FREED-HARDEMAN COLLEGE, HENDERSON, TENNESSEE, NOVEMBER 11, 1955.

NUMBER 2

FHC's Teacher Education Plan Approved

Freed-Hardeman College last week received unconditional approval of its Teacher Education Program by the State Board of Education.

E. Claude Gardner, Registrar, returned October 13 from Nashville after serving on a committee appointed by the State Board of Education to review the Teacher Education Program of Tennessee colleges and universities.

The purpose was to review the programs of the schools and to determine which ones meet the certification regulations of colleges and universities.

Freed-Hardeman's approval was to offer the first two years of a four year program.

SPEAKERS, PANELS BEGIN RELIGIOUS TRAINING CLASS

Thomas Scott was the guest speaker of the Girls' Religious Training Class on October 7. His subject was "Going Forward" in which he pointed out that to progress one must remove the hindrances which may be found in unrecognized dangers.

Brother Scott appealed to youth to take stock of their moral qualities and actions and resist hindrances that would keep one from climbing the ladder of social, moral and spiritual success.

"How I Learned the Truth" was the theme on October 14 by Miss Glenda Dabbs, Dot Brasfield, Jewel Etheridge and one guest speaker, Mrs. W. O. Bruce. Mrs. Bruce, who was a Mormon for 30 years, gave the history and teaching of the Mormon Church. Dot Brasfield, Miss Dabbs, and Jewel Etheridge gave some of the teaching of the Baptist, Methodist and Pentecostal Holiness Churches.

The subjects for discussion on October 29 were: "Visiting and Helping the Sick" by Lorraine Hunter, "Being Kind to the Aged", by Rosalind Taylor, "Helping the Poor" by Cathy Branham and "Extending Sympathy to the Bereaved" by Jo Putnam.

These young ladies visited the hospital and welfare office. The talks were based on actual experiences of each girl.

The class plans for each girl to visit the sick and send cards of cheer to people who are confined to their beds of her own community.

NICHOL, ALTIZER, AND WEST TALK AT CHAPEL

Visiting chapel speakers at Freed-Hardeman College during the past three weeks were C. R. Nichol, Lowell Altizer and Earl West.

Nichol is a noted author, evangelist and debator from Clifton, Texas.

West, former graduate and faculty member of Freed-Hardeman College is presently serving on the faculty of Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas. His latest book, THE LIFE AND TIMES OF DAVID LIPSCOMB, is now on sale.

Altizer is a minister of the Gospel from Christianburg, Va.

Diogenes met a veteran. "What were you in the war?" he asked. "A private," said the veteran. So Diogenes blew out his lamp and went home.

"Harvest Moon" Was Theme Of Halloween Party

"Harvest Moon" was the theme for the Halloween party held on October 31 in the college gym. Witches devils, ghosts, gypsies, and all sorts of wierd characters gathered in the orange and black decorated gym. The yellow moon shone down on corn stalks, smiling jack-o-lanterns and spooky masqueraders.

The evening was spent in ducking for apples, fortune telling, and other activities. A skit was presented by Van Alessandro, Pat Donnell, Tommie Williams, Wilber Wiggins and Virginia McDaniels.

First prize was awarded to Sue Black, who was dressed all in black. Second prize went to Martha Lynn Fly, who was disguised as a witch. Taking third place was a blue mummy, Pat Donnell. The best dressed couple was a witch, Pat Hopkins, and Bob McAuley dressed as a devil. The Miller family received honorable mention.

Miss Martina Campbell, Miss Jane Williams, and Brother Hicks acted as judges.

The Student, Faculty Entertainment Committee, headed by Brother Bradfield, was in charge of the arrangements for the party. Committee members and others who assisted are: Rosemary Kendrick, Dot Brasfield, John Chalk, Chuck Van Eaton, Doris Pounds, Don Platt, Barbara Upton, Carolyn Stephens, Agnes Jones, Glenda Baskin, Virginia Shup, Jesse Fleming, Joyce Luther, Van Alessandro, Miss Cummins and Miss Dabbs.

Special recognition is deserved by Larry Harris who is chairman of the decorating committee.

Brother Willard Collins, Vice-President of David Lipscomb College began a series of gospel sermons November 6.

Night services are being held at 7:30 and morning services at 9:25 daily at the church building.

Psychologists say that in the process of thinking, blood is drawn from the feet to the brain. This perhaps explains why, if we think very long about a proposition, we get cold feet.

COURTESY

One virtue that is characteristic of every successful person is courtesy. A person may reap thousands in financial gain, but without the noble virtue of courtesy, he is a miserable failure. If he fails to be courteous with those whom he contacts, he will be without friends when on the bed of sickness or death. As Solomon said, "If one wants friends, he must show himself friendly." Being courteous is one way of showing friendliness.

In everyday affairs it costs so little to be courteous. How much effort does it require to say "Thank you" when someone helps you or "Excuse me" when by accident you collide with a person? By words of thanks you may gain a friend instead of losing one. Indeed, courtesy costs very little, but accomplishes much.

Courtesy is showing respect. As students of Freed-Hardeman, we should respect and honor those who teach us. In the dormitories we should respect those who are in charge. The matrons have confidence in the boys and girls, and we should be courteous and respectful to them. Bitter words often cause a loss of confidence. As Christians we should never be guilty of speaking harshly to those who are over us.

Everyone wants others to show respect and courtesy toward him, but take heed lest we be discourteous and disrespectful.

EZRA'S THREEFOLD DESIRE

Ezra 7:10

Life without purpose is to society a load unwanted. It should be the desire of every member of society to be filled with purpose. The book of Ezra describes such a purposeful life. Ezra 7:10. "For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments." The threefold desire is herein stated, and we shall consider them briefly.

It should be the desire of every being to know the law of the Lord. A thorough knowledge of the Law of God is necessary to be pleasing in His sight. If we are to find that law, or to be possessed with the desire of Ezra, we must possess solid determination, and diligence. It should be the desire of every mortal to know what his creator had willed. The Bible is in almost every home today, but widespread ignorance is still rampant. There is no excuse for not knowing God's will. Paul gave Timothy sound advice in II Timothy 2:15, "Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth." This admonition prescribes that we should seek the law of God with diligence. The question naturally arises, "Where must I go to find the will of God?" If this question was asked by every soul seeking the will of God, we would not have division in the religious world. (Rom. 10:17). So belief cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. This statement by Paul tells exactly where the commands of God rest, for according to John 12:49,50, everything Christ spoke came from the Father and the authority is found in the word of Christ.

Ezra desired secondly to do the will of God. The statement "and to do it" certainly is a wonderful commentary on Ezra. He not only desired God's will, but determination led him to obedience.

Four Faculty Members Attend Meeting of WTEA

On October 14, 1955, Miss Martina Campbell, Miss Pauline Anderson and Robert L. Witt accompanied President H. A. Dixon to the meeting of the West Tennessee Education Association in Memphis. They attended the general session at 10:30 in the Ellis Auditorium, with Archibald Anderson Ph.D. from University of Illinois. His topic of discussion was "Education in the Rail Road Age".

To those of the past ages who knew God's will, but would not obey it, Ezra stands as a memorial of one who obeyed God because of his knowledge of Him. The New Testament is replete with examples of people, who having heard the word for the first time, obeyed it. The souls at Pentecost, the Ethiopian Eunuch, the household of Cornelius, and Philip are some who learned and obeyed. To him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." James 4:17. The person who fails to do that which he knows is right, is in the same danger as the man who cares nothing about knowing right.

The third part of Ezra's desire is not typical of most Christians today. The phrase, "and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments" is a remarkable contrast to the attitudes today. Yet Ezra's desire went beyond saving his own soul; he wanted to save others. Therefore he taught that which he had obeyed.

The Christian who will not make an effort to teach the gospel of Christ to lost souls, violates the command set forth by Jesus in Matt. 28:19, "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit."

UNCLE DUDLEY

Howdy younguns, this is your ol' Uncle Dudley a talkin' to you again. I spose you all made it through all them tests you wuz havin'.

You know, some times these perfessers around here do some odd things. I hear that a biology teacher said one day, "The time has come for us to dissect a frog. I have one in my pocket for the experiment." He took a wadded up paper bag out of his pocket and dumped out a tired lookin' cheese sandwich. Then he said "Hmmm, I distinctly remember eating my lunch."

Another one of the teachers wuz goin' somewhere on the train and realized he'd fergotten his ticket. The conductor knew him and said, "That's all right, I'll collect the fare some other time." The teacher said "It may be all right with you, but how do I know where I'm going?"

Speakin' of goin' my nephew runs a fillin station out in the town of Texas, I think that's the name. One day a man drove up in a Cadillac and ask how far it was to Fort Worth Junction. My nephew said it was one hundred-fifteen miles and the driver said, "Give me fifteen gallons of gas and three quarts of oil." Later a feller drove up in a Dodge and said, "How far is it to Fort Worth Junction?" When my nephew told him it wuz a hundred and fifteen miles he said "Give me ten gallons of gas and one quart of oil." Just then a guy in a Model A Ford pulled up and ask the very same question and my nephew gave him the very same answer. Then the man said, "Give me a quart of water and hold this thing till I get in."

One of the teachers here wuz travelin' once and he stopped to spend the night in a small hotel at a wide place in the road. In the middle of the night he grabbed the telephone and hollered into it, "Are you the desk clerk in this run-down, ramshackled, dilapidated joint?" "Yes I am. What's eating you?" was the reply. "That," said the teacher, "is what I'd like to know."

The other day my nephew needed some legal add-vise so he called the firm of Shapiro, Shapiro, Shapiro and Shapiro. Here's what all the talkin' sounded like.

"Howdy, I'd like to talk at Mr. Shapiro."

"Mr. Shapiro is in court arguing a case."

"Oh, then I'll talk at Mr. Shapiro."

"Mr. Shapiro can't come to the phone. He is in conference with an important client."

"Well, I'll talk at Mr. Shapiro then."

"Mr. Shapiro isn't in today. He is fishing in the Gulf."

"In that case let me talk at Mr. Shapiro."

"Speaking."

"I've got to run now, but afore I does, remember what Confucius said, 'He who gets hot under collar not so hot above collar.'"

To his dog, every man is Napoleon. Hence the constant popularity of dogs.

PAT'S PRATTLE

Autumn is here with all its brilliant colors and spicy scents; Hallowe'en with its ghosts and goblins is past; Thanksgiving will soon be here; and the quarter is three-fourths gone. Haven't the weeks passed swiftly? Happy days always seem short ones!

Many students look very happy as they stroll hand-in-hand about the campus; probably two of the happiest are TOMMY JEAN WILLIAMS and WILLIE WIGGINS, just recently engaged. Also engaged, and very happy even though her boy friend is far away, is ROBBIE HALL.

LARRY MALTBY and VIRGINIA HARRISON are a frequently seen couple on the campus these days; and so are PEARL PHILLIPS and J. W. who also were already "going steady" when they came to F.H.C. The "going steady" list now includes RONNIE HILL and MARY ESTHER JOHNSON; who had quite a "whirlwind" courtship.

BILL DANIELS was recently heard commenting that he knew who was the most beautiful girl on campus—and off campus too. We notice that he and MARY OGDEN are "going steady." Bill's brother, SETH, spends much time with VIRGINIA DOVER these days too. Another steady couple are Cheerleader EMMETT ROBERTS and pretty Louisianian SANDRA BRUCE.

Seen together a lot the last few weeks have been DICK PLASTER and KAY WILLIAMS while HUGH FULFORD and SHERALD JERNIGAN are enjoying each other's company regularly.

If you want to see four beautiful blue eyes, just notice blond BARBARA WALKER and JAMES MAY, who've been together several times lately. While we're talking about blue eyes—Canadian LYNN ANDERSON is said to be quite fascinated by REGINA CLARY, and surely you've noticed her eyes! Lynn and Regina have been dating quite often. Our Canadian gal PAT WISMER, is having a lot of social life too; among others, NORMAN HOOTEN has been a recent date of hers. Does she like cheerleaders, maybe?

Definitely not engaged any more, SHIRLEY BREWER is back in circulation, and "circulating" around with FAY TODD;

THESPIANS PRESENT PLAY, "MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS"

SOLOMONIZING
With Knott A. Sage

The man who rows the boat has no time to rock it.

Children should be seen and not heard; especially at church.

Never explain—your friends do not need an explanation and your enemies will not believe you anyway.

Some folks minds are like concrete; all mixed up and thoroughly set.

A man given to pride is usually proud of the wrong thing.

CLARENCE PEARCE is also out and around again, dating MARYLYN DODD. Other occasional daters are CHESTER GIFFIN and JEAN TERRY; WALLACE HUFF and SUE GREY (have you heard Sue's beautiful voice?)

If there are any of you boys who haven't yet dated a girl here, why don't you try to remedy the situation and make a few more young ladies happy?

Friday night, November 4, 1955, the Thespians presented the three-act comedy "Meet Me In St. Louis".

The cast included John Allen Chalk as Mr. Smith, Tommie Jean Williams as Mrs. Smith, Dot Brasfield as Rose, Pat Hopkins as Esther, Shirley Brewer as Agnes, Katy Jones as Tootsie, Clyde Woods as Lon, Bruce Freeman as Grandpa Prophater, Bonnie Beavers as Katie, Betty Lancaster as Mrs. Waughop.

Ann Tatum had the part of Ida Boothby, Lee Smith as John Sheppard, Hugh Fulford as Fred Gregory, Regina Woods as Lucille Pentard, Wayne Emmons as Mr. Dodge and Bill Larck as Mr. Duffy.

E. Claude Gardner, sponsor of the Thespians, coached the players.

I believe a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without a Bible. Wm. Lyon Phelps.

It is very interesting to note some of the answers given by members of the student body at Freed-Hardeman when they were asked by the inquiring reporters, What do you like best about Freed-Hardeman College?

I like almost everything. Carolyn Smith.

The Christian attitude all the students take and the third floor of the girls' dorm. Sue Kennedy.

The Christian association.—Martha Lynn Fly.

I like the characteristic of everybody's being good and of everybody's being good to me.—Shirley Hickenbottom.

Girls. Nelson Warren.

The College Inn. James Ross May.

The social hour when you can get together with your friends for a period of relaxation. Carolyn Haley.

The Christian environment and wonderful opportunities we have. Pat Bean.

The quiet dorm. Dan Webb. The fellowship. Hollis Miller. The teachers' spirit of leadership. Eddie Dunn.

I like the good food. Ann Cox. The unique friendships that are formed here with other Christian young people and the teachers. Kathy Branham.

The Christian attitudes of all the students and teachers. Karen Sapp.

The Girls' Religious Training Class. Ruby Pharis.

I think the greatest contribution of F.H.C. to its student body is the atmosphere; each person being a member of one large Christian family. Cindy Yarbrough.

When one is assigned the subject as this one he has a difficult assignment. No matter what one's outlook on life is, he will find a wholesome air of good will and Christianity prevailing on the campus at all times. Lee Sergeant.

Society Teams Select All-Stars

In softball the Alpha Taus have just about wrapped it up. With the steady pitching of Bob Langston and the hitting of Baxter, Wilson, Seegars and Ausborn the Taus have downed all comers. The Sigma Rhos have shown sparks of brilliance as they nailed down the cover on second. Third place will be decided when the Philos meet the Phi Kappas.

	Won	Lost
Alpha Taus	5	0
Sigma Rhos	3	2
Phi Kappa	1	4
Philo	1	4

The following were chosen for the Softball All-Star team: catcher, Dean Wilson, Alpha Taus; Pitcher, Bob Langston, Alpha Taus; First base, Darrell Moore, Phi Kappa and Hugh Fulford, Sigma Rho (tie); second base, Jim Truex, Alpha Tau and Don Harriman, Phi Kappa (tie); shortstop, Ken Rice, Sigma Rho; third base Emmett Roberts, Philo; left field, DeWayne Curtis, Phi Kappa; center field, Jim Herren, Phi Kappa; right field Dave Bowers, Alpha Tau.

Looks as if the Alpha Taus and Phi Kappas are out to chop the limb behind yours truly. After losing to the Phi Kappas the Alpha Taus roared back and topped the Philos 13-12 and the Sigma Rhos 24-0.

When the Phi Kappas and the Sigma Rhos tangled, the result was one of the most exciting games seen in many moons. After trailing for three quarters the Kappas scored two Touchdowns and won in overtime 19-18. The scrappy Philos were squeaked out by the Phi Kappas 6-0, but the Philos turned the tables on the Sigma Rhos 22-6. As we go to press here are the standings:

	Won	Lost
Phi Kappas	5	0
Alpha Taus	3	2
Philos	1	4
Sigma Rhos	1	4

ECONOMICS CLASS TAKES FIELD TRIP

Monday, October 31, the Economics class boarded a bus and went to Selmer, Tennessee, on a field trip where they were taken on a guided tour of the Boston Shoe Company.

Members of the economics class and several visitors witnessed the actual processes necessary in the making of a shoe.

A question and answer period followed where the superintendent of the factory answered student's questions concerning the factory from the standpoint of economics.

COLLEGE QUARTETS ARE ANNOUNCED

Two quartets were selected this year to represent Freed-Hardeman. Each member of the quartets has had previous experience either in high school choruses or quartets.

One quartet consists of Dave Bowers, first tenor; Bob McAuley, second tenor; Dan Webb, baritone; Bill Lane, bass.

The other consists of Jerry Jenkins, first tenor; Chuck Van Eaton, second tenor; Lee Smith, baritone; Leonard Smith, bass.

Miss Clarice Cummings, the director, said, "The quartets are not working in competition, and I am sure there will be plenty of work for both of them. They are working hard and the rehearsals are very promising. The members of these quartets will sing with the chorus throughout the year and will also represent the college at other places."

Thoroughness plus enthusiasm equals success.

JES' LAUGHIN'

Folks sometimes fail to note The possibilities that lie In the way your mouth is curvin' An' the twinkle in your eye.

It ain't so much what's said that hurts As what you think lies hid; It ain't so much the doin' As the way that it is did!

An' many a home's kep happy An' contented day by day, An like as not a kingdom Has been rescued from decay— By jes laughin'.
