NUMBER 7

Bro. Hardeman In Kansas City Meeting April 2-9

Brother Hardeman spent the week of April 2-9 in Kansas City, Missouri, in a meeting with the congregation at 39th. Street and Flora. This is the home church of Brother G. K. Wallace, who, with Sister Wallace, was Brother Hardeman's host. The audiences and interest were splendid. An unusual feature of the meeting was the Sunday contributions, which jumped from $230 the first Lord's Day to $1655 the second. The explanation is that the congregation decided to pay off its last indebtedness, $1800, by the time the meeting closed, and several months ahead of its obligation.

JONES, FALKNER WIN TOP HONORS

Nell Jones, James Falkner, and Earle West were announced to be Valedictorian, Salutarian, and Historian, respectively, of this year's graduation class. The registrar announced that these three were followed by Roy Hearn, John Falkner, and Olin Hastings. These six students are due high honors for their scholastic attainments during their two-years stay at Freed-Hardeman.

SOLDIER NEWS

A recent letter from J. W. Man-kins '42 tells most interestingly of his duties at the Anzio Beach-head in the current Italian campaign.

Ladelle Armour, now Seaman first class in Radio operation and located in New Caledonia, writes in his thanks, on April 12, for the Sky Rocket, which, he said, was a small travelog, having followed him to his former station in Connecticut, then to New York, to California, thence to New Caledonia.

Joe Hardeman Foy and Paul Wiedenhaefer went to Memphis on April 19 to be inducted into the Naval Reserve under the V-12 program. They had passed the mental examination given in March and the physical examination and interview on April 14, and are subject to call, though both are continuing their classes.

Joe Rainey '26 has recently finished a training session at Aberdeen, Md. and is being transferred to Camp Rucker, Ala.

Lt. James M. Horton '33 is now Motor Transport Officer for his regiment, located in the South Pacific.

Natalie Powers left school late in March to join the Cadet Nurses Corps and is now in training with that group at the University of Tennessee at Memphis.

Debate Finals

On Monday night, March 27, a debate was held between the Alpha Tau Lambda Society, represented by John Scott and Don Taylor, and the Philomathean Society, represented by Bill Thompson and Joe Foy. This climaxed a series of debates that had been held between the societies. The question affirmed by the Alpha Taus and denied by the Philos was: Resolved, the United Nations should establish a permanent federal union with power to tax and regulate commerce; settle international disputes and enforce such settlements; maintain a police force; and provide for admittance of other nations when they accept the principles of the union.

Although no decision was rendered, much interest was manifested, and a spirit of friendly rivalry was maintained throughout. Many interesting points were brought out and the audience as well as the participants gained further knowledge on current affairs.

F. H. C. ALUMNI IN PECOS VALLEY

A letter in March from Stanley J. Lovett, '37 (husband of Sarah Elizabeth Foy Lovett '38 and father of Sarah Elma and Susan Ann), to Brother Hardeman has some interesting information:

"I hope you are in good health and that the work of the school is continuing in a good way. With the passing of time I realize more fully the great benefit I received from Freed-Hardeman College and, especially your teaching. It occurred to me the other day that we have about five preachers here in the Pecos Valley region who attended Freed-Hardeman College, Ernest West, Ft. Stockton, Texas; myself, here; James Willeford, Carlsbad, N. M.; Robert Waller, Artesia, N. M.; and John R. Fulmer, Hobbs, N. M. We are all doing well at this time. The church work is growing. It is small here but very active. My health has improved in a wonderful way out here."

Wayne Poucher '42 has recently come from Roanoke, Va., to locate with the Lepanto, Ark., congregation. He is also doing some announcing with Radio Station WMPS in Memphis.

Burl Grubb '42 is living in Maryville, Tenn., and preaching for the church there.

Joe May '42 and Johnnie Moore '43 are in San Diego, at the Naval Base.

Homemakers Go "Irish"

The members of the Homemakers Club and their masculine guests enjoyed an evening of fun in the Home-Economics room Monday night, March 20. At 7:30 the party began, and to fulfill the demands of Emily Post regarding a Backward Party and also to "fill full" the undernourished gentlemen who attended for the sake of the food (shame, shame!) the refreshments were served first. Sandwiches cut in the shape of a shamrock, and cookies decorated in the only manner possible for those who are truly Irish with bright Kelly Green icing and little green mints accompanied by potato chips certainly served the purpose of "breaking the ice". Ice cold cokes added that certain touch (thanks to Coach).

After acquiring such a supply of vitamins (just ask Mrs. Finley) everyone was ready to forget his books that lay so temptingly untouched and play some games. The Home-Economics room had been decorated with green and the lights, shaded with green crepe-paper, cast a soft glow on the tables holding games of all types, checkers for those who "want to be alone" and more exciting ones for the more vigorous. Ping-pong was the center of interest and started some very interesting arguments. After a much too brief evening of play, Mrs. Finley suggested that the boys go home, which they did, with reluctance.

ALUM AIRMAN TELLS WAR EXPERIENCES

On April 7, the chapel audience was privileged to hear a talk by Lt. Neil Anderson '35, recently returned from the Mediterranean theater of war. Having seen action in that area since February of 1943 and having completed more than 50 missions, was allowed to return home for a short visit.

Lt. Anderson told the audience of the trip that took him from this country across the Caribbean to South America, then across to West Africa and finally to Tunisia. Such places as Puerto Rico, Trinidad, Natal, and Dakar, were visited on the flight and many interesting happenings occurred at each place.

Lt. Anderson is a brother of Miss Pauline Anderson of our Commercial Department.

CO-ED LOSES FATHER

LaVera Midyett was called to her home on April 4, due to the sudden death of her father, J. W. Midyett. Her mother, the former Miss Nina Capps, a Freed-Hardeman alumna, died when LaVera was small. Every body in F.H.C. extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

FOUR FORMER MEMBERS FOLLOWED BY SONS

Alumni Weddings

DEAVERS HAVE SON

Five alumni have participated in four recent weddings, while Roy Hardeman arrived on March 17 to make his home with Roy C. and Wilma Deaver, both '43.

In March, Lloyd R. Armour '40, of Humboldt, Tenn., was married to Genrose Lain. Lloyd came here from Paragould, Ark., was afterward employed by Armour Packing Co., at St. Louis, and is now a master technical sergeant in Marine Corps Aviation.

On April 6, Juanita Stewart '40 became the bride of Private Kelsay Lawson, of Henderson, in Corinth, Miss. She was wearing a suit of French blue, with pink roses. The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Manson Roby (Evelyn Stewart '37). Juanita will keep on with her position as assistant cashier of First State Bank at Henderson.

Marjorie Conyers '40 was married to Lt. Joe Pierce Van Dyke '40 at the Henderson Methodist Church on the afternoon of April 18. The bride wore white organza and lace, with short veil and carried orchids and valley lilies. Her feminine attendants were attired in white and carried red roses. Among them was Mrs. James Goodwin (Martha Criner Tillman '41). Joe Pierce is now stationed at Ft. Custer, Mich. Marjorie has been a member of the Chester County High School faculty the past year.

On April 25, Sidney G. Roper '43 and Bonnie Sue Chandler were married in the College Church at Searcy, Arkansas. Sidney was an outstanding member of the Akin Boys from 1941 to 1943, and is a promising young preacher.

EASTER SUNDAY BRINGS GUESTS

The week-end of April 8, brought a number of welcome guests to the campus. Among them were Eural Williams '26 and son Joe, of Vina, Ala.; Private Elmer Simmons '39 and Nina Ruth Howell Simmons '39, now of El Paso, Tex.; Lt. Neil Anderson, lately of the Mediterranean Theater of war; Ruth Tucker Linscott '42 and Joan Eason '43, now of Milan, Tenn.; Arlie Gibson '43, of Enville, Tenn.; Myrtle Butler '43, of Collinwood, Tenn.; Betty Ann Miller, of Vienna W. Va., Co-editor of Sky-Rocket and "most Representative Girl" of '43; and Brother and Sister W. R. Peters, Florala, Ala. and Doris Buffington, of Montgomery.

At the meeting of the College Board of Trustees on April 14, five new members were chosen. They are: Brethren Fike, of Jasper, Ala.; Paul Randolph '28, of Bandana, Ky.; Kay Edwards, of Jackson, Tenn.; R. O. Downey of Lawrenceburg, Tenn.; and Robert D. Hardeman '15 of Henderson.

A report as to the condition of the school, with reference to personnel and financial management, was made by President N. B. Hardeman. He stated that all obligations will be met by the end of the school year in May.

The Board agreed that prospects for the College's enlargement have never been greater. All are anxious to get the building program under way and purpose to do so at the first opportunity.

There are now four members of the Trustees who are following in their fathers' footsteps. Brother John Anderson of Sycamore Landing, Tenn., replaced Brother James T. Anderson on the death of the latter in 1925; a few years later Brother John Leathers of Dickson, Tenn., took the place of Brother A. H. Leathers, Sr.; Brother Horace Warren '21 became a Trustee after the passing of Brother Walter Warren, one of the original Board; and now Brother Robert Hardeman takes up the work of his father, Brother J. G. Hardeman, who died in December 1943.

GYM BUFFET SUPPER

Easter week-end brought a group of visitors to the campus and a general feeling of spring gaiety.

On Saturday night, April 8, a delicious supper was served by Miss Mary and members of the faculty in the gym to the student body.

Following an hour of conversation while enjoying the food, Bro. Witt directed two games, "ring-around-the-rosy" and "house-on-the-hill", which proved to all that the days of childhood weren't completely in the past. Society volleyball games filled the remaining hours with fun and excitement.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Interest in tennis has been heightened with the inauguration of a tournament. With five separate entries, boy's singles, girl's singles, boy's doubles, girl's doubles, and mixed doubles, the number participating will most likely be high. All interested in tennis are looking forward to the outcome of the respective matches.

CULTIVATION

This is the time of year that the soil is being prepared for the seed. The farmer chooses the proper seed after seeing that the soil is in readiness. The seed must be the kind that will bring fruit most abundantly. After the seed is planted and the plant begins to grow, the farmer has to give careful attention to his crop. We call this cultivation, and finally a bounteous harvest is obtained.

Cultivation is a term that can be applied not only to farming, but to other things as well. "We sow a thought-reap an act; sow an act, reap a habit; sow a habit, reap a character; sow a character and reap a destiny." The only way to instill desirable traits in our life is to sow those traits. Our hearts must be prepared with a desire for self-improvement. We must sow the right kind of seed. Above all, we must carry out the process of cultivation. Each day we must strive harder to cultivate within ourselves traits that are fine, noble and above all, those of Christianity. It is a day-in-and-day-out process but the fruits are rich to those who cultivate well.

DO YOU SWEAR?

"We are indebted to Bro. A. A. Phillips for the following article which was written by Alexander Campbell while a young man twenty-one years of age."

"When I am addressing you on this subject, I would also make a few observations on another more fashionable vice among our young fops (I cannot call them gentlemen), who are guilty of this horrid vice: I mean, swearing in company with ladies and persons of a moral reputation, to whom this vice is most offensive and abominable. I say, I cannot call swearers gentlemen, however else qualified; for, says a judicious writer, with whom I precisely agree in this sentiment, 'Those who addict themselves to swearing and interlard their discourse with oaths, can never be considered as gentlemen; they are generally persons of low education and are unwelcome in what is called good company. It is a vice that has no temptation to plead, but is, in every respect as vulgar as it is wicked.' Of all the vices which have ever disgraced human nature; of all the extremes of madness and folly to which mankind has ever run; of all irreverent, irreligious deeds which have ever blackened human character, there is none more horrid, flagrant or profane; none so presumptuous, arrogant and irreverent, as carelessly, heedlessly and impiously to invoke the sacred name of Him whom angels worship, saints adore, and before whom devils and wicked men shall tremble with horror, anguish and dismay-to invoke the sacred majesty of heaven on every light, frivolous and wicked occasion to call God to witness every lewd, base, mean or trivial action they perform or perpetrate; and, still worse, to supplicate that pure and righteous being to damn, curse or punish a fellow-creature, a fellow-immortal, or, it may be, some brute or inanimate thing.

And what renders this vice most oppressive to them who are provoked at it, is, that our profligate, immoral beaux make it the point to swear the harder if there be any pious persons or ladies in company, thinking to mortify the former and expecting to commend their gallantry to the latter. Be assured, ye detestable wretches, that this vice is as degrading to yourself as it is hateful to others; and there is not a lady who possesses a spark of virtue but that will shun and detest your company. Besides, to call God to witness the truth of what you say, implies that you suppose the person whom you address believes you a liar, and will not, without a volley of oaths, put confidence in what you say. If you wish to be believed, your understanding is horribly misguided if you expect to induce a belief by crowning your assertion with an oath. This certainly creates a suspicion in the mind of the person whom you address that the thing is untrue. In short, I know of no reason for or temptation to this vice, above all the vices prevalent in the world. Ask a man why he swears, he tells you it is a bad custom he has learned; he cannot quit it. Experience sufficiently proves that it is in the power of any person who makes the attempt to quit it over, only let him be determined and watchful."

PREACHER PARAGRAPHS

After just four more meetings of the Preachers' Club, over half a hundred young men will bid good-bye to the halls of F. H. C. and depart in the directions of the "four corners", with hearts set on the duties of the summer. On Friday, April 14, Chapel Hall was honored with the presence of men (and women) here for the Trustee Meeting upon whose faces Father Time has left the sign of his passing and in whose minds wisdom has made a home as a result of experience. From their lips came priceless and loving advice. They hold in their hearts the cause of Christ, and emphasized the necessity of gaining knowledge. They spoke not as one wishing to re-enter the Elysium of Youth, but as father to son, age to youth, experience to inexperience. The sight of the hoary heads of those who have for long years kept the Gospel Banner unfurled and waving proudly in the face of opposition should give us renewed strength and zeal. Let us hear their challenge as Paul's: "Timothy, I'm getting old and have not long to tarry. I have successfully fought the battle of faith and shall be rewarded for it, but someone must take my place and carry on. Hence, take up that Glorious Banner; wave it high; do not allow it to be down-trodden under the foot of error. Yes, Son, it's in thy hands . . . shew thyself a man!"

Because of lack of knowledge on the part of many in regard to the song service in worship, the Preachers' Club recently presented a chapel program in which several songs were sung and their histories given. It was emphasized that we must not neglect God's will by careless singing but sing "with the spirit and understanding, making melody in our hearts to the Lord!"

The current summary of preaching appointments is as follows: Willard Reel: Goodhope, Tenn.; Quentin McKay: Decatur, Greenbrier, Ala.; Lonnie Polk: Big Buck, Tenn.; Holbert Rideout: Cairo, Tenn.; St. Louis, Okla.; Delton Haun: Asher, Okla.; Bill Bryant: Palestine, Humphrey, Ark.; Robert Ewell: St. Elmo, Ill.; Robert Casey: Sweetlips, Tenn.; Robert Darnall: West Memphis, Gadsden, Tenn.; Glenn E. Hargett: Leighton, Ala.; Winford Claiborne: Macedonia, Cuba, Ky.; H. F. Sharp: Little Rock, Stuttgart, Ark.

Almost everyone has his embarrassing moments, and Bill Goss is no exception. Some time ago Orbra Johns and Bill decided they would swap appointments one Lord's Day in order to give both the brethren and themselves a change. Before beginning his sermon, Bill gave the "usual" remarks about 'how glad he was to be there', and that 'he was sure that the change would be beneficial for everyone concerned.' After services, however, he found himself without anything "fittin' to say" when an elderly lady boldly confronted him and declared, 'We've been cheated!' Did Orbra do as well?

H. A. F.

A. C. E.

Guest speaker for the A. C. E. meeting March 17 was Mrs. Annie Davidson of Henderson. Her subject was Juvenile Delinquency. A round-table discussion on its causes and cure followed. Gerry Nicks sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Each member brought a guest to this meeting, and Mrs. Petty of Parkersburg, West Virginia, was also a visitor. The hostess, Mrs. Foy, served cookies and punch.

At the meeting March 31 a program on "Things a Teacher Should Do" was given with Ruby Nell Woods and Evelyn Goodrum making talks. Mary Nell Harper read "Little Boy Blue" and Ettie Spears brought laughter with a humorous reading. Mrs. Billy Nicks was presented linen towels as a farewell gift from the club.

PHI KAPPA ALPHA

Our chapel program presented in March was one that appealed to all—a side show. Many monstrous beings were presented by the barker, Bill Goss. Among the freaks were the midgets, the fat lady with the wild woman, the bearded lady, and the skinny man.

We regret losing one of our best members, Wayne Hammontree, and are glad to hear that he is recuperating splendidly.

It seems that both the Phi Kappa girls' and boys' softball teams have a fine start for the spring season.

HOMEMAKERS

The Home Economics department, decorated in green and white, and carrying out an Irish motif, was the setting for the "backward" party for the Homemakers and their guests on the night of March 20.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies shaped like shamrocks, candy, and coca-colas were served as soon as the guests arrived.

Games such as ping pong, bingo, checkers, and puzzles were played throughout the evening.

Fourteen members were present at the last meeting, the program being as follows:

The Cooking of Hot Cereals . . . Frances Green
Serving Ready-to-eat Cereal . . . Alma Foster
Patriotic Wartime Recipes . . . June Powers.

ALPHA TAU LAMBDA

The Alpha Taus have elected the following officers for the last six weeks of school; President, Paul Rotenberry; 2nd Vice President, Jack See; Secretary, Iretta Bailey.

Several entertaining numbers were presented at the regular meeting on April 10, among which was a comic opera, "Fly on the Wall," by John Scott. It was sung in "Scottalian."

A medley of songs was played and sung by Fincher and Brasher, which the society greatly enjoyed.

SIGMA RHO

The officers chosen by the Sigma Rho Society for the last six-weeks period of the year are: Claude Gardner, President; Billy Nicks, Vice-President; Mary Jo Logan, Second Vice-President; Stella Haun, Reporter; Marie Luttrell, Secretary; and Charles Holt, Sergeant-at-arms.

On the recent Monday programs speeches were made by Alan Marshburn, Earl West, Delton Haun, W. R. Jones, Paul Brock, and Roy Hearn.

PHILOMATHEAN

A recent chapel program the Philos presented their typical All-American boy, Henry Aldrich. Henry was played by Abie Sauter; Homer, Stanley Ash; Mary, Mary Helen Henry; Mrs. Aldrich, Bonnie Hatter; and Mr. Aldrich, Joe Foy.

On April 6, the quintette of the society, Jo McClellan, Willene Henry, Mary Nell Harper, Dot Mauldin, and Frances Green, sang "Easter Parade" Abie Sauter sang "Forgotten" and Bill Thompson gave a very interesting talk on "The Character of Man."

Officers for the next six weeks are: President, Chuck Plum; 1st Vice-President, Bonnie Hatter; 2nd Vice-President, Willie Henry; Secretary, Arcilla Jordan; Reporter, Myrna Chapman; Sgt.-at-Arms, Hubert Showalter.

It still being spring, this department continues to eulogize the season of Bacchus with a dissertation by John Scott's Lester Littlebrain. It follows.

"In the spring a young man's fancy turns to love. What do I mean by spring? Spring is that season of the year that follows February. February is in the winter. Spring comes just before June. June is in the summer. It should now be seen that by spring, I mean that season of the year which comes between winter and summer. That is spring.

"Some people do not know just exactly what a young man is. I often hear of men who are old while they are young. On the other hand, some grandpa frequently takes an overdose of Alka-Seltzer and decides that he is young. This often has tragic results, especially when there is a blonde involved. Other people do not believe that there is such a thing as a young man. There are the ones circulating the rumor that 'they're either too young or too old'. A young man, never mind what they say, is a man who is not too young, and who is not too old. He is in between. Bro. Van Tassel, for obvious reasons, is NOT a young man.

"Another significant fact about young men is that most of the young men, who are men, are out nipping the Nip. They are nei-er too young nor too old. They are O. K.

"For example of a young man's fancy turning, well, take Scott, for instance. He, ulp....!" (At this point, our little wooden-headed friend-Lester, not Scott, was rudely interrupted by Scott's hand over his mouth, and thus the lecture was postponed to some indefinite future date.)

I think Lester was trying to tell us about Scott's recent turning of fancy. Scott used to be a good history student, but lately it seems that his love of spaghetti transcends even his love of scholarship. He was too sick to come to history the other morning, but somehow found strength to make it to supper. Was it the spaghetti that attracted him? We'll never know, but I strongly suspect that the attraction was "Spaghetti" Forrest-er.

But when it comes to courting, John isn't even in the picture. You should have seen little Abie at Science Club the other night. No, Frances, Abie hasn't "Forgotten" (By the way, Abie, what did you do with that pretty red handkerchief?)

Should I say something about Fincher and Jean? Should I tell how Fincher had her, then lost her, then had her again? It was a noble struggle. Fincher went down fighting in the first round, but did he quit? No, Fincher didn't quit,

Fincher came back with a vengeance, and Fincher's top man now! So there, too! (Fincher)

But all this doesn't compare with the party who sent a telegram from Indianapolis to get a supper date. Sweet is no word. "Your Bill." (sigh!)

I must make a note right here to get my name out of Earle West's little blue notebook. No, I'll just get the notebook. (unknowns, you chemistry students, for sale cheap!)

Speaking of Earle, was that he that I saw the other night, panting pantless into Charles Ary's window? My, my, Earle, did they lock you out?

Once in a while, I get some report that really startles me. I have one of those for you this issue. I was told, by a reliable source, that everyone in school is afraid to debate "Tim" Holt. Is that true, W. R. Jones? It seems to me that they would be afraid to draw with him, but I don't know why they won't debate him. He can't use his six-shooter in debate (at least, not legally)

Glenn Hargett has a girl in every port. I'm glad all boys aren't that way. But then, all boys aren't in the Navy, are they, Glenn? Do all boys in the Navy have a girl in every port, Glenn? (Don't answer that!)

I must close with a question: Who was the bright young man who became inebriated on root beer? Oh, there I go again, using those big words. It's a failing of mine. You'll just have to excuse me T. P., I don't know any better than to use the kind of words A. Campbell used. So sorry.

SPORT SLANTS

By "SHORTY" WATSON

With the beginning of Spring, softball has gotten under way at F. H. C. with a fine start. At the first game the Phi Kappas conquered the Philos, 5-3. The Alpha Taus put up a losing fight against the Sigma Rhos and were subdued 15-2. The Phi Kappa girls beat the Philo girls by the score of 12-1, and the Alpha Tau girls by the score of 7-6.

Interest in tennis has been high of late with both courts seeing much service. Practice on track events has begun, with a goodly number participating. Most of the attention has been centered on the high jumping pit that has recently been constructed.

In volley ball, games have been going on every day with the boys and girls having alternate days. So far the Phi Kappa boys have led the field with the Sigma Rhos, Philos, and Alpha Taus following in order.

SCIENCE CLUB

The bimonthly meetings of the Science Club continue to be instructive as well as entertaining. Recently Bill Goss discussed Shell-Shock, illustrating his talk with incidents from World Wars I and II. At the conclusion, Bill used John Scott as "guinea pig" in an experiment designed to show how hypnotism may be used in effecting cures for shell shock.

Alan Bryan demonstrated by an electricity experiment the improvement made in modern light globes, both in illumination and power consumption.

One entire meeting was given to Bro. Witt. His talk was on land birds common to this area. He laid particular emphasis on means of identification, habitat, and interesting observations made during various field trips.

More of the science students should take advantage of the opportunity to hear these talks and demonstrations, and make it a habit to attend the Science Club meetings.

IN AND OUT

Mrs. F. P. Bryan of Birmingham came on April 18 for a visit to her son, Editor Alan Bryan.

Brother and Sister Denton Fly of Milan, Tenn., were campus visitors April 16.

Among those going home the week-end of March 12th were; Frances Jarrett, Louise Cagle, and Nancy Coplin, Jackson; Joyce Baker and Juanita Pollock, Hohenwald; Marie Luttrell, Middleton; and Mary Nell Harper, Little Rock.

Dora Boone spent the week-end of March 12th in Memphis, Tenn. Orpha Baxter, Alma Foster, Lillie Mae Taylor, Corinne Brothers, Frances Green, Willene and Mary Helen Henry, Bobbie Beasley, Louise Garrett, and Floy Poston spent Monday, March 13th, in Jackson shopping.

Marie Luttrell was the week-end guest of Maxine Kennedy at her home in Booneville, Miss., March 18th.

Mary Nell Harper, Ettie Spears, Louise Cagle, Frances Jarrett, Frances Green and Bertelyn Cagle spent the week-end of March 18th, at their homes.

Maxine Mercer was the week-end guest of Eleanor Dodds, March 18th, in Newbern, Tenn.

Dona Tigrett had Sue Nash and Bessie Lee Williams as her guests at her home in Memphis the week-end of March 18th.

Corinne Brothers visited Frances Green at her home in Waverly March 19th.

Paul Hall's mother, Mrs. E. W. Hall and his sister, Carolyn of West Va. paid him a visit the week-end of April 22.

Christeva Moody, Jean Baker, Loretta Engel, and Iris Sneathen spent Monday, March 20th, in Jackson shopping.

Leola Anderson spent the week-end of March 25th in Springfield, Tenn.

On March 25th, Frances Jarrett, Madie B. Wood, Juanita Pollock, Joyce Baker, Bertelyn Cagle, Nancy Coplin, Louise Cagle, and Corinne Brothers left for the week end at home.

Mareanne Neece and Jean Anderson were the over-night guests of Bro. and Sister Howard Parker of Jackson recently.

Evelyn Wilson spent the week-end of March 25th with Bro. and Sister Howard Parker and Louise Cagle of Jackson.

Norma June Smith, Willeen Peters, Mary Helen Henry, Dot Kesler, Mary Jo and Kathleen Logan spent Monday, March 28th, in Jackson.
