FREED-HARDEMAN COLLEGE, HENDERSON, TENN., MARCH 1944

NUMBER 6

26 GRADUATES IN 1898, 28 FINISH SESSION 1899

Since our last alumni edition, a year ago, we have come in possession of two more treasure programs, those of the commencement exercises of the classes of 1898 and 1899, when the College was known as Georgia Robertson Christian College.

The classes of '98 graduated on Tuesday, July 12, in three meetings, at 10 a. m., 2 and 8 p. m. The Business class, with motto "Omnia vincit labor" was composed of Miss Lorena McCorkle, F. H. Hurst, W. B. Midyett, Hennie Meeks, R. Harris and R. M. Maness.

The Teachers' class, under caption "Not Finished, Only Begun," consisted of Miss Maude McCord, L. Ferguson, S. A. Ward, B. S. Mount, Miss Lou Cox, W. S. Long, R. M. Sheppard, J. S. Sloan, J. R. Smith, Miss Lora McCallum, J. J. Copeland, W. E. South, J. F. Chambers, Floyd T. Karnes, W. A. Hinton, W. G. Davis, Miss Claudie McCord, Miss Evie Dallas, S. Butler, H. G. Mount, L. E. Crutchfield, Miss Susie Perry, Earnest McCallum, O. L. Dobbs, J. A. Dungan, and G. J. Rencher (valedictorian).

The "annual outing" which took place on the preceding Saturday, July 9, was quickly overbalanced by the weighty subjects of the graduating "finals."

Among these were: "There is No Lock, but that a Golden Key Will open It," "From the Lowest Depths There is a Path to the Loftiest Height," "Beauty Without Virtue is Like a Flower Without Fragrance."

The class of '99 was composed of Law, Scientific and Classic groups. The Law class, under the maxim "Let Justice reign, though the Heavens fall," included Edd A. McCann, Bernard S. Mount, Samuel A. Ward, and Neal B. Gardner.

In the Scientific class, which sub-

FACULTY ENTERTAINED

On Tuesday night, February 29, at 7:30, the members of the faculty of Freed-Hardeman College were entertained in the school cafeteria. The one-course supper was served by six college girls under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Travis and consisted of fried oysters, French-fried potatoes, slaw and coffee. The long table was beautifully decorated with blue vases of yellow jasmine.

Bro. Hardeman served as host. There was no planned program and the members of the faculty with their wives and husbands enjoyed an evening of informal conversation. This was the first entertainment of the kind given for the faculty in several years.

Miss Anna K. Gill, Reading, Expression, Art.

Miss Robbie Lou McKee, Librarian.

Alumni Letters Bring Late News

Kippy Reel, now Pharmacist's Mate 2-c, six months absent from the States in the Pacific theatre, writes as of early March, enclosing five dollars for the building fund and the promise to add to it. He also tells us that Lowell Perry received his Ensign commission in late February, and that Fred Parks was expecting to get the same rating as Kippy's the first of this year. Fred is stationed in New Zealand, with about 10 months of foreign duty to his credit.

A letter of Feb. 29, from "a loyal friend, Sgt. Lloyd Leath," expresses thanks for the Sky Rocket. "They certainly do bring back the happy days I spent there." "I would like to hear from some of the students I once knew." His address is Sgt. Lloyd Leath 3413-0522 M. P. Co. (Prov) Camp P-1, Camp Beale, California.

Together with an alumni fund check for ten dollars, we received the following Cummins news: Lucinda (Mrs. Josiah Darnall '39) is the mother of a son, John Joel, born Nov. 22, 1943. Mary Sue '40 is teaching in Tucson, Ariz., having received her M. A. at Peabody College, 1943.

The Associated Press on March 4 announced the return of Kerby Farrell '35 to the Boston Braves, (Continued on page 2)

F. H. C. Alumni have as usual a good many children, nieces, nephews and cousins enrolled in the College this year. They are tied just a little tighter to us by virtue of this relationship.

There are 19 sons and daughters of alumni, 3 of whom have two alumni parents, namely, Ettie Spears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Spears '38 of Dyersburg, Tenn.; Pat Hardeman, son of John and Celeste (Patterson) Hardeman '20 of Mayfield, Ky.; and Joe Hardeman Foy, son of C. M. and Carrie Neal (Hardeman) Foy '25 of Henderson. The other 16 are Eleanor Dodds, daughter of John S. Dodds, Louise Cagle, daughter of E. J. (Eddie) Cagle '20 of Jackson, Tenn.; Bertelyn Cagle, daughter of Bert Cagle '25, of Camden, Tenn.; Evelyn Wilson, daughter of D. E. Wilson '14 of Ft. Worth; LaVera Midyett, daughter of Nina Capps Midyett '15 (deceased); Juanita Pollock, daughter of Felix F. Pollock '12 of Hohenwald, Tenn.; Marie Luttrell, daughter of L. L. Luttrell '03, of Middleton, Tenn.; Christeva Moody, daughter of W. A. Moody '20 of Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; Frances Green, daughter of Elmer Green, '23 and '31 of Waverly, Tenn.; Kathleen Johnson daughter of Lucile McKenzie Johnson '19, of Corinth, Miss.; Nancy Coplin, daughter of Elna Welch Coplin, '16, of Jackson, Tenn.; Mary Nelle Harper, daughter of E. R. Harper '25, of Little Rock, Ark.; Lois Conder, daughter of Oscar E. Conder '15 of Enville, Tenn.; Wallace E. Foy, son of Oscar Foy, '01, of Henderson; Lillie Mae Taylor, daughter of D. Olin Taylor '20, of Orlando, Fla.; and Marjorie Nelle White, daughter of Ruby Dunagan White (deceased) '21.

"Little" brothers and sisters and the names they recall are: Bill Thompson, Wallace ('37) and Le Roy ('41) Thompson, Marie Luttrell, Mamie ('36) and Louise ('38) Luttrell; Morgan Buffington, Clarence ('38) and Eloise ('41) Buffington; Elmo Hazelwood, Forrest and Nellie Johnson ('41); Joanna McClellan, Billie ('41) and Edna ('42) McClellan; Jean L. Anderson; Barry Anderson '43; Irene Gibson, Arlie Gibson '43; Bonnie Hatter, Novella Hatter '43; Dorothy Jean Mauldin, Fay Mauldin Boone and Nelms Boone, '42; Kitty Lowe '43; Freda Jones, Lewis Jones '40; (Continued on page 2)

On March 25 and 29, 1919, about a hundred brethren assembled in Henderson from 6 or 7 states and more than 40 congregations. At this time they formally purchased the college from A. G. Freed and N. B. Hardeman for $30,000, and the name National Teachers' Normal and Business College was changed to Freed-Hardeman College.

The minutes of this meeting and all others during the succeeding quarter-century have been an open book, picturing frankly the business life of the college. The secretary's book is a most interesting document, with a fascination especially for those who have seen the changes and development of the school. And yet it carries a hint of heartbreak, as one reads its pages and recognizes the struggles, the hardships, the times when nothing but the courage of N. B. Hardeman kept it going. It tells of sleepless nights and days distraught with the worry of making payments, of making improvements, with too little resources. But it is also a triumph for the faith and generosity of a few men who have long labored for the college, who have given freely of time and money, according to their ability.

The first Board of Trustees was composed of Brethren W. M. B. Cox, President, L. A. Winstead, Vice-President, and J. C. Hardeman, Secretary-Treasurer, W. E. Warren and R. G. Watson.

In May, 1920, the Board first took active part in selecting faculty as follows: A. G. Freed, N. B. Hardeman, W. H. Owen, L. L. Brigance, Freed Blanchard, Miss Mabel Warren, Miss Lula Allen, Miss Aubrey Wilkinson, W. E. Morgan, Miss Clarabel Reynolds, Miss Eddie Bondurant, Mrs. Ann Ward.

Brother James T. Anderson, Hurricane Mills, Tenn., was one of the earliest and most liberal donors to F. H. C., at one time lending the school $12,000 without interest. Other heavy donors have been Brother N. B. Hardeman, who (with Sister Hardeman) gave his share, $15,000, of the purchase price which the Board agreed to pay him and Bro. Freed; Brother J. W. Brooks, of Athens, Ala., who with Sister Brooks, in the early thirties gave valuable farm lands, which upon sale to T. V. A. cleared the indebtedness of Freed-Hardeman in 1938; Brother and Sister J. W. Akin with their gift of the cafeteria system in 1938, and the continuous gift of the Akin Scholarship; and Brother R. W. Comer, with his 1943 gift of "Comerfarm" and other exceedingly great favors.

For long and faithful service of the Board of Trustees, we honor

SENIORS BANQUET TWENTY YEARS

March 18 marks the 20th anniversary of the first Junior-Senior banquet, which was a four-course dinner at Woodward Hotel. Ben McCann of the Juniors (died 1930) was toastmaster and responses were made by Brother Roland, Senior Knox Summitt, Juniors Dorsey Hardeman and Kathryn Humphreys (died 1943), and by Worth Powers, only outside guest.

After the dinner, the banqueters went to the home of Ben McCann, where popcorn, toasted marshmallows, and fruit before the open fire made an unforgettable occasion.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Roland, Mary Elizabeth Jones, Knox Summitt, Brooksie Atkison, Houston Biggerstaff, Gwendolyn Humphreys, Tolbert Kennedy, Irene Anderson, Albright Goodgion Kathryn Humphreys, Dorsey Hardeman, Mary Campbell, Ben McCann, Pearl Winstead, Sidney Campbell, Mary Nell Hardeman, Worth Powers.

WORTH A. HINTON

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Worth Hinton, of Corinth, Miss. He is mentioned elsewhere in this issue as a member of the Teachers' Class of 1898, and the Scientific Class of 1899, and is well remembered by his classmates.

A MONKEY'S VIEWPOINT

(This ode was composed after the last International Convention of United Simians)

Three monkeys sat in a cocoanut tree,
Discussing things as they're said to be.
Said one to the others: "Now listen you two;
There's a certain rumor that can't be true;
That man descends from our Noble Race.
The very idea! It's a dire disgrace!
No monkey ever deserted his wife,
Starved her baby and ruined her life.
And you've never known a mother monk
To leave the babies with others to bunk;
Till they scarcely knew who is their mother.
And another thing; you'll never see,
A monk build a fence 'round a cocoanut tree
And let the cocoanuts go to waste,
Forbidding all other monks a taste.
Why, if I'd put a fence around this tree
Starvation would force you to steal from me.
Here's another thing a monk won't do;
Go out at night and get on a stew;
Or use a gun or club or knife
To take some other monkey's life."
"Yes, Man descended, the onery cuss,
But brother, he didn't descend from us!"

The above clipping was read by Bro. Hardeman to his Special Class. The class requested copies so we are taking the liberty to publish it in the Sky-Rocket, not knowing where to give credit.)

PREACHER PARAGRAPHS

"Mend your speech a little, lest it mar your fortune," was the keynote of a speech by John Renshaw at the last meeting of the Preachers' Club. In it he called attention to the numerous idle words and phrases which punctuate conversations heard here and everywhere else. Such expressions, he pointed out, not matter how thoughtlessly uttered, sound incongruous and even vulgar in such an atmosphere as that which surrounds us. They bespeak a woefully meager vocabulary, and often bear suggestions of the basest sort.

Other speakers at recent sessions include: E. W. Guthrie, A. L. Altizer, Robert Casey, Billy Bryant, Winford Claiborne, Eugene Sofford, James C. Noblitt, Paul Rotenberry, and Bill Goss.

One entire session was devoted to a discussion of the proposition, "The Bible teaches: that in conviction and conversion, the Holy Spirit exercises a direct influence upon the sinner's heart." Joy Foy affirmed, and Harold F. Sharp denied.

Since last reported, preachers from the college have filled the following appointments: C. M. Allen, Sugar Grove, New Hope, and Bemis, Tenn.; W. R. Murray: Refuge and Cairo, Tenn.; Arthur White: Harmony, Tenn.; John Renshaw: Nashville and Dover, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala.; John Wheeler: Fulton, Pontotoc, and Steens, Miss.; Vernon and Millport, Ala.; Charles Plum: Meropolis and Mt. Pleasant, Ill.; J. C. Townsend: St. Elmo, Ill., Folsdale, Ky., and Cloverdale, Tenn.; Ward Hogland: Florence, and Phil Campbell, Ala., and St. Elmo, Ill.; Frank Farris: Eldridge and Tidwell Chapel, Ala.; Lowell Clark: Chapel Hill, Mt. Zion, Valdosta, and Red Rock, Ala.; Bert Brown: Mt. Zion, Tenn., and Jacinto, Miss.

Any occupation which places one before the public is likely to yield its embarrassing moments. Preaching seems especially fraught with circumstances of this sort, and a preacher of only moderate experience can usually relate a number of disconcerting incidents. To this Roy Hearn can abundantly testify—witness a recent Sunday appointment. On this occasion he was confronted with the necessity of delivering in twenty-five minutes a sermon originally prepared for fifty. He proceeded with great haste, expounding vigorously his chosen theme. All went well, and he attempted to quote from a prophet Joel. By a peculiar twist of the tongue, due to the rapidity of his speech, the quotation began after this fashion: "The Proel Jophet said...er, beg pardon, the Jophet Proel." after which linguistic contortion, for about five minutes a period of happy good fellowship was enjoyed by the congregation. Perhaps Brother Hearn is more widely read in the prophets than most of us.

SCIENCE CLUB

At the meeting of the Science Club on February 10, Bro. Witt spoke about "Smokeless Powder." He not only told us how it was made and used, but he showed us samples of it. Joe Foy made a speech on "Astronomy" and Roy Hearn enlightened us concerning "Evolution."

At the meeting, February 24, the club was entertained by speeches on "More Power to the South" by B. C. Morton and "Extraction of Gasoline" by Roy Willingham. At this meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing six-weeks: J. C. Townsend, Roy Willingham, Dot Jean Kesler, Lu Evelyn Patten. After the meeting Brother Witt showed us some of the moons of Saturn by means of the school telescope.

A. C. E.

The A. C. E. Club met at Mrs. Foy's home on Feb. 18. There were four interesting talks made. Reba Hart spoke on "Today's Problems-Tomorrow's Citizenship." "Questions asked by Six-Year-Olds" was discussed by Dot Jean Kesler, "Scientific Interests of Children" by Stella Haun, and "Curiosity In Action" by Eleanor Dodds.

The club did not meet March 4 because of examinations.

scribed to the motto "The Die Is Cast," Miss Joe Kendall Tabler (Mrs. N. B. Hardeman) gave the salutatory address, "He Can't Be Wrong Whose Life is in the Right," followed by Misses Mamie Belle Pratt, Mellie Elizabeth Welborn, Mamie Ella Perkins, Susie Mai Perry, Ellie Iola Russell, Florida Mattie Henderson, Ivy Stubblefield, Corday Jarmie Revelle, Hattie May Crook, Ethel L. Anderson, Winnie Mai McCorkle, and Messrs Andrew Printez Johnson, James Herbert Scott, Henry Booker Nance, Lucius Egbert Crutchfield, Worth Alonzo Hinton, and Luther Ferguson, while William Osborne Wagoner brought up the valedictory speech, "A Retrospect."

The five members of the Class of '24 were: Kate Alma Terry—"Life's Object"; William Edward Clemmer—"The Court of Conscience"; Lelia Lambeth Jerman—"Utopia"; Oscar Mansel Hinton—"Sixty Centuries are Looking Down Upon Us" and N. B. Hardeman—"Standing on the Threshold" valedictory.

The class address for the graduates of June 7-8, 1899 was given by H. C. Calhoun.

as first baseman. Last season he played in 85 games and batted .268. His home is Henderson, but he, and Mrs. Farrell (Nell Ledbetter '30) have spent the winter in Erie, Penn.

A letter from Ruth Tucker Linscott tells of the marriage of Dorris Champion '42 to a boy from Pennsylvania, nearly a year ago, of Gordon's being "across in the service, of the new baby of Hubert '41 and Betty (Norman '42) Hall, and of Ruth's proposed visit to the campus at Easter.

A most interesting letter from Roy and Sue (Oliver) Wilson '41 tells of their housekeeping in McGrath, Alaska. "A small community of about 50 whites, 50 natives and a small military post. Sue happens to be the 12th white woman living here." "My only mishap occurred on the day we arrived. The temperature was 45° below zero and I froze my nose slightly while walking about 300 yards from the plane to our house." Roy is an employe of the weather station in McGrath, and he and Sue are delighted with the 4-room bungalow furnished them by the government.

Lt. Neil Anderson '35 has completed his 50th aerial mission in the Italian theatre and has hopes of an early return to the States.

Raymond Henson '36 has been made Supervisor of Analytic Position Classification for the Civil Service in 6 states, with headquarters in Atlanta.

Homer Shodgrass '26, recently graduated from a course in Ithaca, N. Y. to become an Ensign in the Navy.

A backward glance at our alumni files shows the graduating class of ten years ago to have included the following: Josephine Anderson, Mrs. Lena Wallace, James Falkner, Loraine Bishop, Kate Burkhead, Natalie Johnson, Clovis Munn, Faye S. Meek (deceased) Dorothy Thrash, Ray Jordan, Naomi Todd, Loraine Gage, Jere Galbraith, Annette Haynes, Ray Hankins, Waldrep Johnson, Sarah Anne Sharp, Frank Walker Romine, Fred Walker, Hazel and Willie Bradfield, Mayme Chambers, James King, Jasper H. Rainey, Lucy Byrd Smith, Luther Bradfield.

The class of '24 was a small one, the first college class to graduate under State accrediting. It consisted of Mary Elizabeth Jones, Mary Sue Campbell, Mary Nelle Hardeman, Sid Campbell, Knox Summitt.

The class of '14 shows some interesting names, among them T. H. Etheridge, Ridley Derryberry, Willie Suggs, Mary Barton, H. M. Phillips, C. L. Wilkerson, Hamilton Sellers, J. P. Lowery, W. E. Brightwell, Herbert Sudbury, Margaret Atwood, Ruth Bradford, Cecil and Nona Lowder, T. W. Croom, Lady Grace Lowry, Nobie Cook, Tolbert McHenry, Pervie Ashmore, Vera and Grace Martin, Sarah Scribner, Ruth Hartley, Vaughan McKee, Johnnie Gibson

BRICKBATS

By JOE FOY

With the advent of spring, it seems almost as though some magic hand has touched the pallid corpse of Romance and imparted the gift of life. For Romance lives again. Birds are singing, trees are becoming green, and the skies once more are blue. And don't look now, but Clinton Hamilton's getting that gleam in his eye again. Was that number 31 last night, Clinton?

Of course, we mustn't overlook our editor. We hardly know what to say about Bryan, however. He's a bad boy. What could you say about anybody who would force a girl to meet him in Jackson? Nevertheless, I've noticed "convicts" Bryan, Willingham, Kesler, and Sanders making heavy on the stationery these last two weeks. And I thought love letters went out with Pickup!!!!

There're even making things permanent--those courting couples, I mean. (The above quit courting at someone's suggestion.)

Take, for example, Holbert Rideout. He and the jeweler have "done all things decently and in order", and the gleam on Stella's finger just exactly matches the gleam in Holbert's eye.

This one will slay you. Nick (little cousin) was looking through my "Dead Men Tell Tales", saw a picture of a mummy, and got scared. Sounds a bit like Roy Willingham, who found out some interesting facts about Indiana's womenfolk and came home frightened nigh unto death. The way I heard it, Roy was in an elevator with her, and---- Well, ask him about it---my typewriter's blushing.

But what about the anonymous girl who visited Fort McClellan over the weekend and couldn't get away. Charm's a good thing to have, sometimes, but other times it gets out of hand. They just wouldn't let her go!

Speaking of weekend trips, I'm glad to see that Greena and Correena stayed with us for once. Tell me, Frances, what is this about the Southern Hotel and hamburgers?

Paul Rotenberry's a great admirer of Abraham Lincoln. "Abraham Lincoln," says Paul, "was born in a log cabin which he built with his own hands".

Did you know that we have two budding geniuses at Freed-Hardeman? Earle West and Stanley Ash have been experimenting with explosives, and nearly joined the ranks of the immortals with Louis Pasteur. Pasteur's dead, you know. They discovered this important fact, however: Dynamite only works once.

Campaign of the month: I do wish that Bill Seaman would quit running over people, especially me, in the halls. I think he ought to let Joanna and Bobbie have that seat at the front in History class, too.

John Scott has blossomed out as a Casanova. Not only Jo, but Norma June as well. It's a pity, too, because they used to be such good girls. Now "Kansas" can't study nights after eating supper with John.

A new student has arrived on the campus, and immediately look to the girls in a manner that would become a Scott, or a Hamilton. Jean Anderson doesn't seem to mind a bit, either.

Would you call what's going on between Brasher and Mary Lou an alternating current? They can't seem to make up their minds. But Mary Lou can still talk. That's in her favor.

SPORT SLANTS

Tuesday night, March 7, F.H.C. boys traveled to Finger and repeated a victory over this team. The final score stood 45 to 29 with Hall having 20 points to his credit.

Monday night, March 13, saw the close of the basketball season with the Phi Kappa boys winning over an All-Star team by the score of 25-17. Paul Hall was high-point man in this game, which was played after the Phi Kappas had won the championship in regular play. With Nica Mitchell scoring seven points, the Phi Kappa girls defeated the Philo girls, 8-4, thereby breaking a tie for first place and taking the championship.

Brother and Sister G. G. Henry of San Antonio visited daughters, Willene and Mary Helen and their F. H. C. friends for several days the middle of March.

Robert Darnall, Glenn Hargett, and Lowell Clark spent the week-end of February 18 at their respective homes.

Stella Haun and Gaynell Barker were guests of Eleanor Dodds at her home in Newbern on February 20.

Captain Charles P. Roland was here February 20 and S 2-C Mack Roland arrived February 24 for a short visit. They were home on account of the illness of their mother.

Jean Wylie and Mrs. Oscar Foy spent the week-end of February 26 visiting Pats Wallace Foy, who is stationed in Springfield, Missouri.

Joanna McClellan was called home Sunday February 27 because of the death of her father, Bro. C. B. McClellan of Lepanto, Arkansas.

Alma Foster was surprised February 12 by the arrival of her sister Sarah and cousin Jewell, who spent the week-end with Alma.

Roy Webb '43, now in the U. S. Navy, was here February 25 and 26 renewing old school acquaintances. He brought along his sister, Clara.

Doris June Hardin spent the week-end of February 18 at her home, while Iretta Bailey journeyed to Lepanto for a visit with home folks the week-end of February 25.

Iris Sneathen traveled with Garvin Smith to Murray, Kentucky, March 4, where she spent the week-end visiting the Smith family.

Mary Gardner, Frances Green, Corinne Brothers, Francine Cooke, Rachel Leath, Sue Nash, Bessie L. Williams, Loretta Engel, Martha Stanford, Madie B. Wood, Arcilla Jordan, Eleanor Dodds, Floy Poston, Nancy Coplin, Louise Cagle, Bertelyn Cagle, Kathleen Johnson, Demetria Hopper, Lavera Midyett, Pearl Gibbons, Mary Lou Freeman and Delorese Tatum all went home for the week-end between quarters, March 4-7.

Marjorie White was called home to Louisville, Kentucky, on February 26 on account of the illness of her father. We are sorry to know

GIRLS WORE UNIFORM IN SESSIONS 1919-21

The July bulletin of F. H. C. says: "As a matter of economy and to prevent distinction, all the girls will be required to get uniforms and to wear them on public occasions and on the streets in the city." "The uniform will consist of a tailor-made suit and hat--the same style and color of uniform used last year--."

Another item of dress was: "It is our firm belief that French heels are a positive injury to health and we would prefer to see our girls leave them alone. --We are not going to say that you cannot wear high heels, but we are going to say that you must wear rubber heels."

The general principle was as follows: "Freed-Hardeman College is not a society school. It is not a fashionable resort where the elite gather to learn and practice the latest fads and fancies of 'society.' The work which this school is trying to do is not a pink-tea affair. We are not spending our lives in the schoolroom to teach young people how to dance, play forty-four, nor serve frappe."

We have some very serious business to transact while these few years are rushing by, and we must be in a hurry about it. There's no time to waste."
