Outstanding Students Recognized In Who's Who

Fifteen students at Freed-Hardeman have been accepted for recognition in the WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGES.

Recognition by this organization is an honor that is received by approximately one half of one percent of all the nation's college and university students.

In addition to having their biographies printed in the directory, the recipients of this honor receive a certificate of recognition.

The students at Freed-Hardeman were selected on the basis of scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship, service to the school, and promise of future usefulness, by a committee composed of officers of the student council, officers and a sponsor of the Phi Theta Kappa, the dean of students, the academic dean, and the registrar.

DAVID JACKSON, of Williamsburg, Virginia, has a scholastic average of 3.68, as a Bible Major. He is the editor-in-chief of the 1970 TREASURE CHEST, and is serving as president of the Phi Theta Kappa and as vice-president of the student council. He is also a member of the Madrigals. David was the recipient of the Martha Dean Roberts Memorial Scholarship. He plans to continue his education at Harding College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce F. Jackson.

MEREDITH BOBBITT of Memphis, Tennessee, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bobbitt. Having a cumulative average of 3.667, Meredith is a member of the Phi Theta Kappa, and is the copy editor for the TREASURE CHEST. She plans to attend Harding College, where she will major in elementary education.

Majoring in pre-law, JOHN OVERTON, of Bolivar, Tennessee, has been an active member of the Intercollegiate Debate Society. John is president of this group, as well as of the Phi Rho Pi. He plans to attend Memphis State University. John plans to practice law in Tennessee, and possibly enter politics. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Overton are his parents.

JANE WOODRING, a pre-nursing major from Rineyville, Kentucky, has been on the president's list consistently. She has served as SNEA student worker, and is assistant editor of this year's TREASURE CHEST. She plans to attend Eastern Kentucky University to earn a B. S. degree and become a registered nurse. Jane's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Woodring.

Known on campus as "Hy", ELVIS H. HUFFARD, JR. of Henderson, Tennessee, has held a number of offices in campus groups. He is treasurer of Collegiate Civitans, and vice-president of Delta Psi Omega. He is a member of the Evangelistic Forum, of the Phi Theta Kappa, and the Music Club. In addition to maintaining a 3.282 scholastic average, he is a member of the tennis club and the college chorus. After attending David-Lipscomb College, Hy plans to continue his education in medical school.

Majoring in mathematics, KAY PEDIGO, from Hillsboro, Tennessee, has a scholastic average of 3.92. Kay is vice-president of the Phi Theta Kappa, and serves as an associate editor of the TREASURE CHEST. She also sings in the college chorus. After completing her education at Harding College, she plans to teach trigonometry in high school. Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Pedigo.

GAYLE FISH is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fish, of Beech Grove, Indiana. A social work major, she has maintained an over-all average of 3.146. Gayle is a member of the student council, and she is serving as the editor of organization of the TREASURE CHEST. She plans to work at Camp Shiloh before continuing her education.

From Henderson, Tennessee, is DWINA WHITTLE, who is majoring in biology education. A member of the Phi Theta Kappa, she has a scholastic average of 3.75. Dwina is presently serving as editor of the SKYROCKET. She is also a member of the college chorus. After graduation from Freed-Hardeman, she plans to enroll at Harding College. Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker Whittle are Dwina's parents.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Troup, BARBARA TROUP, of Huntsville, Alabama, has a scholastic average of 3.46. She is the president of the Business Club and the secretary of the Phi Theta Kappa. Barbara is a member of the Madrigals, and is also on the staff of the TREASURE CHEST. She plans to major in secretarial science at Harding College.

Sigs Capture Six Straight Trophies

The Sigma Rho social club has come out on top of the competition again to lay hold of the social club trophy for the 1969 fall semester.

This is the sixth consecutive semester the Sigma Rho's have won the trophy.

By taking first place in five of the seven areas of competition - team sports, individual and dual sports, speech festival, attendance and scholarship - and second place in the other two - chapel programs and sportsmanship -- the Sigma Rho's walked away from their competition with a total of 165 points.

Phi Kappa gained 100 points to come in second, Alpha Tau 95 points for third, Eupathian 85 points for fourth and Philo's 80 points for the fifth place.

The judges select first, second, third and fourth in each of the seven areas of competition. Points for each area are awarded as follows: 25 points in each area for first place, 20 points in each area for second, 15 for third, 10 for fourth and 5 for fifth.

This year Keith is the assistant editor of the SKYROCKET. Majoring in business administration, he plans to continue his education at the University of Tennessee at Martin.

Preaching Lectures Held

Visitors from around the area came to the campus of F-HC Monday through Wednesday of this week to attend the Lectures on Preaching.

Eight speakers, all from the faculty of the college, were featured during this lecture series. They stressed the preacher and his work with the congregation, selection of sermons, and practical helps for personal work programs.

Chapel services were held in the Henderson church building during the lectureship. Three speeches were given during these morning meetings. R.C. Oliver, English instructor, spoke on "Great Preachers and Great Preaching." Robert Witt, chairman of the mathematics department, gave the audience some useful material in his speech "Practical Pointers for Preachers." Bill Naylor, chairman of the department of Education and Psychology, discussed "The Preacher and Promoting the Teaching Program." On both of the first two nights of the lectureship, two thirty minute speeches were given in the college auditorium. Jess Wilcoxson, business manager of the school, spoke Monday night on the topic, "Working With Young People." Thomas Scott, chairman of the social science department, spoke concerning "Training Classes."

Tuesday night speakers were Thomas Warren, Bible department chairman, who spoke on "Debating", and Cecil Wright, Bible instructor, who delivered a speech concerning "Selecting Sermons."

Wednesday night closed the lectureship with a sermon by David Thomas, Academic Dean of the college, which was delivered in the church building. His topic was "The Purpose of Preaching."

Dean Huffard made this comment, "These are very fine students, deserving of this honor, and will, perhaps, receive even greater honors in life."

The Real Image

A young lady, who recently was graduated from Ole Miss, visited our campus. The comments about the student body as a whole were very favorable.

She stated that this was the best-looking and most well-mannered student body she had ever seen. But the thing that impressed her most was the fact that we could get so much fun out of just being together.

This is the impression that Freed-Hardeman students have made on people for many years. We as students are known throughout the world for our fine Christian spirit.

But if this young woman, and many more who have the same impression of us were to enroll here and if they were privileged to see the student body through the eyes of a student, would their opinion of us change? Are we "white-washed sepulchres?"

What would they think if they could see some of our boys sneaking into their rooms at night drunk? And the cigarette smell that reeks from some, would that make for a better opinion?

Do you think one could be complimentary if they were to sit in on some of the bull sessions and hen parties and hear some of the language used by boys and girls alike?

Of course there are the matters of lying, cheating, stealing, over-familiarity, short skirts, and misbehavior in church services as well as in chapel services, but Bro. Trull and Bro. Holland covered those matters much more thoroughly and competently than I could. All I have to say is "AMEN!"

We also laugh and crack jokes about having the "Christian attitude," but is it really a laughing matter?

What's the answer to all this?

It would take a Solomon to figure it out. Since we have no Solomon, we must look into ourselves to find the answer.

We must examine ourselves and change the inward man before we ever find the solution.

Religion in Life

A Man For All Seasons

by Bill Collins

A recent film portraying the life of Thomas More was entitled "A Man for all Seasons," and on considering this title, I couldn't help thinking that this is precisely what God wants, a man for all seasons.

By a "man for all seasons" I mean a Christian who is totally committed to the cause of Christ; one who realizes what real values are and who gives priority in his life to those things which are spiritual. We may call it putting the kingdom of God first and foremost in our lives all of the time, that is, "for all seasons."

But what do we mean by "putting the kingdom first"? So often we may have only a vague idea of what this really demands of us. Of course, we naturally associate the kingdom of God with the church, and rightly so. The kingdom is the church; the church is the kingdom. This is made very clear for us in such passages as Matthew 6:10; 16:16ff; Colossians 1:13.

However, to say that the kingdom is the church, or the church is the kingdom does not tell us how to "put the kingdom first." It simply tells us what the kingdom is.

But there is another definition of the kingdom of God, one that tells us not only what the kingdom is, but also how to put it first in our lives. This definition of the kingdom is found in Matt. 6:10.

The kingdom of God is here equated with doing His will. This goes further back than our original definition of the kingdom as the church. The kingdom of God, or the New Testament church, is brought about by doing God's will. Where God's will is being done, the kingdom will be established and will continue. Where God's will is not done, the kingdom cannot exist. So we must learn to equate the kingdom with doing God's will. Therefore, to "put the kingdom first" is to give the will of God priority in our lives; to be the kind of Christian God wants us to be, that is, a "man for all seasons," one who will do God's will all of the time.

All of us know what we have to do in the kingdom collectively, that is, when we meet together as a group. We know from God's word that He requires us to meet on the first day of the week to worship Him. Furthermore, He has made it clear to us in what manner He desires to be worshipped.

But in worshipping God on the first day of the week, are we doing all of God's will for us? Are we being the kind of Christian that God wants us to be, simply by putting in a weekly appearance?

The answer must be "No!" What God wants is a "man for all seasons," not just one day a week.

In our zeal for remembering that the kingdom is the church, we may sometimes forget that the kingdom is also doing the will of God and is an individual matter, for Jesus said, "The kingdom of God is within you." (Luke 17:21). Therefore, God expects obedience from the citizens of his kingdom, not only collectively when we gather together to worship, but also individually, from each one of us. But when does God demand this obedience from us as individual Christians? At all seasons! Christianity is not a matter of convenience; it is a matter of commitment!

God wants a constant Christian, "a man for all seasons" who values the Saviour as being the most important thing in the world all of the time.

So we conclude with the exhortation of the apostle Paul to Timothy, "Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season." (II Tim. 4:2)

May God help us to do so.

Flight

By Jim Jones

Something there is within me that stirs

From time to time and will not rest.

Exactly what it is I do not know.

It seems, on occasion to be some Dim-remembered scene from childhood.

A chance remark, or time of year, Or fragrance floating in the air is all

That's needed to bring it new to mind.

Yet even then it isn't clear, and

Rather than a picture reproduced in Sharp focus, there is instead a

Hazy view of feelings which run So deep into my soul that I must cry

Because of the inability to give voice

To that stirring. At other times that Same soul seems possessed by wander-lust

Which causes it to soar detached From this clod of clay with which

It must plod through the years of time;

To look upon the world and all that's

In it with an eternal eye, and in

So doing, keep lips tightly pressed

To keep from yelling feelings of contempt

For what we pass for life down here below.

That part of me grows tired with day-

To-day conflicts and feels the need

To resume the travel which I feel I

Once began so long ago that memory Won't bring it back to mind.

Spirit rested,

I must before long, take up my sojourn

Here and shedding all weight with which I am here encumbered, take flight

In service of that One which sent Me forth in the beginning. This then,

Must be that stirring--a restlessness

To be up and off to a world that

Once known of, cannot be forgotten

Nor accurately remembered, Permit

Me to never to content to mark time

In my abiding here. Help me instead

To so fan that spark within that it

Burns brightly enough to light the path

And warm the flesh as long as there

Is need. That it may give to me determination,

And to others the certain knowledge

That there is, after all, One who calls.

Council Talks With President

The Student Council met with college President E. Claude Gardner last Wednesday to discuss a report which the student group had composed the week before. Much noteworthy dialogue was accomplished in the hour-and-a-half session as the student representatives and the chief administrator viewed the activities of the school in close proximity.

Matters which had been under consideration for some time received fair treatment and close scrutiny. The council suggested that action be taken on the following: Removal of the reassessed parking/registration fee for automobile use, or an alternative plan of better police protection and more accommodative parking facilities; replacement of the television in the student center; permission for the Council to have a drive to raise money to replace the swings on campus; alleviation of the problems mentioned in Professor Tom Holland's chapel talk; and the possibility of extending girls' night out to every night with the same rules as have been adhered to in the past.

Concerning the parking/registration fee there was a lengthy discussion. President Gardner quoted some approximate figures to represent some of the cost of providing parking space on campus. The conclusion was that parking lot repairs would be undertaken last week-end but this project has been delayed.

It was agreed after an exchange of opinion that the television would be repaired and replaced, as suggested, with the Student Council in charge of composing and enforcing the rules of operation. At present the television has not yet been repaired.

At the next meeting of the student council there will be plans discussed relative to the fund-raising project for the replacement of swings on campus.

There was general agreement about the impact and appropriateness of Prof. Holland's chapel speech. President Gardner was thankful to the council for making a move to reaffirm what, as he put it, "has always been our policy at Freed-Hardeman."

The issue about girls' nights out was tabled for discussion with dormitory supervisors and other staff members who would have a direct interest in, and knowledge of, the subject.

President Gardner read a letter from a former student who was responding very favorably to the appearance of the student body during lectureship week. He also made a suggestion that the project of re-finishing desks would be a good project for some student group.

All in all, the meeting was a very successful exchange of ideas and the council has agreed to have regularly-scheduled meetings with President Gardner.

Debate Society Delivers

The Intercollegiate Debate Society, a small but important organization on campus, placed in the State Debate Tournament held February 13 and 14 in Knoxville.

Steve Bowers and John Overton took fourth place in the team debating division, competing against 20 other teams. John Overton also received second place honors in After Dinner Speaking in a field of 26.

The Debate Society was organized in 1962 for those students interested in forensics. Its purpose is to help the members "gain experience in the techniques of public discussion and argumentation." Such experience may be usefully applied in any career area.

The requirements for membership in the Intercollegiate Debate Society are easily met by those who enjoy the challenges of researching current events and competing with other college youths.

Dr. Gerald Fulkerson, head of the speech department at F-HC is the team's coach and sponsor for trips.

Each year a controversial subject is chosen by the sponsors of the Debate Societies all over the United States. Topics alternate between subjects of national and international concern. Last year's topic was America's foreign policy and this year's is, "Resolved, that the federal government should grant annually a specific percentage of its income tax revenue to the state governments."

This topic is debated by teams from Junior and Senior Colleges all over the country. Each team must provide affirmative and negative arguments on the subject to present during the tournaments.

This year's schedule consists of seven tournaments. The team has placed increasingly higher in the first five, which have been at L.S.U., Kansas, Murray State, Knoxville, and Memphis State. The next contest will be held at Mississippi State College for Women on March 5 and 6. It is the last meet before the National Tournament which is held in Detroit the first week in May.

Other activities of the Debate Society include sponsoring the Intramural Speech Festival in October and broadcasting the "Sounds of F-HC" in connection with WFHC.

Campus Civinette Club Chartered

Just another dull club with weary club meetings, no worthwhile purpose, no enthusiasm, and no participation? Not if the Civinettes can help it!

The Civinette Club is the college women's division of Civitan International, a club devoted to the development of good citizenship. The Freed-Hardeman chapter of Civinettes held its organizational meeting in Chapel Hall on February 16 with 65 prospective members attending. The tentative date set for the chartering of the club is March 10.

The Civinettes are sponsored throughout the United States by senior Civitan clubs. Civitan comes from the Latin word "civitas" which means citizenship. The first club was started in Birmingham after World War I. Although it is still Southern-based, its influence spreads throughout the United States, Norway, England, Germany, Canada, Mexico, and Switzerland with approximately 1500 senior clubs.

The Civitans also sponsor junior Civitans, and the Collegiate Civitans, the college division for men. At FHC, the Civinettes and the Collegiate Civitans will have some common projects but will not meet together except for special occasions.

The projects of the club will be toward the betterment of the community. The purpose of the club is to develop good citizenship in each member before building citizenship as a group. It is based on the realization that a group is only as effective as its individual members.

In the initial year, any girl interested in the improvement of public society can join. Afterwards, membership will be by invitation only. Membership dues of $1 should be mailed to Jane Woodring or to Sandra Hixon through the campus mail.

According to Mrs. Scott, chapter sponsor, the organization is a "good, clean, wholesome club." Mr. and Mrs. Scott are active in the Henderson chapter of Civitan International.

The club will meet bi-monthly, at a time and place not yet determined.

Campus Ideals Chosen for 1970

Kay Henry and Lindsey Warren have attained the highest honor possible for students, that of Mr. and Miss F-HC. Kay and Lindsey were selected by the student body because they exemplified the ideals set forth by Freed-Hardeman College.

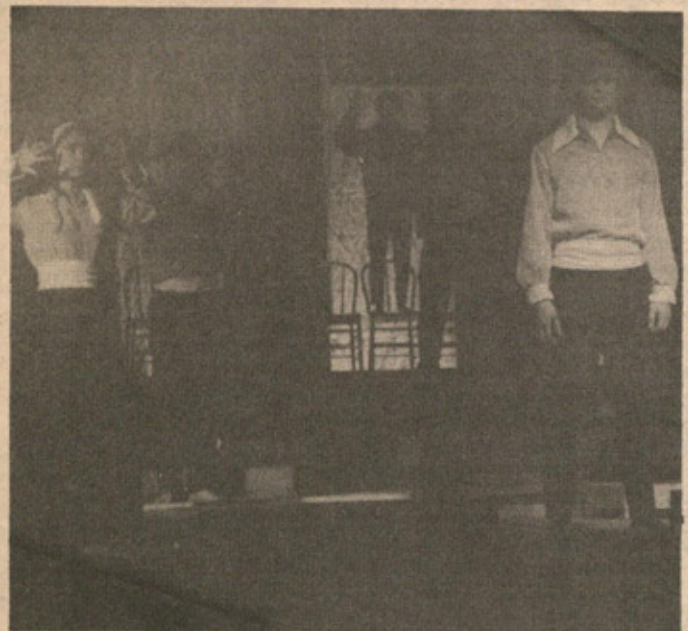

Kay, a vivacious, dark-eyed brunette, hails from Nashville. A long list of honors marks her two years at F-HC. Last year she was a member of the Homecoming Court and was freshman class personality. This year, Kay was in the run-off for Homecoming Queen. She has recently been selected as sophomore class personality and a campus beauty.

Putting her quick smile and ready pep into action, Kay has led cheers for the F-HC Lions for two years, and served as head cheerleader this year.

A member of Alpha Tau Lambda social club, Kay is the present sports captain and was last year's club sweetheart. Kay has worked at the Vincent and East Chester Elementary Schools as a teacher's aid in SNEA. Next fall, Kay plans to attend David Lipscomb College where she will pursue a major in elementary education.

Lindsey, a native of Henderson, is also well-known around the campus at F-HC. He served as president of his freshman class and was elected president of this year's sophomore class by acclamation. Lindsey was also president of Alpha Tau Lambda social club during the spring semester last year.

Lindsey's congeniality won him the title of class personality during both of his years here. A member of the newly chartered Collegiate Civitans, Lindsey was recently elected vice-president. Lindsey's blond hair and good looks also won him a post as an alternate handsome in last week's elections.

Charlotte Wolfe and Larry Hogan portray "Spoon River" characters.

'Spoon River' Stirs Emotions

The theater department at F-HC can now relax and enjoy the glory and satisfaction of a "job well done."

Weeks of concentrated effort, humiliation, and joy reached their climax when the cast of SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY gave their presentation to an "audience of awe." In this superb production mysteries surrounding the realm of the dead were unveiled.

This mythological production, written by Edgar Lee Masters, consisted of a series of monologues by spirits of those who restlessly dwell in the Spoon River cemetery. Each member of the cast portrayed five or six different characters, with each speech reflecting the former personality of that character.

Strange realizations flashed through the minds of those in the audience when they detected that each of these characters reminded them of a close friend of lifetime acquaintance. When interviewed, Melanie Counce grasped the mood by saying, "It's unusual, but not gruesome--I think you'll really like it."

Directing the production was Hank McDaniel, and assistant director was Joan Ward. Assisting with the music were Steve Pittard, Jane Burleson, and David Williams; with lighting were Kathy Tucker and John Howlett; and stage manager and wardrobe mistress respectively were Ken Cox and Sue Scott.

The cast of 11 included Melanie Counce, Shirley Perry, Charlotte Wolfe, Kathy Kurz, Pam Haney, Larry Hogan, John Burnett, John Dillahunt, Chuck Towns, Dale Manor, and Richard Sain.

The entire performance was an overwhelming success, and this venture into the dark unknown will remain in our memories for days to come.

Campus Favorites Selected

It's been said that personality is what really counts. If so, eight F-HC students rated the top grade in recent elections for freshman and sophomore class personalities.

Freshman personalities are Debbie Aston, a cheerleader from Florence, Ala.; Patti Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Kirk of the F-HC faculty; Boone Eldridge, a P. E. major from Louisville, Kentucky; and Randy Wright, a pre-engineering student from Cookeville, Tennessee.

Sophomore personalities are Kay Henry, the present Miss F-HC; Judy Wakefield, this year's Homecoming Queen; Sonny Sessions from Dalton, Georgia; and Lindsey Warren, the present Mr. F-HC.

Three freshmen and three sophomores received the title of Campus Beauties and Handsomes in popular elections held February 20.

Elected by the students as beauties was freshman Debbie Aston and sophomores Kay Henry and Judy Wakefield. Handsomes are Doug Allison and Mike Puryear, freshmen, and Jerry Anderson, sophomore.

Twelve alternates were also selected. Alternate beauties are Cheryl Brown, Melanie Counce, Ann Grimmer, Patti Kirk, Lynn Parker, and Debbie Roberts. Alternate handsomes are John Conger, David Jackson, Chris Lynn, Eddie Miller, Billy Smith, and Lindsey Warren.

Faculty Duo Recital Presented

On February 19, 1970, Freed-Hardeman College presented Travis Cox and Frances Hill in the Faculty Duo Recital. The recital was at 8:00 P.M. in the college auditorium.

Mrs. Hill is known throughout Southern states as an accomplished concert pianist. She was appointed assistant professor of music at David Lipscomb College in 1962. Recently named Chairman of Auditions for the Tennessee Music Teachers Association, Mrs. Hill is also listed in the latest edition of "Who's Who Among American Women."

Mr. Cox has had professional experience as a violinist in the United States Navy School of Music, Great Lakes Navy Band, Fort Worth Symphony, and Symphony Orchestra of Milwaukee. He was appointed assistant professor of music at Lipscomb in 1969. He is a candidate for the doctoral degree in violin at North Texas State University.

Honor Lists Revised

Due to illness these students did not get to take their final tests at the scheduled time and therefore were not included in the President's List and the Dean's List in the last edition of the Skyrocket.

President's List: Rolland Pack 4,000

Dean's List: Oran Burt 3,000, Kenna Dunlap 3,118, Paul Hill 3,222, Larry Woodard 3,357.

Freshmen and faculty players watch with amusement and concern as Mrs. Gardner's shot hangs on the rim.

Faculty members Johnson, Hogan, and Holland huddle as the Faculty team plots strategy in the Freshman-Faculty game.

Lions Win 9 Straight

After a lackluster beginning, which was represented at one time by a 3-6 record, the Lions caught fire and ran up a nine-game winning streak.

After losing five games in a row, the Lions rebounded with a 98-66 thrashing of Columbia State. Ruben Brown scored 22, Ray Baker 20 and Mike Poer 17. On successive nights, the Lions racked up home court victories and evened the season record at 6-6. Ruben Brown and Mike Poer led the Lions' 82-72 win with 19 and 18 points. Clayton Bledsoe was the leading scorer for Hiwassee with 22 points. The following night Freed-Hardeman beat Motlow State 89-78. Mike Poer was the Lions' leading scorer with 22 and Ron Ricketts had 15, Mac Bumpus 13, Joe Brooks 11, and Ruben Brown ten. David Wylee was Motlow's leading scorer with 29.

The Lions' second big romp of the year came at the expense of Dyersburg State. The Lions had rocketed ahead 52-25 at the half and outscored Dyersburg 61-42 in an anticlimatic second half for the 113-67 win. Mike Poer was high scorer with 25 points, with ten other players getting points for the Lions: Ron Ricketts 15, Leroy Jackson 14, Joe Brooks 11, Glen Smith 11, Ken Hardin eight, Ruben Brown seven, Raymond Baker seven, Tony Hastings six, Dwight Hamner six, and Dave Childers three. Jacob Robinson led Dyersburg with 21 points.

The Lions made the record 8-6 with a 97-79 win at home over Cumberland, who had edged the Lions earlier in the season. Ruben Brown led the Lions scorers with 28 points, followed by Mike Poer with 19, Ron Ricketts and Joe Brooks with 14, and Dwight Hamner with ten. Mac Baker and Marvin Carr led Cumberland's effort with 24 and 23 points respectively.

The Lions closed a successful six-game home stand by rolling over Northeast Mississippi 91-70. Ruben Brown led eleven Lion scorers by netting 18 points. Raymond Baker scored 15, Mike Poer 14, Tony Hastings eight, Ken Hardin eight, and Dwight Hamner seven. Mike Johnson led Northeast Mississippi with 17 points.

Freed-Hardeman went on the road and took the three-game series. The Lions took a second game from Motlow State, 86-79. Joe Brooks was the game's leading scorer with 25 points. Also for the Lions, Ron Ricketts had 18 points, Ruben Brown 16, Dwight Hamner 10, Mike Poer seven, and Mac Bumpus six. Jim Lord scored 22 for Motlow and David Wylee scored 20.

At Winchester, Ky., Freed-Hardeman beat Southeastern Christian 89-74. Ruben Brown was the game's leading scorer with 28 points, Mike Poer had 19, Joe Brooks 12, Dwight Hamner ten and Raymond Baker nine. Ron Stewart led SC with 21, and Don Hairston had 15.

The game with Morristown was pretty much a replay of the Dyersburg romp, with the same margin and almost the same score. The Lions went ahead 49-27 at the half and loped to a 115-69 win over the Red Knights. Ron Ricketts led Freed-Hardeman with 23, Ruben Brown had 17, Mike Poer 16, Joe Brooks and Raymond Baker 13, and Glen Smith and Ken Hardin 12. Al Carter led Morristown with 19 points.

The Cleveland State Cougars stopped the Lions streak at nine and dropped the Lions record to 12-7. Cleveland killed Freed-Hardeman with the fast break and a driving offense. The Cougars beat back several rallies, moving through the Lion's porous defense, taking a 42-36 halftime lead and winning 88-79. Gene Williams led Cleveland with 22 points, and Ken Byrd and Steve Williams had 16 each.

Ruben Brown led Freed-Hardeman with 15 points, Mike Poer had 14, Dwight Hamner ten, Ron Ricketts and Ray Baker seven, Leroy Jackson, Tony Hastings, and Joe Brooks six each, and Mac Bumpus five.

Sigma Rho Captures First in Fall Race

by Gary Stephenson

The total points have been tabulated and released for the fall semester's intramurals, and the totals place the Sigma Rho social club in first place by a wide margin.

The final team standings of the fall semester are as follows: Sigma Rho, Alpha Tau, Philo, Eupathians, and Phi Kappa Alpha; in the individual and dual sports the standings changed somewhat. Again Sigma Rho's copped first place, with 212.5 points. Second place in this section went to the Philos with 107.5, followed closely in third place by Phi Kappa Alpha with 82.5, and the Alpha Taus edged out the Eupathians for fourth place with 60 to 57.5 points.

Another phase of intramurals is that of sportsmanship. Finishing on top for that award was Phi Kappa Alpha, followed by Sigma Rho, Alpha Tau, and Philo, in that order.

Several teams in boys' and girls' basketball will have a crack at the winner's circle in that sport this semester. With the competition just beginning in the boys' division, Sigma Rho has won twice, but doing so only after a rugged fight. The first win for Sigma Rho came over the Alpha Taus. This was a game in which Alpha Taus led at the half, but got into foul trouble and fell behind in the fourth quarter.

The second Sigma Rho win was a squeaker, and that came over the Philos. Both the Philos and Alpha Taus have good solid clubs and they'll be back to face Sigma Rho later in the season.

Second place is in a three-way tie, Phi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau, and Philo each supporting 1-1 records. Phi Kappa defeated the Eupathians, but lost to the Alpha Taus. The Phi Kappa Alpha team could mean trouble, having probably the top defensive rebounding team in the league. The Philo boys' win also came over the Eupathians, who are presently 0-2.

In the girls' division, Alpha Tau leads with a 2-0 record beating Phi Kappa Alpha and Sigma Rho teams. This may be the end of a dynasty at F-HC, should the Alpha Tau girls keep on winning. The past years have been dominated by the Phi Kappa Alphas, who lost their first game in several seasons last week.
