MERRY CHRISTMAS ---- HAPPY NEW YEAR

This month's tribute goes to one of our beloved faculty members at F.H.C.

Arkansas's loss has become F. H. C.'s gain, for this teacher was born in Hotsprings, Arkansas and spent most of his life with his grandparents there. He is the second oldest of four children.

"Mama's boy" attended Montette High School in Monette, Arkansas, where he earned his school letter. Basketball has always been his favorite sport, and he played on his high school team.

His college education was received from Arkansas State, David Lipscomb College and George Peabody College. He holds a B.S. and is now working on his master's degree. His education was interrupted by a call from his country, and in 1943 he entered the surgical division of the Navy. He spent three and one-half years in the South Pacific and was on the U.S.S. Chester heavy cruiser.

Ruth Parker captured his eye while he attended Lipscomb, and on June 12, 1949, they exchanged wedding vows. They spent their honeymoon in northern North Carolina.

F. H. C. obtained the services of this teacher mainly through the efforts of President Dixon. He had been accepted for entrance into a medical school shortly after consenting to come here but decided to give F.H.C. preference.

With radio, model building, and collecting biological specimens as his favorite pastime, the laurels to this month's faculty member describe none other than Billy Glen Dunavant, Professor of Science and Assistant Coach.

NIGHT PROGRAMS

Monday, John B. Hardeman,

SUNSHINE AND SNOW BRING THANKSGIVING TO F. H. C.

Friends and alumni of Freed-Hardeman College gathered for the annual Homecoming and Alumni Banquet on Thanksgiving Day, November 23. The day was bright and sunny and many joyful cries were heard as old friends were re-united.

The day started with a chapel program at 10:00 in the morning. Present students of the college were in charge of the program. For the devotional part of the program Floyd Meyers read a selection from the Bible and a prayer was led by Brother Frank VanDyke. Kelly Doyle led the group in two spiritual songs. After the devotional, Miss Bettye White and Dale Buckley presented a piano duet, "The Haymakers Frolic." Then a history of Thanksgiving was given with Ivan Jamison narrating and the following impersonations were given: "Landing of the Pilgrims" by Alice Phillips; "Romance in the Wilderness" by Frances Hunter; "A Colonial Girl's Letter" by Louise Sims; "Governor Bradford's Speech" by Tom, Holland; and "Theodore Roosevelt's Proclamation" by James Walker. Sara Dixon played a piano solo "Minstrels" and Juanita Edwards read "A Thanksgiving Inventory." To conclude the program Brother Doyle led the group in a medley of national hymns.

Immediately after the chapel program all feet turned to the cafeteria where a turkey dinner was served. All of the students enjoyed this and some of the alumni who attended the banquet later in the day had two turkey dinners.

The afternoon was spent in gossiping and watching the athletic events that were planned for the day. At 1:30 a touch football game was played by the All-Stars of F. H. C. and the Gibson County Independents and Alumni. Then many of the visitors saw the F.H.C. basketball team in action for the first time. The team had as their opponents the alumni team. Both games were close but in both the Freed-Hardeman teams came out on top.

About 175 of the alumni of the college gathered in the cafeteria at 5:30 for the Alumni Banquet. President of the Alumni Association, Stoy Pate, was in charge of the meeting. After a delicious dinner each member stood, introduced himself and told what he was doing. There were representatives from ten states.

At 7:00 in the evening the College Chorus and Quarter, under the direction of Brother Kelly Doyle presented its first public performance of the year. The program consisted of "Oh Light Divine", "I Will Praise Thee", "My God and I", "Beneath The Cross of Jesus", "The Heavens Declare", "The Lord My Shepherd Is". The quartet sang two numbers: "Go Down Moses" and "The Animals are Coming". After the Quartet the Chorus ended the program with a medley of Negro spirituals. These were: "Climbing Up the Mountain Children", "Balm in Gilead", "Rock My Soul", and "Tis Me, Oh Lord".

Brother George DeHoff and Brother J. T. Marlin gave a talk on their trip to Europe and the Holy Lands. With this talk movies that were made on the trip were shown.

Everyone was interested in the pictures and Brother DeHoff was gladly welcomed back with us for a while.

As the crowd was moving out at the end of a wonderful day, it was discovered that a snow had fallen during the evening. Somehow it seemed to be the perfect ending for a great day.

Hot News From The North Pole

By Count De Stars

'Twas the night before Christmas and seated before a roaring fire at No. 1 Icy Avenue, North Pole, were Santa Claus and Brother Hall. Since Bro. Hall is such an authority on people and knows what they're thinking even before they do, Santa had sent an urgent request for him to come help decide what to bring the faculty members and students of F.H.C. They settled themselves in deep easy chairs with a steaming hot pot of coffee between them and started the tedious business of selecting just exactly the right gift for the right person. Their results were something like this.

First, for Miss Swann, Brother Hall recommended a nice, strong pair of earmuffs. She needs these because living on the third floor of the girl's dorm will be quite straining on the ears. Bro. Hall suggested that Santa bring Jose Garcia a Spanish-American dictionary. Although he has learned remarkably fast since coming to Tennessee, there are still a few words with which he isn't familiar. Brother Hall wants Santa to bring James Daniel an extra large dose of Vitamin D. It seems this Tennessee weather just doesn't have enough sunshine to suit him. After a long conference, they decided that the ideal gift for Brother Dunavant would be a barrel of liver flukes. It seems that Brother Dunavant has quite a love for these little fellows, at least he talks about them all the time. For Dale Carver, Brother Hall asked Santa to bring Joe Johnson. Ever since Joe left us to go to Memphis State, the corners of Dale's mouth have been dragging the ground. Santa and Brother Hall decided that all Eugene Underwood needed was a great, big graham cracker. John Cathey and Don Rudd need wigs since the loss of their hair makes them look so old. To the new students, Santa was asked to bring chapel seats, guide books, water guns, endurance, and more endurance. For everyone Brother Hall requested a lot of rain after this long drought. To all the boys go free Tonis. He suggested that Santa bring a victorious season for the basketball team, straight A's for all students, and the readers of this paper steady endurance and their deepest sympathy. Brother Hall, being an unselfish man, for himself asked only a case of cokes.

HARDING CHORUS IN PROGRAM HERE

On November 11 the Harding Chorus visited Freed-Hardeman College. The Chorus entertained the school with a varied program directed by Andy T. Ritchie, Jr., who is professor of Bible and music at Harding College. The Harding Chorus is one large group but only part of them were on the tour. They rotate the group for the tours. They have covered a large portion of the Middle West on their tours.

The program was a fine balance of parts. There was a tenor solo by a young tenor from Arkansas. Some of the numbers rendered were "My Hero", "God So Loved the World", a lovely setting of the 23rd Psalm; the men of the chorus sang the "Mosquito Song". The program was climaxed with Brother Ritchie singing "Ole Man River" accompanied by the chorus with the Alma Mater of Harding College for the final number. The whole program was done a capella.

BRO. RIVENBARK MOVES TO FLORIDA

Brother J. T. Rivenbark, who came here from Nashville, Tennessee, in 1923 as a member of the faculty had to resign his position here at Freed-Hardeman this fall due to a faltering form of high blood pressure. His health had been failing him for three or four years, but he had not changed his program of work here until this fall.

Brother Rivenbark made some improvement during the few weeks he was in the Webb-Williamson Hospital in Jackson, Tennessee, but it is doubtful if he will recover sufficiently to teach or hold any responsible position. Several weeks ago he was moved to his sister's home in Bushwell, Florida where he will continue to make his home.

While here at Freed-Hardeman College he was head of educational department and he taught Greek and Spanish.

Do you like brown curls? brown eyes? A catching grin? Then maybe this 6ft. senior is just your type. His pleasing personality is another asset to his make-up.

He is an active member of the Alpha Tau Society and supports his team from center field during softball games.

Among his favorites he lists basketball, colors black and gold, spaghetti and sleep. His main dislike is girls.

It's A Beautiful Day For The Race

It was not a stampede as an observer might have thought. The screaming mob was merely students participating in the daily race for the cafeteria. Were all those people at the point of starvation or did they just enjoy this daily competition? Let's retrace the action.

The time is ten minutes until twelve o'clock: the scene, classrooms; the people, students. The minutes tick slowly by, the students begin to get restless, the air is tense with excitement. Then the silence is shattered by the sound of . . . the lunch bell!

The noise of books slamming is accompanied by the shuffling of feet. People rush from every direction toward the cafeteria. They reach the front door; half the race is over. On through the open door streams the starving herd. They're in the stretch; this is the real test. One late arrival, unable to get through the mob, exhibits some fine broken-field running. The winners, as usual, are the first ones in line; but they are exhausted from the race.

Now, I ask you, is this race necessary?

LET'S TAKE COWS FOR AN EXAMPLE

It doesn't make any difference whether you are a Republican, a Democrat or an Independent, the following article from the Bernice, La., News-Journal is good for all to read who wish to see our American system of government survive.

Capitalism: If you have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.
Socialism: If you have two cows, you give one of them to your neighbor.

Communism: If you have two cows you give them to the government and the government gives you milk.

Fascism: If you have two cows, you keep the cows and give the milk to the government.

New Deal: If you have two cows, you shoot one, milk the other, then pour the milk down the drain.

Fair Deal: If you have two cows, you let them starve so you can buy your milk in cans, thus making business better.

After struggling with headlines for a dozen different stories on the international situation, the editor of the Clearfield (Pa.) Progress gave up. In a single big streamer on page one he informed his readers:

NEWLY-WEDS AT F-H COLLEGE

By Roy Jean & Dale Buckley
One of the most outstanding events of the year thus far was the solemnizing of the vows of Richard Wineinger and Milina Adams by Brother B. B. James.

The bride wore a neatly tailored dress of blue crape trimmed in black velvet, complimented by black accessories and pink carnations.

The bride and groom plan to spend a few days in Alabama before they leave for Detroit where they will reside.

Another one of our F.H.C. students to be recently married was Atlas Brewer to Miss Dollie Mai Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith of Martin, Tennessee, where she is now living, but she plans to move to Henderson in the near future and take a job in the garment factory here in Henderson.

They plan to live in one of the college's apartments.

"My mother is always having trouble with either my father or the furnace."

"What's wrong?"

"Every time she watches one, the other one goes out."

PREACHERS PARAGRAPHS

Living the Christian life demands certain things of us. There are sacrifices to make just as there are blessings to be enjoyed. Paul said, "Ye are not your own; for ye were bought with a price; glorify God therefore in your body." (1 Cor. 6:19-20) He also said, "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy acceptable to God which is your spiritual service." (Rom. 12:1) These passages, and others, teach that nothing God might demand of us would be too great for us to do willingly; it is our duty. God is just; He is merciful. His commands are not hard. He knows what is best for us and His plan is best. Let's consider just a few things about God's plan.

It is His plan that we study. Paul told Timothy to "study to show thyself approved unto God . . ." (2 Tim. 2:15). We are told to "be ready always to give an answer to every man that asks you a reason for the hope that is in you. . . ." (1 Pet. 3:15). All will agree that to study is a command of God, but there is some disagreement (in practice if not in belief) among the students as to how much and when we are to study. We should study all we can and use our time to the fullest extent. Our Bible classes, chapel, and private reading furnish us with much study. But does this relieve all our duty? What about our church services on Wednesday night and Sunday morning and night? Those are designed so that we can study the word of God together. The leaders of the congregation have seen fit to arrange these periods of study. They are assemblies to study. In Hebrews 10:25 we are warned not to forsake our assembling together as the custom of some is but to exhort one another and so much more as we see the day approaching. We may have to get up a little earlier, lose a little time from school work but we must obey the commands of God. He expects us to meet with the church every time it meets so that we may benefit from the study and fellowship.

We were bought with a price; we must offer our bodies a living sacrifice; we must study; we must not forsake our own assembling. (Remember the assembly begins to worship with the first song—be there and be on time.)

BUTLER TO REPRESENT F-HC IN STATE OFFICE

The Freed-Hardeman Home Makers Club was well represented in the State Home Economics Convention held recently (November 17, 18 and 19) in Nashville with Beverly Anne Butler, vice-president of the club; Jean Wall, reporter and Mrs. Johnson, club advisor, as their representatives.

Beverly Butler was chosen to fill a state office when she accepted the position as state reporter for Tennessee College Home Economics Clubs. Mrs. Johnson, who is a member of Tennessee Home Economics Association, was chosen as committee chairman for the College and University Women's Department of the Club.

While in Nashville when not attending banquets, exhibits, teas and other interesting things the representatives were guests on Lipscomb campus.

Before he died, Patrick Henry made a will bequeathing all his property to his relatives and at the close he wrote this sentiment: "There is one thing more I wish I could leave you all: the religion of Jesus Christ. With this, tho you had nothing else, you could be happy: Without this, though you had all things else, you could not be happy."

To Be Married Soon

Mrs. Arch B. Woods of Jacks Creek, Tenn., announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Archie Woods, to Jack Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Gray of Tuckerman, Arkansas.

The bride-elect was graduated from Chester County High School and Freed-Hardeman College where she was an honor student and a Philomathean.

She is now employed as assistant registrar at Freed-Hardeman College.

Mr. Gray was graduated from Tuckerman High School. He graduated from Freed-Hardeman College and was a Phi Kappa. In June he will receive his bachelor of arts degree from Harding College at Searcy, Arkansas, where he is a Delta Iota.

The wedding will be solemnized on December 19.

"Roy, have you noticed that Roy Ledbetter's class ring is missing. I think it went to Arkansas along with his girl friend when she left. Talking about rings, Libby Gargis and Dorsey Traw have traded rings again."

"June, have you heard what C. B. Billingsley's name is? I surely would like to let our readers know, but he just insists that I shouldn't. And, oh, yes, back to rings, C. B. said he'd never give his ring to any girl, but I wonder if Jane Williams couldn't make him change his mind. Let's just wait and see. Have you noticed that several of the boys and girls are seen together quite frequently now. Among them are Joan McAdams and James Daniels, Euna Mae Warren and Frank Patterson and Evelyn Phillips and Joe Lewis. Tom Holland spends much of his time in the library these days."

Roy, we surely did have a good time Thanksgiving. Did you notice what went on? Earlene Tucker went around with bells on. Seems Keith Rhodes had something to do with it. Too bad there aren't more Thanksgivings. Johnny Sewell and Oscar Cooper had quite a time when they started back to Nashville that night, too. The snow slowed them down to a complete halt somewhere along the way. I hadn't seen Libby's cousin around until then, either. Did he come to see Libby or her roommate is what I've been trying to figure out."

"J. W. French and Betty Wilkins have started going steady. I hear, June. More power to them. I don't know if Jan Kirkland and Howard Miller are, but it looks that way. "Randy" and Jane Yoder have been together some lately, and also Jane Manning and Allen Parker. I also hear that Dale Carver is dating a high school girl. Doesn't Allen Dixon look lonesome since Lucille Poe left? But maybe he'll find someone else. I thought they made a cute couple."

"Marvin Noble is at least dating girls here, and, of course, I think everyone knows the first date was with Francis Hunter. One of our students is sporting a new diamond and it's worn on the left hand, too, June. Clara Vickers is the lucky girl and the boy is David Wheatley. On the comical side, the boys in the dorm are having fun hypnotizing. If any of you have been wondering why Emer Braham stuck to his seat in chapel one day last week, you'll find the answer along that line. Joe Johnson was the one who did the hypnotizing. I heard that several of the boys are wanting to be Joe's next "victim."

"Roy, I heard a boy say he was going to get Joe to hypnotize him just before the biology quarter exam, then tell him that during the exam he would concentrate and make a good grade. I've been wondering if this was done and what the results were if it were done. If it worked I think I will try it. I don't know, though, because it might prove to be embarrassing if I were told to do something that I might not exactly want to do. I've known of cases where that happened, such as one of the students last year telling Brother Gardner that "dog" was spelled "c-a-t!"

"Our editor, Bill Threet, spends most of the week-ends at home, and from all reports he has a girl friend there. Several things happened the last time you went home over the week-end, June. Bill Welch dated Thelma Thompson. Speaking of the weekend reminds me of something else, June. I found out that you had company over the week-end. Did Joe go to Missouri to see you or Ivan? From what I've been hearing he must have gone to see you."

"Well, anyway, Roy, Joe was in Missouri. Shall we let it go at that? I don't like to tell everything I know, though sometimes this column looks like I tell everything. It's time for me to study for a while, so by now."

"Do you know the boys so broke that they can't buy razor blades? Yes, it's the "off brothers" alright. Funny aren't they?"

"Bye, June. I'll see you this time next month to talk over the month's happenings with you. I just wonder what'll be going on by that time. A lot I imagine; cause that'll be after Christmas, and we'll know who got what for Christmas and from whom."

A stout gentleman, determined to lose weight during a stay on his Vermont farm, hustled to the general store for a pair of overalls. He picked out a pair big enough for energetic exercise. Then a thought struck him. "Wait a minute," he told the clerk, "those fit me now but I expect to lose a lot—maybe I'd better buy a smaller pair."

The clerk shook his head. "Mister, if you can shrink as fast as these overalls can, you'll be doing pretty good," he said, and calmly went on wrapping the overalls.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club met on November 21, 1950, with thirty-two present. Due to the fact that they had a speaker for the night they postponed the business part of the meeting until a later date.

The trio sang two numbers "Girl of My Dreams" and "Standing in the Need of Prayer". The program was then turned over to the speaker, Mr. L. G. Laycock of Jackson, Tennessee.

Mr. Laycock spoke on the subject "I Don't Have Time". He mentioned the condition of the business world and the necessity of confidence in each other. He pointed out that ability to get along with other people and to win friends is important in the business world. He emphasized that time is the most valuable thing in our life. To emphasize the result of never having enough time, he quoted:

"Burma Shave,
Missed the curve,
The car was whizzing,
The fault was here's,
The funeral his'n's."

His talk was very interesting and educational to all.

Some other visitors were K. T. Edwards from Jackson, Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hall and Robert Darnall.

PHILOS

The Philos have been very busy these past few weeks. Edwin Daniels has been elected as sports captain for the boys while Joy Cherry has been given the same office for the girls.

A system of dues has been set up to raise funds; Mary Alice Phillips has been elected treasurer to put the system into effect.

A widespread campaign is also underway to acquire new members and to arouse more interest in the society.

A debating team has very recently been organized to go into effect after Christmas. This team is composed of Richard Griffey, Bill Johnson, Robert Mallerne, Jo Ann McAdams, Earlene Tucker and Betty Wilkins.

CLUB ROOM CAPERS

Going up? This is what the elevator boy would say to you if there was an elevator. But, who needs one when you only have a dozen or so steps to climb leading to the Club Room.

When you enter, I don't think there will be any fanfare, but I am sure you will be welcome. Perhaps you didn't know we were having some distinguished visitors either. To your surprise, you see a favorite movie star. Who is it? Why it's Humphrey Bogart. Humpy's engaged in a game of checkers with a worthy opponent, Bro. Darnell.

Rook seems to be the favorite pastime for singing star Ring Crowsley. And look who is playing with him, the Anderson sisters.

Who is the gentleman sitting over there quietly reading? Yes, it is Harry S. Newman. He is president of some club, I think.

Oh, that music, why I believe that is the music of Harry Jones and his orchestra. Someone told me to get some of Strike Jones' recordings. Well, each to his own taste.

A friend said he thought maybe the club room should have refreshments. Maybe peanut butter and crackers or better still, cornbread and chocolet syrup. Sounds delishous doesn't it?

This has been a rather informal interview with some of the people that visit the club room. Come over and meet them. Who knows, you may even meet someone new. Give it a try, 'wonna?'

HOME MAKERS CLUB

The Home Makers met November 3 in the club room for their regular monthly meeting. It was decided that the club would help pay the expenses of their representatives in the State Home Economics Convention. As a means of doing this, Brother Roland has given them permission to to have concession stands at basketball games.

The club is sponsoring a Christmas tea on December 9 for its members and their dates.

A. C. E.

The A.C.E. met for its regular meeting on November 1, 1950.

Devotional consisted of a song by Willard Davis, scripture reading and prayer by Bill Johnson. For the program Joy Martin gave a talk on "The Principles of the A.C.E." Plans were made for the F.H.C. organization to become a member of the national A.C.E. After discussion of future plans membership dues were set at ten cents a month.

HOSPITAL CASES

8:15—Bob Hampton was admitted this morning. He broke his neck trying to meet Chi-Chi.

8:30—Freddie Graham has a broken jaw. Poor thing, I warned her about that chewing gum.

9:10—Tom Holland was going around one corner and Jimmy Nash happened to be coming around the other side of the same. A few broken bones, that's all. (Better luck next time.)

9:30—Robert Taylor lost his specs and accidentally tripped over Bud Huntoon. They both went head first down the stairs. Fortunately they received only a few scratches.

10:45—Jonnie Davis lost her voice. A bee stung her and she hollered too loud.

1:00—Margie White fell and broke a bulb in her camera. Results: cuts and bruises.

2:00—This evening it was raining, and Rachel Dean tripped on her dress and broke her nose.

3:30—Wilma Wyatt has to have a physical check-up in the head. Why? Thinking so much about Bill Lovelace.

3:30—Your Ed.

HOME ECONOMICS REPORT

Name: Jean Jackson
Course: Sewing
Project: Making a skirt

1st day: Started project with vigor. Spent ten minutes trying to thread the needle because was unable to decide which end of needle thread was supposed to enter. Bit off thread three times, and chipped my front teeth. After a while I found that I had been threading a straight pin instead of a needle which was the reason it had not worked.

2nd day: Successfully threaded needle.

3rd day: Removed pattern from envelope. Found I had been cheated at store, as pattern had little holes in it. Mended little holes with Scotch tape.

4th day: Pinned pattern to cloth. Cloth is plaid. After cutting, found that plaid on front of skirt goes up and down, and plaid in back of skirt goes sideways.

5th day: Basted skirt today. Sewed all period before discovering that I had forgotten to knot the thread.

6th day: Played safe. Knotted thread at both ends to be sure it held. Chipped other front tooth.

7th day: Cut out pocket. Was so careful to match plaids, that I had to cut it from the middle of a five-foot square piece of material.

8th day: Discovered to my dismay that I had not been sewing front of skirt to back of skirt after all, but had been sewing it to other end of front of skirt.

9th day: Am ready for sewing machine.

10th day: Sewed on sewing machine. Had difficult time. Discovered finally that machine had no needle. Tried to insert a needle and something broke.

11th day: Tried second machine with better results. Front of skirt is now sewed to back of skirt. Tried on skirt, and it does not fit but I shall not let a little thing like that worry me.

12th day: Removed pocket and zipper, as they were sewed upon inside of skirt. Hemmed skirt. Took remaining scraps of material and made some little frills all over side of skirt, so as not to waste anything. I shall make some man a thrifty wife!

14th day: Project inspection. Home Economics teacher inspected skirt. Then left the room and stayed the remainder of the period.

Boys and girls, it seems that we must be careful around Brother Hall. To illustrate my point, the other day in a Bible class he asked one of his pupils a question. The person did not know the answer to the question so she said, "Brother Hall, I don't know."

His reply was, "I didn't ask you what you knowed. I asked you what you thought."

WIND, MUD, ALPHA TAUS CAN'T STOP PHI KAPPAS

The Phi Kappas defeated the Alpha Taus to the tune of 12-6. The Alpha Taus scored first on a pass by Cleo Hanna to Mickey Brasher who reversed his field to avoid his opposition, and he went over for the only score for the Alpha Taus.

The game was a weird concoction of crazy squirting fumbles, straight-up punts, and stumble running.

Jack Newberry was the hero for the Phi Kappas, just as he was throughout this season. He plunged over for one score and passed 38 yards to Hudson Nichols for the other score and the margin of victory.

F.H.C WINS 40-37 OVER MEMPHIS TEAM

There was a smile on Coach Witt's face and pride in his actions as the powerful Freed-Hardeman Titans came from behind in the final seconds of play to nose out a calssy alumni quintet by a 40-37 count. The Lions trailed the old grads throughout most of the game, but mustered the needed punch to score their second triumph of the current season.

Jimmy Daniels started FHC on the right foot by scoring the first eight points. He held the opposition scoreless after the first five minutes of the opening tip-off. The first quarter was an evenly matched contest with Hall of the alumni and Daniels running neck and neck for scoring honors.

As the second quarter got underway Daniels poured in three field goals, giving the college team the edge, as the alumni trailed 22-18. Daniels was hitting from all sides. Along with Daniels was the fine board play of Volner.

Then the fire works started. Coach Witt sent in his reserves, and it looked as if they would hold their ground until Hall got loose. He was all over the floor making shot after shot. It was late in the fourth quarter that the fans started to chew their nails. FHC was behind with seconds remaining when Max Deming flipped in a field goal to clinch the victory for FHC. The leader in the scoring department was Hall who played an outstanding game for the losers.

In a gay and carefree mood, a man telephoned a friend at two o'clock in the morning. "I do hope I haven't disturbed you," he said cheerily.
"Oh, no," the friend replied, "that's quite all right. I had to get up to answer the telephone anyway."

SIGMA RHOS DOWN PHI KAPPA TEAM

The scoring started when Sigma Rho's Coleman Allmond was thrown in his end zone for a safety and two points for Phi Kappa.

Six minutes later in the first period, Sigma Rho went ahead when Allmond passed to Don Rudd for 16 yards and the score. Phi Kappa came right back to score two quick touchdowns by passes from Richard Hollingsworth to Jack Newberry, and that put them ahead 14-6.

Then the Sigma Rhos began to work. Allmond and Don Rudd again teamed together bringing the score to 14-12 with only minutes left to play. Phi Kappa took over, and was forced to kick on the fourth down. The ball traveled to the 18. when Allmond, playing safety took the punt and stood still in his tracks and threw a beautiful pass to Don Rudd. This play covered 64 yards and the margin of victory.

During World War II a farmer had some of his property destroyed by maneuvering soldiers. When the report was sent in to the government they called the man up and asked him if he was the one who lost the pigs and if the report—two thousand and three pigs—was correct. This seemed rather large to them but the man replied, "Yeth thur, two thows and three pigs."

"Same location since 1906"

This month the inquiring reporter asked a group from the junior class, since they would be most interested, the question: "Do you prefer that the second quarter begin before Christmas as we now have it, or had you rather have it begin after the holidays?" The answers received are as follows:

Bob Barker: "I, being only a first year student, have little to say, but if it were left up to me, I would prefer that the second quarter start after the Christmas holidays."

Bob Buchanan: "I believe that the first quarter should end at the Christmas holidays and the quarter should begin later in September."

Carroll Eaves: "I would like it better after the Christmas holidays. That way, there would be no break in the quarter."

Upha Iles: "I would rather have the second quarter begin after the holidays because the three weeks before and the nine after would cause such a break in our class work."

"Randy" Jernigan: "I think the set-up is satisfactory as it is."

Neil Mabry: "I had rather have it as it is now; that is, that it begin before the Christmas holidays."

Andrew Whisenhunt: "Both have their advantages, but to me starting the second quarter after Christmas would have more. Briefly, that your schedule isn't interrupted, you have a breather between quarters and that those starting after Christmas do not have to start behind but with the rest of the class. From experience I know what it is to start in late."

Bobbie Wilson: "I prefer that the second quarter begin before Christmas as it is now so that we wouldn't have to worry about our schedule during Christmas vacation."

Wilma Wyatt: "I had rather have it after the holidays, because it makes a break in the beginning of the quarter and causes unnecessary reviews."

F.H.C. TROUNCES BOWLING GREEN

It was a happy night at Freed-Hardeman, as the team defeated the scrappy aggregation from Bowling Green to the tune of 37 to 30. It was the college's first win of the season as against only one setback. The fans were thrilled with the ball handling the boys displayed in this contest.

Both teams were slow in getting their offense working. Jack Newberry started the scoring and began to take full command by scoring ten points.

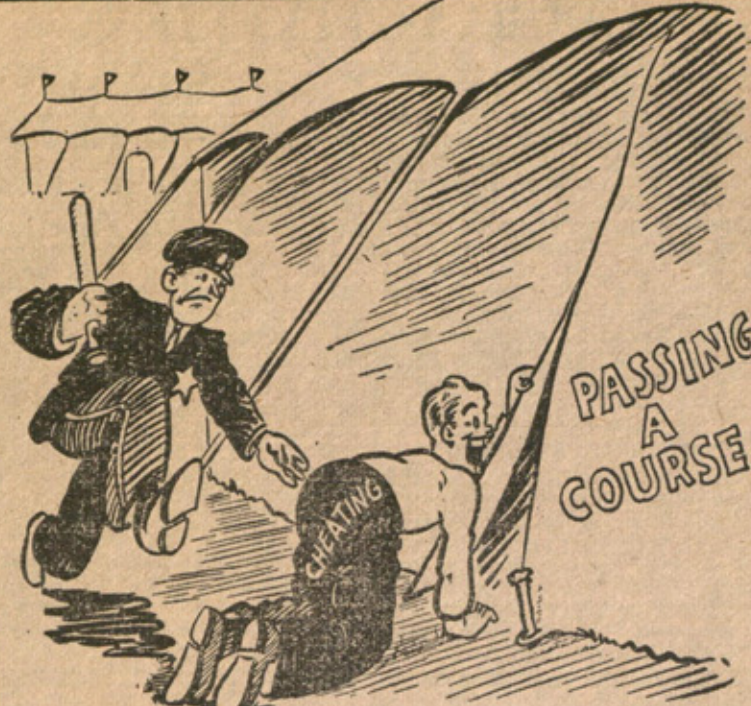

The second half was somewhat a different story as the Bowling Green Quintet gathered in 22 points to FHC's 15. Cunningham and Freeman were doing the scoring for the losers while Bones Montgomery took up the slack for the college boys.

The Lions "froze" the ball during the last few minutes of play; when the final whistle sounded, F.H.C., had won its first game.

KEEP YOUR EYES AHEAD

By Leonard Brown

Have you had your eyes examined lately? Do they seem to stray from one side to the other, especially on tests? It seems that quite a few people have this trouble. This condition can get to be very dangerous and could lead to even more dangerous situations. Teachers say that a good cure for this trouble is to keep the lights burning brightly in each students room more often. This seems to calm the nerves when test time comes and the eyes are less apt to stray. If you don't correct this condition, it may become critical. A discussion of this dreaded disease was held in chapel recently and more cures were outlined. Without further comment, we hope that everyone will examine himself for symptoms of this evil disease and treat himself accordingly.

LIONS LOST TO BEMIS TEAM 60-55

The Freed-Hardeman College Lions opened their home season on Tuesday evening, December 5 in the new CCHS gymnasium in a hard-fought battle in which they lost to the Bemis YMCA team by a score of 60-55.

The Lions showed remarkable improvement since the first game of the year when they were defeated by the Bemis YMCA team 76-48.

James Daniel with 20 points and Jack Newberry with 19 points led the scoring for the Lions. Tom Scott was high scorer for Bemis with 19 points.

Local boys on the college team are Frank Patterson, Max Deming and Joe Lewis.

The Lions play Lambuth College on December 12 in Jackson and return here on December 15 to meet the Brown Shoe Co. team of Selmer.

Sports activities were dropped at the college several years ago but were resumed this year under the present administration.

Local basketball fans are urged to attend all home games which will be played in the new Chester County High School gymnasium.
