NUMBER 12

Malone And Karnes To Edit Student Publications Hendrix And Epperson Head '61-'62 Student Council

Eddie Hendrix and Judy Epperson were chosen president and secretary of the 1961-62 Student Council in the May 11 student body election.

The election was sponsored and carried out by the present student council officers. President Jimmy Miller states that it was one of the closest elections this year. A first primary election was held May 5 to select the three final candidates for each office. An active campaign marked by rallies, posters, and speeches was conducted by the finalists. Other candidates for president were Jerry Butler from Little Rock, Arkansas; and Milton Sewell from Florence, Alabama. Other secretarial candidates were Jane Eubanks, from Paragould, Arkansas; and Libby Sexton from Bolivar, Tennessee.

The new president, Eddie Hendrix, is a sophomore from Chattanooga, who has shown leadership ability by participating in many activities this year. He is a member of the Phi Kappa social club and the Preachers' Club and is a Bible major. Judy Epperson is a pert cheerleader from Haleyville, Alabama. She is a freshman education major and a member of the Philo social club.

These two students will take the positions of Jimmy Miller and Sue Harvick who have capably headed the council this year, planning and directing many campus activities.

School Flag Is Presented

Phillip Mayberry designed the official FHC flag that was presented by the sophomore class to the student body in the chapel service May 2.

Several designs were submitted and this one was chosen to represent FHC. Across the top is written Freed-Hardeman College, in the middle stands a Bible symbolizing the Bible as heart of the curriculum. On one side is the FHC bell tower, on the other, the Lion, symbolizing the varsity sports.

This flag was presented along with two 50 star United States flags.

Walker Whittle, class sponsor, gave a patriotism stimulating introduction to the program which consisted of the singing of "The Spangled Banner," and "To Thee, Our Dearest FHC". Music was provided by band members with John Hollingsworth leading the audience in the songs.

FHC TO OPEN KINDERGARTEN

Freed-Hardeman College will open a kindergarten beginning in September, 1961. It will be under the supervision of Brad Brumley, Chairman of the Education Department. The school will be housed in the newly acquired property known as the Clopton-Lloyd Education Building. The school will be conducted from 8 A.M. till 12 noon Monday through Friday.

Johnny Malone, 1961-62 SKY ROCKET editor, talks over plans for next year with Marilyn Karnes, who will edit the TREASURE CHEST.

Commencement Will Be May 25, 1961

The fifty-third Commencement Exercises will be held at Freed-Hardeman College on May 25 for 118 graduates who will receive the Associate in Arts Degree. This is the largest graduating class in the history of the school so far as the present college officials can determine.

The Baccalaureate Service will be conducted in the Henderson Church of Christ at 10 a. m. Elvis Haffard of Mayfield, Kentucky, will deliver the sermon. At the 6:30 p. m. Commencement Exercises the address will be given by Mr. William D. Baird, Lieutenant Governor of Tennessee, who is from Lebanon.

Nineteen states and three foreign countries (Canada, Malaya, and New Zealand) are represented in the class. The three top states are Tennessee with 49 students, Kentucky with 12 and Alabama with 11.

Of the 118 graduates, 53 are men and 65 are women. Of the varied fields of preparation, 49 are majoring in education. The three next highest are Bible, 26; business administration, 20 and liberal arts, 10.

HONOR ROLL

According to Dean E. Claude Gardner, the Valedictorian is Miss Sherra Martin of Corinth, Mississippi, who has majored in liberal arts. She has a 3.91 quality point average and will graduate summa cum laude. Miss Velma Harrison of Hornbeak, Tennessee, a business administration major, is the salutatorian. She will graduate magna cum laude with a 3.84 quality point average. Other honor students named for magna cum laude honors are Charles Andrew White, Samuel Miao, and Shirley Ruckel. Nine other honor students will graduate cum laude. They are: Judy Mathis, Wanda Carden, Freeda Arnett, Hope Barnett, Ruby Petersen, James Lowrie, Peter Merrick, Janice Pace and Eugenia Proffitt.

Larimore Contributes Books

Recently we learned that Sister Larimore, who, before her marriage to Virgil Larimore of Florence, Alabama, was Mrs. A. B. Barrett, had a number of good books in her home in Henderson. Knowing of her interest in Christian education and particularly of her interest and friendship to Freed-Hardeman College, we contacted her to see if she would contribute the remainder of Brother Barrett's library to the college library. She agreed to do this and recently the books were moved into the Lawhorn Library.

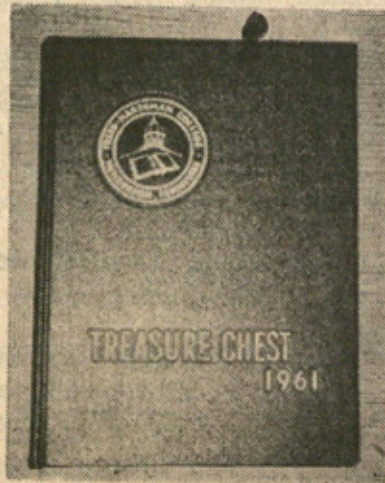

The collection contained quite a variety of excellent works. There are a number of sets such as The Complete Works of Shakespeare With Notes by Malone in eight volumes and The Ridpath's Library of Universal Literature in twenty volumes. In addition to good works of this nature, there are quite a number of volumes of good fiction and other works in History such as McGee's History of Tennessee. Also, there is a miscellaneous collection of books on Health, Science, and Religion. Some of the books have a double value: They are historical in that they were published about a century ago as part of the training program for teachers in the elementary schools, and that they emphasize some values that it would be good to apply to the methods of today.

Wilcoxson Joins Staff

Jess Wilcoxson, of Texarkana, Texas, will become Supervisor of Plant and Grounds at Freed-Hardeman College June 1 according to an announcement by President H. A. Dixon. Wilcoxson, former minister of the Henderson Church of Christ, will succeed Harry Campbell who resigned to accept a position in the physical plant management at Vanderbilt University in Nashville.

Brother Wilcoxson was born in Florence, Alabama. He graduated from Louderdale County High School, Rossville, Alabama, and attended Freed-Hardeman College and David Lipscomb College of Nashville. He has worked for the Western Auto Supply Company, served in the Alabama National Guard, and has preached for churches in Alabama, Georgia, Texas, and Tennessee since 1948.

He was married to Jessie Hagan Young in 1938. They have two daughters, Frances, who married Tommie Davis of Henderson, and Jane, who is now fourteen.

HOPE BARNETT and the TREASURE CHEST STAFF presented an outstanding volume to FHC for 1961.

Editing FHC's student publication for 1961-62 will be Johnny Malone and Marilyn Karnes.

These students were chosen by English teachers on the basis of outstanding scholarship and leadership ability.

Johnny Malone will not begin editing the Sky Rocket as a novice in that field. He has worked for the Chester County Independent and writes a regular column called "Malone's Spyglasses". He is a Sky Rocket staff member and has written a regular column, "Potpourri", and was a member of the Treasurer Chest staff.

Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Malone of Route 3, Henderson. He attended Chester County High School where he received many honors. He was one of the valedictorians of his class, student council vice-president, representative to boys' state, annual staff member, honor club, Latin Club, class president for two years, and a member of FTA and the science club.

He is a liberal arts major and plans to attend the University of Missouri after graduation from FHC. He is a member of the Phi Theta Kappa honor club, and the Phi Kappa social club. When asked his reaction to being selected editor, Johnny said: I am looking forward to editing the Sky Rocket for 1961 and 1962. It will be my aim to follow in the footsteps of previous editors: in maintaining a conservative editorial policy, in publishing the Sky Rocket on the same principles that have guided it for more than 25 years, and in encouraging contributions to the paper from all quarters of the campus, thus encouraging self-expression and writing practice for FHC collegians.

Marilynn Karnes takes the editorship of the Treasure Chest well qualified for the job. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Karnes of Kevil, Kentucky. In high school she had a variety of interests and did several outstanding things. She wrote and directed two musical comedies and directed the junior play in her senior year. Her poetry was published in the "Beta Journal" and "Enlish Review". She was Beta Club vice president, a class officer for two years, and on the debate team. She received several scholastic awards at graduation as well as the citizenship and literary awards.

Here at FHC she is in chorus, science club officer, library club, and a candidate for SNEA vice-president, member of the Phi Theta Kappa, and a Sigma Rho.

She enjoys working with children and gives Sunday School teaching as her first love. She plans to teach and is majoring in secondary education and English.

Concerning being selected as editor she says, "Freed-Hardeman has given me much. I hope that I may give 'Her' and the wonderful people that make her what she is, something in return."

Assistant editors of the Sky Rocket will be picked next year. Assistant Treasure Chest editors (Continued on Page Three)

A Message To High School Seniors

By W. A. Bradfield

Your high school career has or will shortly come to an end. May I congratulate you on your perseverance, diligence and accomplishments. I urge you to continue your education because of the increased opportunities it will afford you to render greater service to God and man.

Freed-Hardeman College is an ideal place for you to begin your higher education. It is fully accredited; it offers a sound academic program; the teachers are experienced and dedicated; the college purposes to offer masterful classroom teaching; wise counseling and guidance are provided; a strong intramural program of sports, music, religious and forensic activities is arranged.

Through eighteen alumni banquets, various literature, High School Day and other activities, we have tried to enlighten you concerning the great opportunities and services provided at Freed-Hardeman College. The college is making forward strides in its work. Our goal is continued progress.

Applications for the fall semester are much higher than at this time last year. We had a record enrollment last September and indications now point to another record this year. It is not yet too late to send your application and ten dollars room reservation deposit, but it may be much later than you think.

Please let us hear from you soon. Address your letters to: W. A. Bradfield, Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tennessee.

Editor's Last Annotation

My congratulations to Johnny Malone on his being selected to edit the Sky Rocket next year. From the work he has done this year, we can foresee a publication of high journalistic standard.

I wish to thank this year's staff members who have worked so diligently to meet the deadlines that seemed to just "slip up" on us. Also to our sponsor, James Potts, goes a warm "Thank you" for so kindly enduring our failures and sharing our moments of success.

We feel a slight pang of sadness as we see our last issue going to press, but add "Good luck and Happy working" to Johnny and his staff.

Linda Dean

Sounds of '61

Congratulations to JERRY FULKERSON and the Intercollegiate Debate Society for a wonderful yearbook in sound, "Sounds of '61".

This is FHC's first attempt at producing such a work, but after hearing this record, we are sure each class will desire to have such memories preserved in lasting sound.

Girls Religious Training Class

The last two Girls Religious Training Class programs have been most interesting and informative.

At the April 10 meeting, Mrs. Jones, assistant supervisor for the girl's dorms, and Dwina Whittle, daughter Walker Whittle, presented a skit on how to keep sick little girls happy.

Mrs. Griffin, from one of the local flower shops, gave a practical demonstration on flower arrangements. FHC students all love and appreciate Mrs. Griffin for the kindness she shows by sending flowers to families of students in a time of bereavement.

Monday night, April 24, Mr. Brad Brumley gave a talk on "The Basis for a Happy Marriage."

He discussed all the attributes which constitute a successful married life and then listed them together at the conclusion of his talk. Every girl was vitally interested in this applicable discussion because each is now thinking of their plans in relation to this discussion.

This talk is a prerequisite for a forthcoming play entitled "Courtship, Marriage, and Divorce." This is an excellent play planned for the last meeting of this year's Girls' Religious Training Class. Ann Belonie, Hellen Todd, Betty Jo Reaves, and Alice Watson will act out this play written by Miss Lora Laycock.

Secretary Changes

Mrs. James Jones of Lyster, Georgia will become Alumni Office Secretary June 1, succeeding Mrs. Andy Maness who resigned to work with her husband in the insurance business and to reassume her duties as homemaker.

Wanda Carden of the class of 1961 will become secretary to Dean E. Claude Gardner replacing Joanne Lawson who resigned to continue her education at Western Kentucky State Teachers College in Bowling Green.

Mrs. David Mills of Huntsville, Alabama, will succeed Mrs. James Grotts in the Alumni Office. The Grotts will move to Carbondale, Illinois to work with the church there.

POT POURRI

WRITING FINIS TO A GOOD YEAR

By Johnny Malone

It's been a big year! For most of us we've been given more than we deserve in the way of good health, good luck, and good friends. It all makes for reflection and retrospect.

Closing Meditations

In a few days this school year will be over. Many of us will be facing only a temporary separation from FHC, while others will never again return to be students here, or on any other Christian college campus. Timely words to the many returning are those I remember hearing constantly repeated by a teacher in high school, just before the dismissal for holidays: "Remember, you are what you are on holiday." Because we are students of a college of the nature of FHC, these words should be arresting to us. During our activities on the campus we are constantly enjoying the fellowship of, and instruction from, fellow Christians. We are, to a large degree, shielded from the corruptive influences of evil associates harbored from the blasts of pernicious doctrines, and encouraged in our battles against temptation. However, holidays bring a change of environment. Even though many of us will return to God-fearing parents, the feeling of liberty from college restraints and study discipline may suggest to us a similar rest in our duties as Christians, and a temporary lowering of our standards. But the Christian's life is not one which alternates between periods of diligent effort and faithfulness, and periods of ease and worldliness. Just so long as the Christian is in his mortal body, he must offer it, and his whole transformed being, as a living sacrifice to God. Rom. 12:1,2.

To the many who are not returning to this or any other Christian college, the challenge of life should be recognized. We have long been waiting for these days, and preparing ourselves by the learning of vital Bible principles, but now comes the test: will we practice that which we have learned?

I personally have enjoyed the classes and the instructors. I really get a kick out of my English and journalism teacher, Monsieur Jimmy Potts. He has an almost awe-inspiring backlog of diverse and interesting information taken principally from personal experience.

Then there's the venerable Bro. Roland, my instructor in the Old Testament triad of Moses, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy. Adept in Bible instruction, he is probably the youngest-in-heart on campus.

Mr. Thomas Scott has been a real help to me and about 100 other fledgling historians struggling in the throes of that havoc wreaked by a notorious course titled Survey of Civilization 102. There is more than one collegian glad that he curves the grades.

And then there's that General Biology course that's under the tutelage of one Mr. Howard Trull. I don't like to brag about anyone etc., etc., but I am not the only one who thinks that he has nearly reached perfection in that subject. In short, he has an amazing mastery of a difficult subject.

Mrs. Harry Campbell, who teaches le francais and likes to give regular quizzes on irregular verbs, has a wit of wits. When she smiles, you smile too. Little things like that sorta clear up the cobwebs when one can't remember the third person singular of recevoir.

The above-mentioned have been my teachers this school year, which is another way of saying that you have had some teachers too. You, no doubt, have about the same good reflections on your teachers as I have mine. We can all write notes as I've written above. But some things are not so easily expressed. Pertaining to inspiration, admiration, and appreciation some thoughts are hard to put on paper.

It is for these reasons that I echo the words of one-half thousand other FHC collegians:

"Thanks a million for making it a good year for us."

The events of '60-'61 are now almost memories alone. Pause, and consider for a moment the challenge of Joshua, "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." (Josh. 24:15) that your determination might be even stronger as you stand on the threshold of an unknown future, and confidently affirm with the Apostle Paul, "I know whom I have believed." II Tim. 2:12.

that several other people have too. Right Tom Harris?

Is Bloomingburg trying to help the student center? He tried to sell a piece of cake by saying, "It's good for your expansionist program." Maybe he was just trying to help us broaden out.

The students of FHC would like to send their sincerest sympathy to the inmates of ACC. Some of the students decided that the band members had been camping out for a month. But maybe they like cold ham sandwiches.

I'd like to thank Wendell Bloomingburg and Jewel Goodman. Without them this column would have never been possible.

Like the little boy said as he pinned the tail on the donkey, "This is the end."

A bachelor's degree is all right but most college girls would rather have the bachelor.

This year at FHC is almost over and my space has been filled. (I can just hear all those sighs of relief!). I thought my head was empty in September, but by now I have written all that I knew and a lot I didn't. For the final issue you'll get the last tidbits of my useless information.

Now that the annuals have arrived people have begun their annual flattery. There will be a lot of compliments dished out the next few days. When Myrna Pike asked R. J. Hearn to sign her yearbook, he wrote: "We are supposed to let our lights shine, but not all night!"

Why does a certain student's wife go barefoot in chapel hall? Maybe they do things like that in Texas. Surely must be hard to break old habits.

From the looks of a particular picture in the annual, the freshmen learned how to get away from the library pretty fast too. The captain says, "Freshmen soon learn the way to the library," and the whole bunch is swarming away from it.

Ever-faithful Jewel Goodman suggested that I write about what people plan to do this summer. For a start she gave me this list: Jewell Goodman, pick cotton; June Hamby, pick peas; Gloria Pendergrass, go barefoot—she's from Arkansas, you know.

Mr. Robert Witt finally confessed what I've been thinking for two years. He said, "I'm only a half Witt." Then he hastened to add, "My mother was a Smith."

I'd like to give a special word of thanks to Mr. Thomas Scott. In his latest chapel speech he explained to me what I've been doing for the past two years. I must admit he's right—I have broadened out. My only consolation is

Phi Beta Lambda Attends Convention

Juniors Honor Seniors With Old South Banquet

The junior honored the seniors with a banquet May 4 at the New Southern Hotel in Jackson.

The theme "The Old South" prevailed throughout the program. Tables were decorated with magnolia leaves and white candles. After the welcoming addresses by class presidents, Tom Heinzelman and Charles White, John Hollingsworth evoked peals of laughter with his delightful renditions of appropriate Civil War selections. Mr. Claude Hall made a memorable after-dinner speech that was sprinkled with well-timed advice.

A quartet from David Lipscomb College presented entertainment and brought the lovely evening to a pleasant close.

A group of 19 business majors attended the Seventh Annual State Convention of the FBLA in Nashville April 28-29.

The War Memorial Building was the setting for contests, speeches, and election of state officers. FBLA members from various parts of the state of Tennessee attended to represent their school in the competition. FHC walked away with awards in every field of competition entered. Red Mansel and Hope Barnett were chosen Mr. and Mrs. Future Business Executive; Charles Blackburn was elected state vice president; Joyce Carpenter was elected West state representative; Velma Harrison won first place in the vocabulary contest, Freeda Fuller won second, and Jane Roberts won third; Rose Nickolson won first place in the speech contest.

FHC won third place in the state activities and projects contest for the year 1960-61. The work of the club as a whole determined this. With more work and interest in the club next year FHC can win first place and bring home the trophy.

Our Valedictorian And Salutatorian

Velma Harrison and Sherra Martin are highest honor graduates.

Congratulations, Sherra And Velma

The valedictorian and salutatorian of FHC's graduating class are Sherra Martin and Velma Harrison.

Sherra is an attractive blond from Corinth, Mississippi, with many interests. Whatever she does she does well; and she has found many things to do.

In high school, she was interested in studies, mastered the courses, and graduated as valedictorian. She is majoring in liberal arts and has a keen interest in art. She enjoys portrait painting, sculpture, & distractions. This year, she was art editor for the Treasure Chest.

Both this year and last, she has been a Philo and participated in intramurals. She is a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta, which is FHC's highest honor society.

Sherra represented the Sophomore class on the Student Council for 1960-61. She is a member of the chorus, which has just returned from a four-day tour through several states.

Velma Harrison, from Hornbeak, Tennessee, was an active high school student. She was valedictorian, most courteous, best all-around, best citizen, most studious, and most school spirited, all in her senior year.

She has a warm, congenial personality that accounts for her large circle of friends.

She has been a Phi Beta Lambda member both years and served as treasurer for the club this year. At state convention she won first place in the state vocabulary contest.

It is interesting to note that Sherra and Velma have been close friends both years and live across the hall from each other in Hall-Roland Hall.

Home Economics Club Officers

The Home Economics Club met April 24 to elect the president and secretary for next year. Vernice Jarrett was elected as president and Sandra McDonald, secretary. The vice-president and historian will be elected next fall from the freshman class.

Vernice is a freshman from Erin, Tennessee. She plans to major in home economics education. Sandra, also a freshman, is from Lafayette, Tennessee, and plans to major in general home economics.

The officers this past year were: Opal Jeffreys, president; Sandra Henry, secretary; Hellen Todd, vice-president; and Nancy Terry, historian. Janice Patrick served as state treasurer of the Tennessee Home Economics Association College Club Section.

Homemakers Attend Convention

The Tennessee Dietetic Association and the Tennessee Home Economics Association met for a convention at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis on April 14, 15, 16, 1961.

Miss Reba Tucker and the following girls attended: Vernice Jarrett, Linda Thornton, Jeanne Williams, Judy Collier, Opal Ray Jeffreys, and Janice Patrick.

At a joint meeting of both associations on Friday night, Janice Patrick participated on the program with the other state officers.

In the election on Saturday morning, Vernice Jarrett ran for the office of 2nd vice-president, but was defeated. At this general meeting, Mary Jo Moore, of David Lipscomb and a former student of Freed-Hardeman, competed with twelve other college girls to win the title of "Miss Tennessee Home Economics." Also at this meeting, the retiring officers gave their reports. Janice Patrick gave the Treasurer's report at this time.

On Saturday evening, the group enjoyed a boat ride on the Mississippi on the "Memphis Queen."

It was a very profitable and enjoyable convention for all who attended.

MALONE AND KARNES

are Vernice Jarrett and James Tollerson. Both of these students have made high scholastic records for themselves and are capable of assisting Marilyn in this work.

Vernice is from Erin, Tennessee, taking a pre-nursing course. She is a member of the home economics club and was a candidate for a state office. She is a Phi Kappa and a member of the SNEA.

James Tollerson is from LaGrange, Georgia. He has impressed students with his direct manner and clear thinking. His major is Bible and he enjoys playing tennis during his leisure time.

The business club has a tremendous amount of work to do before the Treasure Chest can go to press. John Bob Hall from Henderson, has been chosen to head this department. John Bob was assistant to the business manager this year. He is a member of the chorus, one of the college quartets, the Philos, the science club and several other organizations.

Lions Rack Up More Victories As Season Ends

Donny Santucci drives out a hard single against Ole Miss Rebels.

Lambuth Eagles Overpower Lions On Diamond

The Lambuth College Eagles blew a four run lead over Freed-Hardeman, then came back in the last two innings to overpower the visiting Lions by a score of 11-5.

Lambuth was sitting on top of a 5-1 lead going into the sixth inning with Al Barnett going with a three hitter. The Lions then exploded with three runs. They kept the rally going in the next inning, disposing of Barnett in favor of Dale McGee and tying the score at 5-5.

Lambuth got its first lead in the third with the aid of a couple of hits at the expense of starter Everett Ballentine. After Freed-Hardeman scored their first run in the top of the fifth the Eagles scored two more in their half of the inning.

Jim Vickers had two hits for the Lions. Reliever Benny Horton smashed out a home-run in the fifth.

Freed-Hardeman Netters Roll Over UTMB

Freed-Hardeman slapped UTMB with a 7-1 loss in tennis here last week.

Harold Neal, FCH's No. 1 man, turned aside Steve Tucker 6-1 and 6-0 to get the Lion netters off on a winning pattern.

The victory brought Freed-Hardeman even on the season with a 1-1 record.

The complete results were as follows:
Neal (FHC) over Tucker (UT), 6-1, 6-0.

F. T. Patton (FHC) over Keith Johnson (UT), 7-5, 6-2.

Gresham (UT), 6-3, 6-0.

Lions Edge Lambuth Eagles In Tennis Match

The Lambuth College Eagles failed in their attempt to win two tennis matches in as many days when they met the Lions here. The Lions recorded a 5-4 victory.

Lambuth broke even in the singles division with three wins and three losses but the doubles told the story when the Lions took two of three. The match was tied until the last doubles event.

The three Lambuth winners in the singles division were Thomas Welker, Don Williams and Danny Akin while Williams and Welker combined to give the Eagles their only doubles victory.

The Lion's singles winners were Harold Neal, F. T. Patton, and Jack Williams. In the doubles, Neal-Patton and Williams-Harrison won for FHC.

Complete results are as follows:

Harold Neal (FHC) over Ray Mills (L) 6-0, 6-0.

F. T. Patton (FHC) over Willie Chandler (L) 6-4, 0-6, 8-6.

Jack Williams (FHC) over Jack Everett (L) 3-2, 2-6, 8-6.
