Dixon-Gardner Attend Southern Association Meet

November 28-29 President H. A. Dixon and Registrar E. Claude Gardner attended the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Miami to make report on the progress of Freed-Hardeman College toward full accreditation in the Association, the highest accrediting agency in the South.

At the meeting of the Junior College Committee of the Association, held in Miami Beach, Florida, President Dixon and Registrar Gardner were interrogated concerning the efforts made by FHC to follow the suggestions of the Secretary of the Committee, who visited the college last summer to inspect its educational facilities.

The two representatives asked that the Association Examining Committee visit the school in October, 1956, which was the earliest date possible.

After the Miami meeting the two men went to Tampa, Florida for a meeting of the Presidents and Deans of Christian Colleges. As Dean C. P. Roland was unable to attend this meeting, Registrar Gardner substituted for him.

EDUCATION CLASS STUDIES TEACHING IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

The Introduction to Education class visited in the local schools as an observation project Monday, November 21.

Glendale, New Friendship, Old Friendship, Mifflin, Chester County High School and Elementary School and Chester County Training School, an elementary and high school for colored students, were among the schools visited.

The group visited in the classrooms and observed the teaching. They kept a diary and are to write a summary of the project.

The group on the trip consisted of Shirley Alexander, Billy Bowen, Sandra Bruce, Ann Cox, Marilyn Dodd, Alice Eikleberry, Martha Fly, Jewel Etheridge, Ray Grimmer, Clydene Guy, Rodney Hall, Pamela Harrison, Sue Kennedy, Irma Ruth Key, Lloyd King, Betty Lancaster, Clyde Lansdell, Joanne Lemmons, Barbara Mullins, Corinne Oliphant, Betty Jane Orr, Judy Pepper, June Rogers, Margaret Rose, Carolyn Stephens, Lucille Swinson, Ann Tatum, Bob Thorpe, Betty Walker, Robert Watson, Carolyn Smith and Nancy Smith.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB SPONSORS STANLEY PARTY NOVEMBER 14

The Homemakers' Club met on November 14 in the Home Economics Department at 7:00 p.m.

A short business meeting preceded a Stanley demonstration by Mrs. Audie Burkhead. Games were played and prizes were given to the winners.

Free gifts were given each girl and additional gifts were given to girls who had never before attended a Stanley demonstration. Profits from the Stanley orders will be shared by the club.

Sky Rocket Editor To Begin Full- Time Evangelistic Work In December

Donald Flatt, editor of the Sky Rocket of 1955-56 school session will begin full-time work with the church at Princeton, Kentucky.

His work will begin December 18, 1955.

Flatt is the president of the Student Council for the fall term. He received the Prosser Scholarship Award this year, and is active as an Alpha Tau Lambda, member and reporter of the Alpha Gamma Delta, member of Preachers' Club, Debate Club and Evangelistic Forum.

Donald was elected Most Intellectual boy last year and graduated as the Salutatorian of the class.

The administration is to name the new editor and will announce their selection within the next few days.

Approval Given For Two Years Of Teacher Training

Dr. Quill Cope, Commissioner of Education of Tennessee and Chairman of the State Board of Education, notified Freed-Hardeman College last week of the approval of its teacher preparation program at the November meeting of the State Board.

Approval is for the first two years of a four year program, since the institution is a junior college. "Officials of the college are highly pleased with this acceptance and recognition," E. Claude Gardner stated.

"This affords further opportunity to serve well Christian young people," he added. The Freed-Hardeman College program for teachers will continue to be accepted by other higher institutions.

The college has been approved to offer a teacher training program since 1925. The action of the State Board amounts to re-approval on a new plan and different philosophy, Gardner explained.

Tennessee launched a new teacher education program three years ago, in which the basis for certification was changed. Each institution in the state was required to make a thorough study of its offerings in professional education as well as in general education and then propose a program it felt would prepare teachers.

After months of diligent planning, study, and discussion by the faculty, a definite program was proposed which was submitted and then examined by a State Reviewing Committee to determine whether the standards for certification had been met. Recently when the reports from thirty-four institutions of the state were examined, practically all programs were accepted—some conditionally and others unconditionally.

Freed-Hardeman was one of the four colleges to receive unconditional approval and the only junior college in the state to receive such approbation.

This year thirty-two students have enrolled to pursue a teacher education course. W. A. Bradford and E. Claude Gardner instruct and guide the students in this field.

"Yes," replied the customer, glancing up from his cup, "but it smells like coffee."

PEANUT WEEK ENDS WITH SANTA'S VISIT

During the week of November 29 through December 6, the three girls' dormitories have been filled with an air of mystery and shrieks of excitement. The cause of all this activity was the annual Christmas "Peanut" affair.

Every year each girl draws a name and she is a Peanut to the girl whose name she draws. Every day for a week she must leave a small gift in the girl's room and at the party climaxing the week she must give the girl a larger gift. The party was eagerly awaited by all because then the secret Peanuts became known.

The drawing was held this year on November 25 and the party was held on Dec. 6. At the party a skit was presented and suddenly Santa Claus appeared to give out the presents.

"All the girls enjoyed being Peanuts and a wonderful time was had by everyone," stated Miss Lora Laycock, as she admired the gifts left by her Peanut.

The rumor is that the Smiths are studying French because they have adopted a French baby and want to understand it when it starts to talk.

THREE SPEAKERS ADDRESS TRAINING CLASS FOR GIRLS

At the Girls' Religious Training Class November 4, Mrs. Paul Simon spoke on the subject "Putting God First". The talk was based on the scripture "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."

The second speaker was Miss Martina Campbell. Her subject was "Conduct and Attitude at Church Services." She gave examples of misconduct in church services, and read some rules of etiquette from Emily Post.

Brother Kyo Ryoon Jhin was the guest speaker on November 25. He told about the religion, home life, customs, war, dating habits, and marriage of Korea. Brother Jhin showed the class an adding machine and chopsticks which are used in Korea.

MORE APPROPRIATE

A photographer was taking a picture of a farmer and his college boy son. The photographer suggested that the boy stand with his hand on his father's shoulder.

"It would be more appropriate," said the long suffering parent, "if he stood with his hand in my pocket."

To live is not to encompass but to expand; to love is not to absorb but to radiate; to know is not to hoard but to express.

The 1956 Freed-Hardeman College Lectureship program has been scheduled to begin January 9, with 25 speakers selected from several sections of the nation and from Japan, Italy, Africa, Korea and Austria.

People from all parts of the U. S. are expected to attend the lectureship and hear well-known preachers of the brotherhood speak, college officials said this week.

The day sessions will open at 7:30 a.m. on January 9, with panel reports from mission fields moderated by Olan L. Hicks.

The daily chapel programs will follow the theme of "Challenges to Youth." Orlan Miller will present the first of these lessons, speaking on "A Challenge to Zestful Living".

The afternoon lectures include addresses by B. C. Goodpasture, "The Preacher and his Work"; "The Power of the Press" Olan L. Hicks; "The Holy Spirit", Roy H. Lanier; an open forum conducted by Guy N. Woods and an address by Marshall Keeble.

Night programs will be held in the building of the Church of Christ in Henderson, Tennessee, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Rex Turner opens this series with a speech entitled "When the Fullness of Time Came". Howard Horton is scheduled to speak Tuesday night on "The Work of the Lord in Nigeria".

Preceding Bill Humble who will speak on "The Church of Christ is Different", the Freed-Hardeman Chorus and quartet will present a half-hour program on Wednesday night.

On Thursday night, Charles Houser, Alumni President, and H. A. Dixon president of Freed-Hardeman College will precede

Cline Paden who will speak on "The Work of the Lord in Italy."

George DeHoff is scheduled to speak on "Preaching Christ" on Friday night following another musical program by the Freed-Hardeman Chorus and quartet.

Special features include a pre-school demonstration class for Bible teachers at 2:00 p.m. each day taught by Miss Lora Laycock.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. D. E. Mitchell will entertain visiting ladies with a tea at her home on White Avenue.

Eighteen years ago, in January of 1937, a two-weeks lectureship was begun at Freed-Hardeman. For a number of years the lectureship lasted two weeks, but because of the difficulty encountered in getting accommodations for visitors it was shortened to a one week period. It was originally called A Short Course For Preachers.

Persons interested in reservations should contact W. A. Bradford, officials announced.

A schedule of the complete lectureship is printed on page four.

This year people who are still driving one-colored cars are secretly tagged by their neighbors as almost as reactionary as people who take care of their own children.

GRATITUDE

Gratitude is a jet of praise to all those who possess it. Among all the fine graces that are associated with human character, gratitude is among the most prominent. The spirit of gratitude should temper our whole life. We should ask God to help us to count our blessings, and then thank him daily for all the many material and spiritual blessings in this life. In Eph. 5:20, Paul said, "Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ." We should be thankful unto our parents for the many sacrifices they have made for us through the years. In Matt. 15:4, Jesus said, "Honor thy father and mother." One way to honor our parents is to show our gratitude to them.

Ingratitude is one of the most damaging and repulsive traits can ingress into human character. The Bible shows the great danger of ingratitude in Luke 17:11-20. Jesus was on his way to Jerusalem when ten lepers lifted up their voices to him and asked to be healed. Jesus told them what they must do to be healed, and when they obeyed, their flesh was restored. One, when he saw he was healed, returned to give our Lord thanks. The other nine did not. Think of that! One! Truly, ingratitude is repulsive. Let us not be guilty of such.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTIANITY

By James Jones

Amid the maze of dissension, back-biting and confusion, presently existing in the church of our Lord, the individual Christian must stop and, through the dimness of the Christian light, attempt to find his way back to a true, genuine practice of the Christian spirit. As is understood by all, the individual Christian is the center of true Christianity, Christianity being an individual affair. Therefore, the individual Christian must exemplify Christ and His attitude in each day of his life. The importance of showing forth the true spirit of Christianity is to be seen in II Cor. 3:2. "We are living epistles, written in your hearts, known and read of all men."

The exhibition of a Christian Spirit is primarily one of attitude: the ability, which is possessed by all, to manifest the thinking of Christ in our lives. It is essential, in any endeavor, undertaken at any time, for one to exhibit the right attitude. If this be true in a general sense, then how much more true must it be with respect to the specific nature of Christianity. A truer, finer, spirit is not to be found than the one shown by Abraham to Lot in the long-ago. His words were these, "Let there be no strife between thee and me, for we are brethren." Abraham is not content to state his desire for the absence of strife, but he tells why: "FOR WE ARE BROTHERS." Oh, how we so badly need this same sentiment and feeling today. In the heated discussions of today's issues in the church, we completely forget that we are to "let brotherly love continue." We forget that our adversary is our brother whom we must love in order to be pleasing unto God. In our discussions, we must, from the standpoint of necessity, never allow personalities, of any kind to enter. Dealing in personalities destroys rather than builds a feeling of true love.

Next let our purpose in any discussion be constructive. The purpose is not a defamation of character, it is not for the purpose of pulling down a rival, but it is for the purpose of exalting Christ and destroying Division in the body of Christ.

The extent to which we show the Spirit of Christ, will determine completely the destiny of the church. If we determine to be truly Christ-like, issues, once formidable, will dissolve, and true unity, based on the Bible will prevail.

FHC REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL COLLEGE DAY

Senior students Regina Clary and Joe Childress, along with faculty members W. A. Bradfield and Walker Whittle, attended the Maury County "college day" at the Columbia High School in Columbia, Tennessee, Thursday, November .

This annual event is attended by representatives from all the Tennessee college and universities.

KIND WORDS

Speak kindly at all times. It eases the cares of the day, and makes the household and other affairs move along more smoothly.

Speak kindly at night; for it may be that before dawn some loved one may finish his or her span of life and it will be too late to ask for their forgiveness.

Speak kindly at all times. It encourages the down-cast, cheers the sorrowing, and very likely awakens the erring to earnest resolves to do better, with the strength to do them.

All persons who leave this world do not necessarily change for the better.

Final Examinations Held Dec.

7-9; Holiday Vacation Starts Saturday As Students Begin Homeward Trek

Tomorrow will bring to a close the Fall Quarter of the 1955-56 Freed-Hardeman College year.

The past two days have been devoted to final tests which began Wednesday, December 7 and will conclude tomorrow, December 9.

At the conclusion of the final tests and the fall quarter approximately 375 students from 32 states will depart for their homes to spend the Christmas vacation.

FHC will be in recess for approximately three weeks for the Christmas holidays. A long Christmas vacation is the result of the merging of other holidays such as Thanksgiving and Labor Day in order to give students from distant points sufficient time to make the journey to their respective homes.

Classes will resume January 3, 1956.

Sigma Rho Society Beautifies

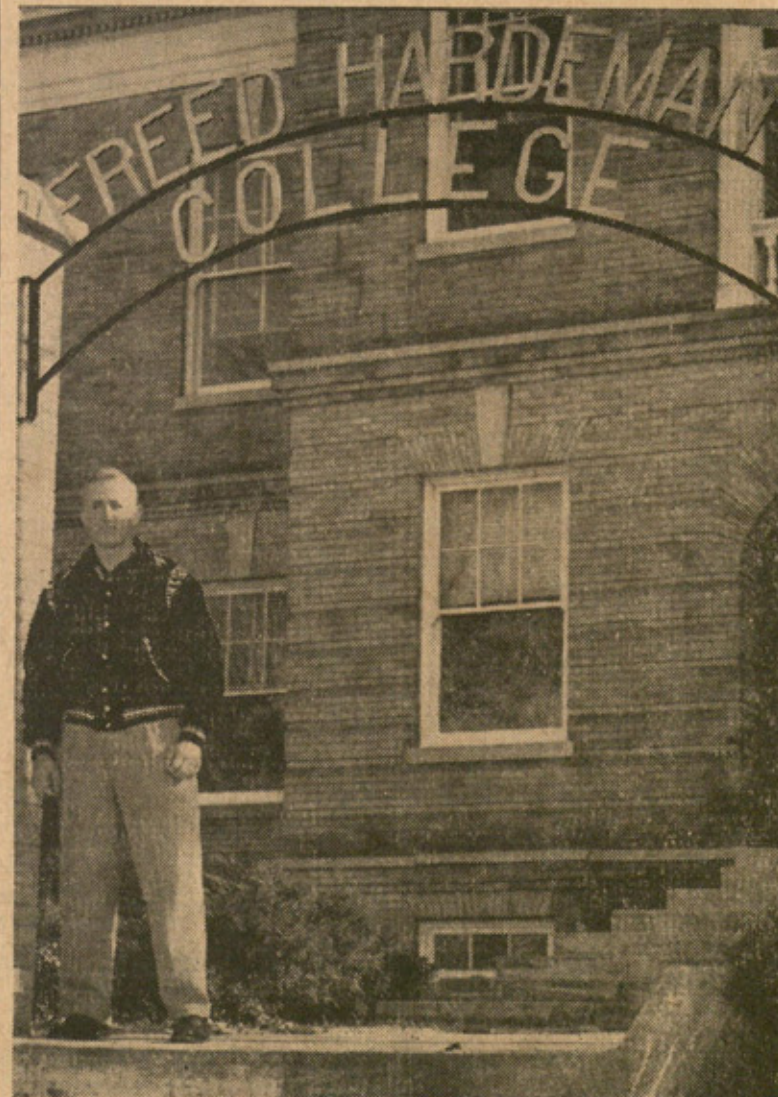

Campus By Constructing Archway

As its annual project, the Sigma Rho Society recently constructed a brick arch to span the walk going from the street to the Administration building.

With Chester Giffin, first six weeks president, taking the lead in this project, the Sigma Rhos for the second straight year, was the first society in its contribution to the school, having built "Freed-Hardeman College" road signs early last year.

The arch, which has the name of the college above it will be dedicated to the late Mrs. Ollie W. McDonald, who for 34 years attended FHC's daily chapel services. A plaque bearing this dedication will be added to the arch later.

UNCLE DUDLEY

Howdy you all!!
 I suppose's by now most of youins is all covered up with final tests.

One feller wuz cramin' for a spellin' exam and asked another guy whut a hypocrite was. The first guy said, "One who goes to his final exams with a smile on his face." Come to think of it I have seen quite a few smiles today.

The chemistry perffesser asked this question, "What is it that pervades all space, which no wall or door or other substance can shut off?" One specially bright student hollered out, "The smell of garlic!"

All durin' test week these here teachers are awfully tight reined in the class room. Today an English teacher asked my nephew if he had whispered today durin' class. He said "only wunst." Then she ask the boy next to him, "Should Droopy have said wunst?" The boy said, "No'm, he should have sed twict."

I was down town the other day in the drug store when a feller from school came in and said to the druggist, "Give me some prepared monaceticacidester of salicylic acid." The druggist said, "Do you mean aspirin?" "That's cc he said, "I caccnc ccccccET right," he said, "I never can think of that name." He sure did have a limited vocabulary.

By the way, about a week and seven days ago a former alumnim of the school wuz here a visitin'. He tole me he had graduated from barber college out East. I ask him what they're college yell wuz and he said, "cut his lip, cut his jaw, leave his face raw, raw, raw!"

Two fellers wuz discussin the ladies and wuz sayin',
 "Why don't you like girls?"
 "They're biased!"
 "Biased?"

"Yes, it's bias this and bias that until I'm broke!"

Well, I've got to close fer now. You all have a good time over the holidays and be real careful and we will see you all next year.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from your ol' Uncle Dudley.

FHC LIBRARY CLUB DISCUSSES PROJECT

At the second meeting of the Library Club on November 3, the group discussed a project to be carried out later in the year and a committee was chosen to work out the plans.

Officers of the club are Lavonne James, president; Cathy Branham, vice president; Rosiland Taylor, secretary; Dot Brasfield, treasurer and Doris Dowdy, reporter.

This club, composed of the students who work in the library with Miss Jane Williams as the sponsor, is looking forward to the time when the new library is complete so they will be able to serve the student body more efficiently.

Dear Mother used to sit and sew, while listening to the radio. Our sox were darned, our buttons, tight; neatly she mended every night. Two buttons off Dad's shirt I see—for who can sew and watch TV.

Nothing is easier than fault-finding; no talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business.

It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice.

PAT'S PRATTLE

Christmas vacation is here! The long-awaited day has crept upon us, and we're all turning homeward, led by thoughts of family, friends, and food. No teachers, classes and exams for a few weeks - just snow, mistletoe and Christmas trees!

Many students will go home, not alone, but carrying with them thoughts of a "special someone"; and these thoughts will stay with them throughout the holidays, presenting themselves at the most unexpected times. . . . As LINDA EDWARDS helps cut a Christmas tree she will probably be assailed by the wish that VISTON MOORE were there to help her; while BETTY SUE FAUGHT, instead of mentally numbering the colored balls she hangs on her tree, will be counting the days until she sees her steady, Darrell Beard, again.

Instead of being the conventional dreams of Santa Claus, PAT KURZ's dreams will likely concern a tall red-haired lad named JACK ESSLINGER; and JEWEL ETHRIDGE will surely have similar visions, for she and BILL TAYLOR are going steady also.

As HAZEL MELTON assists in the making of cakes, pies and puddings, she'll wish several times that MAX RAY were there to sample a few bites of the delicacies; and MARY ALICE SANDUSKY will spend many minutes reading letters which arrive from PHIL THOMAS.

Christmas Eve will find NANCY SMITH wistfully thinking of LYNN ANDERSON, and how they would enjoy singing carols together; her eyes will rest on a gift under the tree and for the hundredth time she'll wonder what Lynn has sent her.

Then Christmas morning when MARILYN DODD awakens, her first thought will doubtless be of basketball star, Gerald Lusk, instead of the gifts under the tree.

Others who will probably remember many delightful hours together are the recently dating couples LAVONNE JAMES and "DUB" MCCLISH; SUE LOFTIN and DON GREEN; VIRGINIA SHUPP and BILL LANE and IRMA RUTH KEY and RICHARD KRUSE.

Yes, we may be away from FHC for a few weeks, but there have been friendships and ties

The Lions Roar

By Ancil Jenkins

The heads of the FHC basketball team are "bloody but unbowed". The Lions have been up against some of the best competition in the state of Tennessee and have done themselves proud. The Lions threw a large scare into the team from UTMB before being overtaken in the last few minutes. The Lipscomb Bisons ran into a team that fought its heart out, but the superior height and experience were overwhelming and the Lions were edged out again. However, the Lions are gaining experience each game and some teams in the future had better look out!!

Intramural basketball got off to a roaring start as the Philos nosed out the Sigma Rhos 46-45. The Philos jumped off to an early lead and held it during the first half. Toward the end of the half the Sigma Rho battled back and cut the lead to five points. The second half rocked along with the Philos in the lead until the last minute of play when Ken Rice sank two charity tosses to put the Sigma Rhos ahead 45-44. The Philos brought the ball down court and Frank Rester sank a set shot from twenty feet out to win the game. Rice led the Sigma Rhos with 17 points and Taylor headed the Philos with 13.

Here is another prediction. With the many bowl games coming up on New Years day, I'll stick my neck out again.

Rose Bowl: This should be one of the best games you will see on January 1. It will be the single wing of UCLA against the many offenses of Michigan State. Michigan State won year before last but they won't this time. Too much Bob Davenport for UCLA to lose.

Orange Bowl: Maryland vs Oklahoma. This is another top game. Both teams are undefeated and are ranked one and two in the nation. I'm afraid to predict this one, it will probably be a tie. However it will depend on the breaks. Here is a shot in the dark—Maryland.

Cotton Bowl: At the time of this writing, the visiting team has not been picked to face TCU. But whoever it is, they will have a tough time stopping Jim Swink.

Sugar Bowl: Only Pittsburg has been picked. Pitt stopped the winning streak of West Virginia a few weeks and are tough. But any Southeastern team could give them a rough afternoon.

That's all for this time, see you next month.

Great souls have wills; feeble ones have only wishes. He who has a firm will molds the world to himself.

Fruitlessness in the Christian life is evidence of a broken relationship.

JERRY MOORE shoots from under the basket. Other players shown are Fred Creasy (12) and Billy Bowen (14) for FHC; Crenshaw (32) for Lipscomb.

We seldom find persons whom we acknowledge to be possessed of good sense, except those who agree with us in opinion.

Security lives in our hearts, and cannot come to us from any material objects we may gather around us.

A capacity crowd packed into the Chester County High School gymnasium to watch the David Lipscomb Bisons nose out the scrappy young Freed-Hardeman College Lions as the highlight of the annual homecoming.

The game started fast as Freed-Hardeman jumped into an early lead. Lipscomb gradually drew closer and the score at the end of the first quarter was 19-16 in favor of the home team.

The superior height and experience of the Nashville team showed itself as the Bisons pulled ahead at half time 28-33. Scrapping all the way, they matched the taller team basket for basket with Moore and Fred Creasy leading the scoring, the Lions trailed at the end of the third period 61-70.

The Lions came fighting back in the fourth period but could not overcome the lead. The Lions were hurt by the loss of McLean who left the game with an injured ankle.

Moore and Creasy led the Lions with 28 and 22 points respectively. Brannon led Lipscomb with 22.

Christ's religion needs examples rather than arguments.

PHI KAPPAS DOWNED BY ALL-STAR TEAM

The Intramural All-Stars downed the Champion Phi Kappas in the Pre-Thanksgiving annual contest 12-0. Joe Taylor set up both touchdowns with shifty broken-field runs.

Giffen kicked off for the stars but the usual steam-roller offense of the Phi Kappas was bogged down by the mud. The champions kicked and the All-Stars threw three incomplete passes and had to kick. This was the story for the first half with neither team scoring.

Midway of the third quarter, Herren punted and Joe Taylor ran the punt deep into Phi Kappa territory. A pass to Walt Fennell in the end zone a few plays later brought the score. The Phi Kappas roared back and marched down the field.

Herren threw to Don Harriman for what looked like the tying score, but the officials ruled that Harriman caught the ball out of the end zone. A few plays later the All-Stars with the ball at mid-field, sent Taylor around end to about the fifteen yard line. A pass to Ken Rice brought the score.

TWIRP WEEK TERMED "LEAP WEEK" BY BOYS

The girls on FHC's campus were given their "chance" November 14-18, which was Twirp Week.

Many of the students had not witnessed such an occasion, which made the week even more fun. Knocking knees and rosy cheeks characterized some of the girls, but they were determined to convert some of the bashful boys into the field of dating.

The girls found out what it takes to ask for a date, while the boys found it is not always easy to say "yes" or "no".

Twirp week proved to be profitable to some. Looking over the campus one will find several new couples as results of "leap week" as many of the boys put it.

Some of the boys who seem to be pretty busy last week were: Dub McClish, Richard Kruse, Lee Smith, James Cantor, Chester Giffin, Ronnie Sartain and Landon Saunders.

The thoughtless are rarely wordless.

Recently students were approached by inquiring reporters and asked a certain question. Here are some of the answers given to the question, What do you think about some of these boys not asking some of these girls for dates?

"It all depends on the boy — he may like to take a girl out but he's too shy." Raymond Voogt.

"I think it's a crying shame." Margaret Goff.

"The boys don't know what they are missing. I don't know whether it's good or bad." Leonard Smith.

"I guess it is their business." Helen Burney.

"They would enjoy it if they would ask a few girls." Ronnie Hill.

"I haven't thought about it." Mary Alice Sandusky.

"I think it's wonderful." Jesse Fleming.

"I think they're missing out on a lot of fun." Ann Tatum.

"Freed-Hardeman is not the place for boys if they aren't going to ask the girls for dates." Marilyn Dodd.

"I think it's pretty terrible, because there's one in particular I'm interested in!" Wilma Evans.

"I think they should have an old bachelor's club with second year boys as officers." Betty Lancaster.

"Mothers don't bite—I wonder where the boys got the idea that these girls do." Virginia McDaniel.

"They need to wake up and observe the prospects." R. L. M.

"They should try it sometime." Alice Chick.
