accompanied by Jean Anderson. Nell Jones led a panel discussion on Post-War business. James Williams and D. E. Mitchell, prominent local alumni, were after-dinner speakers. Frances Green and Mary Nelle Harper played a duet. Bro. Folwell, sponsor of the Council, made the closing remarks and as the climax, announced the engagement of Helen Harden to Olin Hastings. Bro. Folwell then presented a gift to the couple given by the group.

Keep one thing forever in view, the truth; and if you do this, though it may lead you away from the opinions of men, it will assuredly conduct you to the throne of God.

Horace Mann.

LIBRARY GETS NEW BOOKS

The library has several new citizens added to its kingdom of books at least three of which are celebrities. SUPPER AT THE MAXWELL HOUSE by Crab, THE ROBE, by Douglas, and WHO WALK ALONE, by Burgess are especially noteworthy although the others are equally interesting.

WHO WALK ALONE is the story of a young army officer who had a fine standing in his community and was engaged to be married when he was stricken by leprosy. He exiled himself to an island and built his life all over again.

SUPPER AT THE MAXWELL HOUSE is a story of the early growth and development of the city of Nashville and is a sequel to DINNER AT BELMONT by the same author.

THE ROBE is the story of the Roman soldier who cast lots for Christ's robe and won.

Some of the others are as follows: LISTEN! THE WIND by Anne Lindbergh, ADAM OF THE ROAD by Elizabeth Janet Gray, THE FUN ENCYCLOPEDIA by E.O. Harbin, INTRODUCTION TO CYTOLOGY by Sharp, THE FIGHT FOR LIFE by de Kruif, THIMBLE SUMMER by Elizabeth Enright, HANDECOCK OF BROADCASTING by Abbot, SAMUEL PEPYS' DIARY, FABRICS by Denny, A FIELD GUIDE TO THE BIRDS by Roger Peterson, GOD'S WOMAN by C.R. Nichol, THE SPEAKER'S NOTEBOOK by Hoffman, AWARENESS by Garrett, WESTERN STAR by Stephen Vincent Benet, GIANTS ALONE by Ernest Poole, NORTH TO THE ORIENT by Anne Lindbergh, WHY THE WEATHER by Charles F. Brooks, ABE LINCOLN IN ILLINOIS by Sherwood, OUT OF THE TEST TUBE by Holmes, MY MEMOIR by Edith Bolling Wilson, CHRISTIAN TREASURE by Lipscomb, DAYS OF OUR YEARS by Pierre van Passen. Since the total shipment has not yet arrived, this is only about half of the full number to be added to the library.

DEMONSTRATION SCHOOL PRESENTS PROGRAM

Thursday morning, December 2, the pupils of the College Demonstration School presented a chapel program on "War against Tuberculosis." Nick Powers acted as Master of Ceremonies. The program included two songs by the chorus, followed by a display of posters, a short one-act play, and a review of causes and cures of Tuberculosis. Bro. Witt made an appropriate speech after the last number. At the end of the program pamphlets were distributed to the student body. Mrs. Foy's pupils are now selling Christmas seals for the fight against Tuberculosis.

Thursday morning, December 2, the student body cast its votes for outstanding popular, athletic, and handsome students for the feature section of the annual.

McQuiddy Printing Company, of Nashville, prints the Treasure Chest.

PHILOMATHEAN

On November 9 the Philomathean Society presented a program in chapel centered around the theme of the holiday season. The chorus sang "Deck the Halls", "First Noel", and Silent Night." While Mary Helen Henry read "O Little Town of Bethlehem" the chorus hummed the tune. Kathryn Phillips gave a rendition of the "Night Before Christmas" and a girls' trio sang "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" An interesting feature of the program was the presentation of Santa Claus himself.

DECEMBER EVENTS OF PAST YEARS

An interesting feature of the December issue of the Sky-Rocket for the year 1933 was the account of the playing of the Kiddie Band Thanksgiving program. Composed of members of the Primary Department this group presented several enjoyable numbers. The same issue announced Mrs. Foy's return to the campus after the death of her mother, Sister F. C. Sowell, Sr., of Columbia.

The December issue of 1934 gave a colorful account of the marriage of Miss Wilma Tracy to Mr. W. O. Folwell, as the account reads, the ceremony took place during the regular Chapel hour.

The Chapel was decorated both for the occasion and for the Christmas season. Mrs. Worth Powers and Mr. J. T. Rivenbark acted as matron of honor and best man.

In 1936 N. Y. A. students made many toys for distribution among needy families.

An account of the plans for debating during the second quarter of the year was given in the December 1937 issue of the Sky-Rocket. The accomplishments of the debate team were listed and were numerous indeed.

Thanksgiving of 1938 was noted for the amount of snow and sleet that fell that day.

A forthcoming event, the presentation of two stage productions by the Dramatic Department, was announced in the December issue of 1939. One of these productions was a comedy, "The Wedding Present," and the other a drama, "A Game of Chess."

In 1940 letters were received by the college from Brother Moon-suck Kang '36, picturing the progress of the Church in Korea. Also the college heard from Brother Yohannan of Iran.

The December issue of 1942 gave the following account: "Brother and Sister John W. Akin, donors of Akin fund and sponsors of seventy-five and eighty young preachers enrolled with us this year, came to Henderson on November 18, after having attended the Fifth Harde-man Tabernacle meeting in Nashville the week before."

BETTY REMEMBERS

Betty Anne Miller, of Parkersburg, W. Va., doesn't forget easily, nor will she be easily forgotten. She made an outstanding impression in F. H. C. from 1941-3, being editor of the Sky-Rocket and chosen most ideal girl in 1942-3. Last Monday, the Senior girls had a thrill when they received a big box of cookies made and sent by Betty Anne. They think it is a splendid example, worthy of repeating by anybody, any time. Betty Anne wrote that since she couldn't do any "home-coming" around Thanksgiving, she would just send her sentiments, and were they good!

When things look blue, read Isaiah 40.

When tempted to do wrong, read Psalm 139.

THE PARABLE OF THE DANGEROUS CLIFF

"Twas a dangerous cliff, as they freely confessed,
 Though to walk near its crest was so pleasant;
 But over its terrible edge there had slipped
 A duke, and full many a peasant.
 The people said something would have to be done,
 But their projects did not at all tally.
 Some said, "Put a fence around the edge of the cliff"
 Some, "An ambulance down in the valley"

The lament of the crowd was profound and was loud,
 As their hearts overflowed with their pity;
 But the cry for the ambulance carried the day
 As it spread through the neighboring city.
 A collection was made, to accumulate aid,
 And the dwellers in highway and alley
 Gave dollars or cents, not to furnish a fence—
 But "An ambulance down in the Valley."

"For the cliff is all right if you're careful," they said;
 And if folks ever slip and are dropping,
 It isn't the slipping that hurts them so much
 As the shock down below when they're stopping."
 So for years (we have heard), as these mishaps occurred,
 Quick forth would the rescuers sally,
 To pick up the victims who fell from the cliff,
 With the ambulance down in the valley.

Said one, in his plea, "It's a marvel to me
 That you'd give so much greater attention
 To repairing results than to curing the cause;
 You had much better aim at prevention.
 For the mischief, of course, should be stopped at its source
 Come, neighbors and friends, let us rally.
 It is far better sense to rely on a fence
 Than an ambulance down in the valley."

"He is wrong in his head," the majority said;
 "He would end all our earnest endeavor,
 He's a man who would shirk this responsible work,
 But we all support it forever.
 Aren't we picking up all, just as fast as they fall,
 And giving them care liberally?
 A superfluous fence is of no consequence,
 If the ambulance works in the valley."

The story looks queer as we've written it here.
 But things oft occur that are stranger,
 More humane, we assert, than to succor the hurt,
 Is the plan of removing the danger.
 The very best plan is to safeguard the man,
 And attend to the thing rationally;
 To build up the fence and try to dispense
 With the ambulance down in the valley.

This poem was read in chapel recently by Brother Robert Witt.
 So many students asked for copies that we are printing it here for their benefit.

MISS FIXIT SAYS

Dear Miss Fixit:

I've been worried for some time but only today did I decide to act. Only, I don't know what to do. So I'm writing to you to find out what I should do. Furthermore, this is a matter that concerns you also and I think we should stand together against a common foe.

It's all about this fresh "Brickbats" columnist. He gets more insulting and violates more rules of ethical journalism every issue. Last issue he made several sarcastic remarks about me, but this time he really worked my name over. Why, he said that 3-4 of the population of my home state, Kansas, is negro. He even proposes to prove it by an argument the like of which I have never heard. I suppose you've read it.

I'm anxious to see your reply. Please, Miss Fixit, help me win a victory over this rumormonger, this philandering, Philomathean provender of Phoolish proverbs.

Beseechingly yours,

K. Ansas

Dear K. Ansas:

I'm quite in sympathy with you. This fiendish facsimile of a columnist is beginning to get on my nerves too. Yes, I saw his attacks on you in the last issue and I'll say they certainly were low!! But did you see what he said about me? I've never been quite so humiliated and frustrated in my life.

I think the best cure for this belittling big shot egotist is to ignore his derogatory remarks. Let him blow off to his followers and meanwhile maintain an air of quiet dignity. Be peaceful and courteous to him and maybe you'll win his friendship. Isn't it better to resist the urge of Satan to reply to his digs? Possibly by refusing to retaliate, you will gain his respect and admiration. Then when all is quiet, you can hit him from behind with your American history book. Another popgun silenced!!

That'll fix him on that subject, but I'm afraid we'll have to let him go on the population of Kansas. He proves his contention about that beyond the shadow of a doubt. His arguments are, I regret to say, ungettoverable. You see, he found in his American History book that the white population of Kansas in 1852 was about 1000. Then he found a world almanac for 1853 which showed the slave population to be 3000. By the law of birth ratios, (a'l birth ratios remain practically the same over periods of time not exceeding 250 years), his position is proved and we'll just have to let it stand.

This, however, is only one side of the proposition. There are many things upon which we can subdue this ill-mannered skeptic and we will seek them out. Please keep in correspondence with me, K., and we'll lick him yet.

Your friend in need,
 Lettus Fixit.

Dear Miss Fixit,

I really need your help. For the first time in my life I'm having trouble with having too many men at one time. With a man shortage all over the country, I have to go and have two at once and I'm going batty! Can you please give me some advice? You see it's like this. When I was at home there was the nicest boy I dated sorta steady, and we had a lot of fun together and I thought I'd miss him a lot here in school, but I don't. Of course I write to him and he writes to me faithfully. That's the bad part about it. He is so faithful and trusting I hate to tell him what I think has happened to me. You see, I came to college without dreaming there would be so many handsome boys here, and such gentlemen, too; and I didn't have the least idea there would be any of them I'd learn to care for. But Miss Fixit there is and I don't know what to do about it. Here it is time to go home for Christmas (we've been looking forward to it all year) and I don't even want to go. What must I do about the boy at home and what must I tell the one who has gently lifted my heart into the clouds? Do you know which man I love? I'm sure I can't bear to go home until I get some advice from you, so please answer this letter soon.

Worriedly yours,

Petunia Ellissnapper

Dear Petunia,

My dear, you are in a peculiar situation for a girl your age. At Christmas we should all be happy, so maybe I can solve your problem, I hope I understand you correctly. I believe you have two boys who think quite a bit of you and you like both of them. Naturally a situation of this sort will have complications. Does each young man know about the other? If the boys are understanding they might like to know about the rival to the girl of their dreams; but then again, a girl in her first year in college is much too young to be thinking of falling in love with the hometown boy or the dashing stranger who has swept her off her feet. My advice to you is to be nice to both of the young men and enjoy your Christmas holidays with the boy at home. He's been looking forward to seeing you and it certainly won't be wrong to help him have a Merry Christmas and by New Year you can celebrate with the new flame of your life, back in school. Surely, you don't want to make either young man unhappy, especially during the holiday season, so just continue to be friends with both these nice boys and wait till you are older to think about love.

Hopefully yours,

Lettus Fixit

P. S. Besides, Santa Claus shows better profits if you can hold on to more than one prospect until after December 25.

KEITH-CATES

The marriage of Lillian Cates to Bernie Keith '42 was solemnized in Florence, Ala. on October 17, with Brother Franklin T. Puckett officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

Betty Ruth Freeman, of Florence, played the wedding music, while Billy and Geraldine (Petty) Nicks sang. Marlene (Watson) Rowland '42 of Birmingham lighted the candelabras, while Robert Rowland '42 was best man. Lillian was attended by her sister, Hettie Jean, as maid of honor, and was given away by her father, L. V. Cates. She wore a bride's-blue dress and hat, and a white orchid.

The Keiths are residing in Florence, where Lillian is employed at Reynolds Alloys and Bernie is a senior in the State Teachers College.

SPLENDID LETTER FROM COAST GUARD

"I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the November issue of the Sky Rocket. The many pleasant memories it brings of peace and godliness give me strength and hope for the future. To know that there are still people who respect God's Word and who have a true conception of life, gives me more hope for the future.

Until you have seen some of it. I doubt that you fully comprehend the amount of sinful corruption which the war has brought about, therefore cannot appreciate Freed-Hardeman College. The Lord will certainly need men who are skilled with the sword of the spirit in order to curb the growing army of Satan; surely this war has all the evils of former wars plus many new ones. To the students there I would say: now is the time to prepare for the battle which we will have to fight and you haven't a minute to spare.

As for me, the Lord has been very kind. At present I am an instructor in visual communications here in an advanced school for Signalmen and Quartermasters.

It is now two-thirty and I am so sleepy my mind refuses to function; I hope to be back with you before long to take up where I left off.

Sincerely

J. K. Thompson

BRICKBATS

By JOE FOY

Thanksgiving has come and gone at F.H.C. We killed a bird at the White House, and ate it. It's funny, I declare that bird talked as we started after him with the ax. Sounded like: "You can't kill me, I'm your buddy, Sam. You can't kill me ———— awk." (Revenge is so sweet.)

What's the rumor about Nita burning midnight "Erl," preparing for her Chemistry Test?

Along the same time, Alan Bryan was chasing a certain "Jeanius," (Dot "Jeanius").

Everything seems to be just Bonnie for Rotenberry now and John Scott seems to have had his heart Spear(ed), while Owen has his Hart well under control.

We really had a fine program last Tuesday night. Of course,

My business is not to remake myself, but to make the absolute best of what God made. Browning

Lester Littlebrain completely stole the show, and his stooge John Scott, was also good. (I'll bet John thinks I'm kidding!)

But all foolishness aside, when Abie and Joanna looked into each other's eyes and he sang: "Honey I'm in love with you," Miss Fixit nearly swooned in ecstasy. It's been so long, hasn't it, Lettus? Here's hoping it won't be much longer!!

It's apparent that Carroll Lancaster has developed a liking for the population of West Virginia. Now, Carroll, remember your pulse.

"Moses" Chapman seems to have complete disrespect for all photographers. Witness that face she made at the one who took all the F.H.C. pictures. It's cute though!

But there's one rumor I want to substantiate. It is true according to our history books, that three-fourths of the population of Kansas is negro. And, furthermore, such a reliable authority as William Thompson, Jr. has given his word that this is the case.

Just a word about the Shortening Sisters. We can't decide whether to call Willene "Humko"

The thing that always runs smoothly is running down hill.

When a man doesn't care what people think, he has likely reached either the bottom or the top.

SOCIETIES PRESENT PUBLIC PROGRAM

On November 30 the literary societies of F.H.C. presented a variety program for the entertainment of the citizens of Henderson. After Dean Roland announced that this would be a regular quarterly affair in the school year, the Phi Kappa chorus began the program by singing "Greeting Glee" and "Lullaby." After the boys' quartet sang a number, "Please Think of Me" and "White Christmas" were sung by Norma June Smith and Jean Anderson. Pat Hardeman's rendition of "On the Road to Mandalay" was followed by a humorous reading by Owen Freeman.

From the Sigma Rhos the audience heard two quartet numbers, a reading by Becky Parks, entitled "Misunderstood", a poem given by Roy Hearn, and guitar selections by Larry Grounds. From the Alpha Taus, Miriam Leeper played "Kitten on the Keys" after which H. A. Fincher sang "When Big Profundo Sings Low C." James Brasher and Gordon Miller presented a delightful Guitar-Sax duet. Jean Anderson played the "Minute Waltz," followed by a interesting presentation of "Old Man River" by the Alpha Tau Boys' Chorus.

The Philomathean quartet sang three numbers which were very entertaining to the audience. Kathryn Phillips gave a humorous reading and Joy Foy, accompanied by Carrie Neal Foy, played numbers on his saxophone. "Abie" Salter and Joanna McCellan sang "Honey, I'm in Love With You." As the closing number John Scott and Lester Littlebrain carried on a comical dialogue.

Christ walked with men in order to show men how to walk with God.

The way to God is by the road of men. — Sir Edward Arnold.

You can't push yourself ahead by patting yourself on the back.

SPORT SLANTS

By "SHORTY" WATSON

The softball season has finally come to a close and now that the mists and dust of the battles have cleared away, it appears that the Phi Kappas have been able to weather the storm of opposition again. Fighting until the last minute, the Philos finished in second place. The Alpha Taus retained the third slot while the Sigma Rhos settled into fourth place. During the season many hot contests were waged, and the spirit of the societies made them more spectacular than ever. Softball has proven to be one of the favorite sports in F. H. C. and will be resumed next spring.

Touch football also has been dropped for the season, with three teams tied for first place.

Tennis is becoming more and more a favorite among the students. The second concrete court has added greatly to its popularity.

The gym has thrown open its doors for a great year of basketball. Of course everyone is invited out to the gym for basketball.

Come on out and yell for your team. The annual Junior and Senior games have been played and the societies' games will soon be under way. We are all looking forward to a great year of basketball.

On the night of December 6, the college enjoyed viewing a boys' game between two groups selected at random among the basketball players. Again Hall was high man, with 18 points to his credit. Foy was close behind as he sacked up 15 points. Throughout the game the crowd was thrilled by unusual and spectacular plays.

The student body is anxiously awaiting the time for another such game.

SENIORS BEAT JUNIORS IN HOLIDAY GAME

Thanksgiving night found the students gathered in the gym for the annual Junior-Senior basketball game. Instead of having the annual inter-class girls' game we had two inter-society girls' games.

The outcome of the Junior-Senior game was and was not a surprise to some. The Seniors, who won as Juniors in '42, rolled with ease over the Juniors of this year. Both sides showed that F. H. C. has some good talent and we can expect to see some good basketball games this year. The highscoring honor goes to Paul Hall, a Senior. Paul, shooting from every angle of the court, sacked a total of 23 points. The next high-scoring man was Neal Penny, also a Senior, with a total of nine points. High-scorers for the Juniors were Roy Willingham, with 5 points, and Pat Hardeman, with 4.

Seniors:	Juniors:
Powell 4	Willingham 5
Plum	Deming 3
Grounds	Morton 2
Penny 9	Hardeman 4
Ary	Hogland
Hall 23	Brock
Nicks 4	Renshaw 2
	Freeman
Total 40	Total 16

In the girls' games the Sigma Rhos and the Alpha Taus battled to a tie, 4-4.

In the second girls' game, the Philos defeated the Phi Kappas to a tune of 9 to 8. Bertelyn Cagle led the Philos by sacking 7 points. Bonnie Hensley of the Phi Kappas had high scoring honors with a total of 8 points.
